EDITOR GRAY AND MR. REVILL ENGAGE IN A LIVELY FIGHT

HON. JAMES R. GRAY,
Editor of The Journal, Who Fought with Mr. Revill.

HON. H. H. REVILL,
Of Meriwether, Whose Reply to Editor Gray Caused a Fight Yesterday.

Later, Mr. Saul, of The Journal, Mixed With Mr. Revill.

THREE CORNERED AFFAIR CREATES SENSATION ON PEACHTREE STREET

Editor James R. Gray, of The Atlanta Journal, and Representative Henry H. Revill, of Meriwether county, met in a personal encounter in front of the Capital City Club on Peachtree street yesterday afternoon shortly after 3:30 o'clock.

The difficulty, which was decidedly a lively one, was the sequel to a statement made by Mr. Revill in the house of representatives yesterday morning, in which he attacked The Journal and Mr. Gray because of an editorial published a day or two previously, attacking Mr. Revill on account of certain questions asked on the floor of the house during the debate on the anti-pass bill, in which Mr. Gray's name figured.

The remarks of Mr. Revill, which were the direct cause of the encounter, and which were printed in The Journal yesterday, are presented elsewhere in The Constitution this morning.

Learning what Mr. Revill had said upon the floor of the house, Mr. Gray had a message telephoned from the Capital City Club to the Majestic, where Mr. Revill is stopping, to the effect that some one wished to see him at the club.

In response to this message Mr. Revill started across the street from the hotel, and as he reached the sidewalk in front of the Capital City Club, he was confronted by Mr. Gray. Neither man knew the other positively, and there was brief preliminary conversation, followed by a decidedly lively encounter which was fought all the way from the sidewalk up to the club veranda.

The difficulty, which lasted for several minutes, attracted large crowds, both from the members of the club who gathered upon the veranda, and the passers-by who collected on both sides of the street.

Two Versions of It.

As in all matters of this kind there are two versions of the dispuute between the two gentlemen. According to statements of eye witnesses, however, Mr. Gray upon meeting Mr. Revill, asked a question to make positive that he was the right man, and then struck him.

Mr. Revill, it is stated, then drew a pistol, whereupon Mr. Gray closed in upon him, preventing his using it. In this way they struggled, it is said, from the sidewalk clear back to the railing of the club veranda, where Milt Saul of The Journal, who ran across the street from the Majestic, caught the pistol and took it from Mr. Revill's hand.

It is stated that Mr. Revill then drew a knife which Mr. Saul also took from his hand and threw it away. Mr. Revill also had an umbrella in his hand of which he was endeavoring to make use.

During all this time several blows were struck by the belligerents, it is stated, and there was also an encounter between Mr. Revill and Mr. Saul the latter striking the former in the face. They were finally separated by friends.

Friends of Mr. Gray declared he was unarmed.

When the pistol made its appearance, it is said, there was a general scattering and dodging of those on the club porch, through doors and windows, and some of those in the street fell back.

After the battle none of the belligerents looked as if he had been in so serious a difficulty, as they bore no marks of consequence upon their faces.

Charges of disorderly conduct have been docketed at the police station against the participants in the fight, and the hearing is scheduled to take place before Recorder Broyles at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

What Mr. Revill Says.

Mr. Revill, when seen by a representative of The Constitution, was sitting on the plaza of the Majestic talking to some friends. He was talking calmly of the encounter. When asked if he had any statement to make, he said:

"I come downstairs this afternoon and Milt Saul, of The Journal, was standing at the telephone talking to some one. Mr. Van Landingham asked me if I wanted to meet Mr. Saul, and I said yes. He introduced me to Mr. Saul, who brought up the subject of my statement before the house, and made some criticism of it. I told him I supposed they would skin me in the paper this afternoon. He said, no, they were not going to pursue that policy.

"I told him it did not make any difference to me what policy they pursued, but that any other policy would end disastrously for some one. When he left, I said, 'Now, Saul, there's nothing personal in this matter between you and myself, and I don't dislike you because of any scrap between Mr. Gray and me.' He replied, 'No, there's nothing personal between us.'

"Just at this time the telephone bell rang and I was called to the 'phone. I was asked if it was Mr. Revill, and I said yes. The voice at the other end of

REPLY MADE BY MR. REVILL WAS CAUSE OF THE FIGHT

THE statement of Mr. Revill, of Meriwether, in the house of representatives yesterday morning in reply to an editorial in The Atlanta Journal which caused the fight between Mr. Gray and Mr. Revill, was made on a point of personal privilege.

The statement was in reply to an editorial in The Journal of last Friday headed "As to Mr. Revills and Mr. Saffold." Mr. Revill's reply was as follows:

"On Thursday, a question propounded by me to the gentleman from Emanuel during the discussion of the anti-pass bill in the house, brought down upon my head the wrath of the editor-in-chief of the Atlanta Journal. The day before, they appeared in the Journal an editorial which made the direct charge that those gentlemen of this house who voted to table the anti-pass bill, were under the influence of the railroads. The question I asked of the gentleman from Emanuel was, whether or not Mr. Gray, editor-in-chief of the Atlanta Journal, appeared before the legislature as paid counsel of the Consolidated Street railway and fought the passage of the franchise act. My interrogation was not explicit enough to convey my full meaning. I had reference to a bill introduced, allowing the cities of the state to collect from public utilities an occupation or franchise tax. It was a matter of common rumor that the law firm of which Mr. Gray was the senior member, accepted employment to defeat this measure. I referred entirely to this matter.

"My question seems to have struck a tender spot in this great Caesar, who has grown suddenly great, and he devotes a double column editorial to me and my friend from Emanuel. The questions asked by me were based on common rumor, to which additional color was given by the conduct of the Journal toward the Street railroad after Mr. Gray bought an interest in that paper. Up to a very recent date, the columns of the Journal belonged to the Street railway and gave vent to no utterances which were not approved by Harry M. Atkinson. It may be that during this period Mr. Gray had but one-third interest in the Journal corporation and a special system of bookkeeping was ordered to determine his income from this corporation, so that the same might, in the dim and distant future, be applied to charity.

"Mr Speaker, on yesterday in the grand old county that gave you to this state, I stood by the sepulcher of my honored sire, on account of whose death I became a member of this house, and whose convictions on the anti-pass bill, as well as my own, I gave voice to by my vote on this measure. I heard a voice from the tomb saying: Have the manhood, my son, to stand in your place as a representative of mine and your native county and tear from the face of the man who has cast aspersions on your honor and the intergrity of the state, the mask of the demagogue which hides the real creature. He has done much to make my beloved state an anathema and by-word of disgrace throughout the length and breadth of this land. Paint in his true colors this man, who to procure the political loaves and fishes, would breed a serpent to destroy the state.

"Mr. Speaker for months this same editor has attacked, traduced and villified every official in the state from highest to lowest. No public official, however lofty his character and correct his life, is free from the venomous and unhallowed pen of this man. He has time and again, through the columns of his paper, made unsupported charges against the honesty and integrity of Georgia's upright and incorruptible officials—men, the latchet of whose shoes, he is unworthy to stoop down and unloose. No branch of the government has been spared. The executive, judicial and legislative, each alike, has come in for its share of the poisonous darts.

Mr. Gray takes me to task for acting on common rumor. Gentlemen of the general assembly, it does not lie in his mouth to criticise me for what he himself, invariably does. During the session of the last legislature, he published an editorial which was an arraignment of the general assembly, and upon oath, he admitted that he had acted upon common rumor in writing the same. In that editorial, speaking of lobbying, the following language was used:

"Why do they resort to every conceivable practice, such as the illegitimate use of money; social entertainments and other insidious methods to influence the votes of the controllable legislators?

"And when asked, after being brought to testify by compulsion by the committee appointed to investigate the charges, he cravenly answered: 'I should dislike very much to call the names.' He was also asked by the committee why he had written an editorial calling on the third house not to assemble, to which he replied he was only joking. The newspaper career of Mr. Gray has been conspicuous for two things. He has demonstrated a capacity to slander his superiors and as an artful tax dodger in avoiding the payment of state and county taxes. He issues his periodical tirade against other corporations for not bearing their pro-rata part of the burdens of the state, yet, at the same time he has in his coffers, money which justly and rightfully belongs to the state and county. The Journal is capitalized at $700,000, and when he or his hirelings come to swear to the tax returns, this property was given for taxes at the small sum of $57,850.

"Gentlemen of the general assembly, this is the man who attacks me in the public print for voting my honest convictions. This is the man who has essayed the task of driving from this fair temple of state the gang of thieves which he charges infest it. This is the self-styled reformer who proposes to lead the state out of the so-called wilderness of ring rule. There is about as much affinity between the honest patriotic people of Georgia and James R. Gray, as exists between a snow-ball and the brimstone bowels of the nether regions.

"He charges me with having lax views in accepting courtesises from the railroads. I have never accepted a legislative pass. The only one tendered me was returned. To be fair, I will state that for several reasons I have been editor of a newspaper and have travelled on passes but never on a legislative pass.

"In reply to the general charge in the editorial of Tuesday, that the opponents of the anti-pass bill are under the control of the railroads, and repeated and made more specifically, as for me and the gentleman from Emanuel on Friday, nought but the parliamentary restrictions in this house prevent me from applying to the author of this charge that epithet which on the street is applied to one who commits the offense for which Ananias and Saphira were stricken dead.

"I do now dismiss this 'holier than thou' editor to the furies of his own conscience, trusting in all charity that the punishment he must receive from the scorpion lash of this outraged member, may be considered in the settlement of his last account before the bar of high Heaven."

TO SECURE TWO KISSES HE SWAM LONG DISTANCE

GAINESVILLE, GA., July 24.—(Special.)—Daniel Steson Druton, of this city, swam five miles yesterday afternoon, in Lake Warner, at Chattahoochee park, to win a wager of a kiss each from two visiting young ladies, whom he had carried out to the park for a pleasant afternoon. A dispute arose between Mr. Denton and the young ladies as to the distance he could swim, resulting in the above wager.

ENGAGED IN A MOCK DUEL YOUNG MAN FATALLY SHOT

BIG RAPIDS, MICH., July 24.—Frank, only son of Judge J. G. Palmer, was perhaps fatally shot today in a mock duel. Palmer and Glen Carpenter, his lifelong friend, in fun stood back to back and after pacing off an agreed number of steps, turned and snapped the triggers of their revolvers. Witnesses were horrified to see Palmer shot through the stomach. The revolvers had both been examined and were supposed to be empty, but evidently one cartridge had been overlooked. Both young mn were about 19 years old.

HE DESERTED BENNINGTON AND NOW WHITLOCK IS GLAD

HONOLULU, July 24.—G. A. Whitlock, who is under arrest here on a charge of having deserted from the gunboat Bennington, claims to have missed the vessel and is congratulating himself on his failure to have reached the wharf in time. He says he did not intend to desert. According to Whitlock, it was common talk among the members of the Bennington's crew that the boilers of the gunboat were unsafe, but he declares that this had nothing to do with his leaving the vessel. Whitlock also says that the chief machinist of the Bennington told him that the boilers of the boat were unsafe.

IN NEW ORLEANS

GOT HIM ON THE RUN!

BOTTOM NOT YET REACHED IN THE COTTON SCANDAL

Persistent Rumors at Washington of Sensational Disclosures to Come.

NEW YORK BROKERS WILL BE WITNESSES

Brokers Seem To Be More Excited Than the Planters — District Grand Jury Begins Work on the Case—No Details Given.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—(Special.)—Persistent rumors of new evidence regarding the cotton leak, and of probable disclosures equally as sensational as those of the past, are to be heard here today. Anything like official confirmation of such stories is lacking; however, the grand jury investigation which was in progress during the day was conducted with unusual secrecy, and nobody around the department would talk.

Advices received here indicate that the southern producers are by no means as excited by the situation as are the speculators, and some others who have nothing to do with the growing of the staple. Everybody who has the best interests of the south at heart, however, is insisting on a full and complete investigation, and on the punishment of the criminals responsible for the juggling and leakage of the crop reports in the past.

Colonel E. S. Peters, president of the Texas Cotton Growers' Association, is in Washington today and will remain until the middle or latter part of the week. He has been in Virginia with his daughter for some time past, and has taken no active part in the investigation. Colonel Peters has more than once brought criticisms of the crop reporting system to the attention of Secretary Wilson, without, however, accomplishing anything. He has never made any specific charges concerning leaks, but has consistently contended that the state reports should be made public as they come in. Colonel Peters expects to be summoned as a witness before the grand jury, which is now in session.

Investigation Begins.

Washington, July 24.—The investigating of the leakage of the cotton reports of the department of agriculture was begun today by the federal grand jury. In accordance with the call of District Attorney Beach, the jury assembled and promptly entered upon the work before it. As Mr. Beach entered the room he declined to express an opinion as to how long the inquiry would continue, to state how many witnesses would be called, or to give any information, whatever except that he would personally conduct the investigation. There were no witnesses present when the jury was called to order.

Mill Men See Wilson.

Washington, July 24.—The delegation from the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, appointed at the recent meeting at Charlotte, N. C., to take up with Secretary Wilson the question of issuing a new June cotton acreage report, called at the department of agriculture today and were in lengthy conference with the secretary.

At the conclusion of the conference, Secretary Wilson gave out the following statement:

"The department of agriculture has determined that the statistical board shall meet Wednesday, June 26, to consider whether revision of the cotton acreage should be made from existing data or from a new inspection and to make public their findings or estimates at 12 o'clock on that date or the earliest convenient date thereafter."

The cotton men informally discussed the question of ordering a new report. No representations of inaccuracy were made against the June report, and the members of the delegation appeared satisfied with the decision of the secretary, announced in the statement issued. The suggestion was made that a weekly report of condition of cotton should be issued, but it was not urged upon the department. It was said that most of the cotton men realized that more frequent reports cannot be had under the present appropriation for gathering crop statistics.

Cotton Brokers Summoned.

New York, July 24.—Subjenas requiring the presence of several local cotton brokers before a federal grand jury in Washington, the federal authorities are making an investigation of the cotton report leak scandal were brought to the city. More are in the hands of the federal officers here, and they will be served as soon as the persons named can be located. The attendance of those named in the subpenas is required in Washington before the end of the present month.

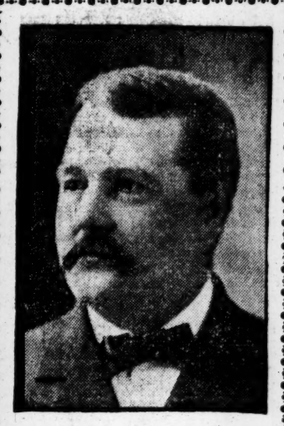

A federal official here said to day that all the men upon whom subpenas have been served have made statements, both signed and sworn, in which they tell all they know of the so-called cotton scandal. It was upon these statements, forwarded to Washington, that District Attorney Beach caused the subpenas to be issued. When, where and before whom the statements were made could not be learned.

"We have ascertained enough," said the official, who declined to permit the use of his name, "to justify Mr. Beach in instituting the proceedings already begun by him in Washington. That the disclosures to follow will be in the nature of a surprise goes without saying."

Work for 20,000 Men.

Pittsburg, July 24.—Nearly all the flint glass factories of the country resumed operations today after the usual summer shut-down, affording employment to 20,000.

DR. POLLOCK CALLED BY THE DEATH ANGEL

DR. P. D. POLLOCK,
Distinguished Educator Who Died Yesterday at Monroe.

Distinguished Educator Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon After a Long Illness.

WAS HEAD OF MERCER FOR SEVERAL YEARS

Dr. Pollock Had Recently Resigned the Presidency of the Baptist Institution and Had Gone to Monroe for Recuperation and Rest.

Monroe, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Dr. P. D. Pollock died here at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. Pollock had been in ill health for a long time, having resigned the presidency of Mercer university on that account.

He was one of the most distinguished educators in the south, having held many positions of honor in the field which he had chosen for his life work. When his health began to fail seriously he was granted a vacation by the board of trustees of Mercer and took a trip to Europe, hoping the change of surroundings and the ocean breezes would prove beneficial.

Upon his return it was thought that he was greatly improved, but it was soon found that he was unequal to the task of attending to his duties at the college.

Within the recent past he resigned his position and came to Monroe for rest and recuperation. His illness did not relax its hold, however, and this afternoon he passed away.

During his illness every attention which medical science could render was bestowed upon the patient, but to no avail.

For years he had been at the head of the Baptist Federation of Schools and has been the leader along educational lines in that denomination. He is universally beloved by the students of Mercer as well as the ministers and laymen of the Baptist church, and his hosts of other friends throughout Georgia and the south.

Story of His Life.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Dr. Pollock was eight years president of Mercer university. He early became well known as an educator, having fitted himself for such duties by several years study in Europe. He was graduated in law at the University of Georgia and, was, prior to going abroad, superintendent of the Newnan public schools.

He came to Mercer as professor of English and was in 1896 made chairman of the faculty, and in the following year president of the institution. In this character he wielded a great influence among the Baptists of the state, and added largely to Mercer's prestige as an educational institution.

Two years ago he ceased active duty as president, after suffering an attack of pernicious anaemia. He went to Florida and subsequently to Johns Hopkins hospital, in Baltimore. He returned much revived, and it was thought he would regain his health, but during last fall and winter he again suffered an attack and spent the greater portion of his time afterward in a sanitarium in Atlanta.

YELLOW JACK TO BE CHASED FROM THE CITY

Federal, State and Municipal Authorities Working Together at New Orleans.

ONLY 17 CASES OF FEVER AND 6 DEATHS TO DATE

Disease Is Confined to Quarter About French Market—It Is Proposed To Give the City a Thorough Cleansing.

New Orleans, July 24.—Tonight Mayor Behrman issued a proclamation to the people of New Orleans, urging them to heed the advice of the health authorities, relative to sanitation of their premises and calling special attention to the necessity of screening the houses and placing nets over cisterns and all pools of water which breed mosquitoes. This proclamation was signed by the president of the state board of health, president of the city board of health, surgeon White, of the Marine hospital service and the advisory committee of the New Orleans parish medical society.

At a meeting of the state board of health today it was decided in response to the numerous requests for information from the parish health officers, to prepare and send out a detailed statement of the situation. This will include an official statement that up to date there have been seventeen cases of fever here and six deaths.

The quarantine regulations suggested by the meeting of the citizens requiring six days detention for all vessels from ports liable to yellow fever, were adopted after a very heated discussion. Notification was received at noon from Dr. Hunter, of the Mississippi health board that he had proclaimed quarantine against the whole state of Louisiana because the state had not quarantined against this city.

State Won't Quarantine.

This question was discussed at the board meeting, but owing to the intimate relations between the city and certain portions of the state and the willingness of other sections of the state to maintain open communication with the city, it was decided not to quarantine the state against the city. In order not to subject the rest of the state to the inconvenience of this quarantine an effort is being made to secure an agreement from Dr. Tabor, of Texas, Dr. Hunter, of Mississippi and Dr. Sanders, of Alabama, that they will accept a certificate that the traveler has not been in New Orleans during the ten preceding days.

The Orleans parish medical society has sent out a circular to all physicians, urging them to make immediate reports to the board of health of all fever cases, whether yellow or not, and that immediately on discovering a case, the patient be put under a mosquito net.

"Surgeon White is preparing plans for the detention camps on the different railroads.

Lieutenant-Colonel Maus, U. S. A. came here today to investigate the situation at the Jackson barracks. He found no cases of illness and recommended against removing the troops at the present time.

He urged that the men be kept within the grounds however.

System of Inspection.

A thorough system of inspection is being put into effect here by the state, city and federal authorities with a view to completely isolate the new cases of yellow fever in case there is any spread from the foci now under control. The situation is said to be well in hand in the district about the French market where the fever had its origin.

Large numbers of home people are returning to New Orleans from the surrounding resorts, in order to avoid being separated from their families owing to the rigidity of the quarantines that have been put into effect.

The health authorities continue to insist that there is absolutely no occasion for alarm and that if people will follow the directions that are being published the fever can be restricted, successfululy treated and stamped out.

Dr. Richardson Called to New Orleans.

Savannah, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Dr. T. H. Richardson, in charge of the marine hospital here, received orders from Washington today, instructing him to leave at once for New Orleans for special duty during the prevalence of yellow fever at that port. The order does not specify the length of his assignment, and it is thought he will be kept there until the disease is stamped out. Dr. Richardson was originally from New Orleans, and has had considerable experience in treating yellow fever. He left tonight.

Savannah has not quarantined against New Orleans. Dr. W. F. Brunner, the health officer, who was formerly United States health officer at Havana, says the spreading of the disease in the stricken city can be prevented, as the mosquito is the only mode of transmission.

He charges that yellow jack was let into New Orleans through bidding too strongly against Mobile for the South American fruit trade. He believes national control of quarantine stations at all southern ports is sure to come in time. He points out that the disease has not been introduced in North Carolina, Georgia, Florida or Mississippi since the government took charge of stations.

Jelks Issues Proclamation.

Montgomery, Ala., July 24.—At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon Governor Jelks, of Alabama, issued an amendment to his quarantine proclamation of Saturday, this last official decree to be promulgated including in the list of places quarantined against all stations on the Louisville and Nashville railroad between New Orleans and the Alabama state line.

Among the towns under the Alabama ban are Biloxi, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Ocean Springs and several other resorts where Alabamans go in large numbers during the summer, and it is believed that many from this city and the state at large will necessarily be caught by the issuance of the proclamation.

Mobile Extends Quarantine.

Mobile, Ala., July 24.—On account of what is termed the laxity of precaution of the Mississippi towns between here and New Orleans against the latter city in the yellow fever matter, the Mobile board of health today instituted a rigid quarantine against every town on the gulf coast. This order goes into effect at once.

Havana on Guard.

Havana, July 24.—The steamer Excelsior, of the Southern Pacific Morgan Line, which arrived here today from New Orleans, brought 27 passengers. They were all ordered to be detained in quarantine for five days. Only immunes are permitted to visit the ship, which will be unloaded by immunes. The steamer Vigilancia, of the Ward line, which reached this port from Vera Cruz today brought two women and one man suffering from light fevers. They were isolated and taken to the Las Animas fever hospital for observation.

Mobile Investigating Rumors.

Mootle, Ala., July 24.—There is a rumor current that two of the crew of the Columbia which unloaded fruit last night and returned immediately were taken off the vessel when she arrived inward bound at the quarantine station 30 miles below Mobile, with fever. Dr. Henry Goldthwaite, health and executive officer of the quarantine board of Mobile bay, went down there today, but has not returned. Dr. Goode, president of the board, when asked for information tonight, said he had heard nothing from Goldthwaite as to the nature of the illness.

It is reported one of the men died, but this lacks confirmation.

Government at Work.

Washington, July 24.—Acting Surgeon General Glennan, of the public health and marine hospital service, today was informed by Surgeon White, who represents that service at New Orleans, that there had been a death from yellow fever in that city today outside the district in which previous deaths had occurred.

Dr. White, also notified Dr. Glennan that detention camps would be established at Kenner, Avondale, Waveland and Sladdell, all small places on the railroads near New Orleans. The camps will be supplied with stores from the government repository at Fontainebleau, Miss.

Memphis Won't Quarantine.

Memphis, Tenn., July 24.—The Memphis board of health at a meeting tonight decided not to establish a quarantine against New Orleans. Precautionary measures, however, will be taken to prevent suspected cases of yellow fever from entering here, and tomorrow inspectors will board all incoming trains from New Orleans for the purpose of examining passengers suffering from any illness, whose destination is this city.

REFUSED LIQUOR AND WERE SLAIN

Drunken Dooley Does Bloody Work in Chicago.

Because His Relatives Refused To Drink with Him, He Killed Woman, Wounded Girl and His Father and Then Shot Himself.

Chicago, July 24.—Mrs. James Griffin, 24 years old, was shot and instantly killed and two other persons were wounded by Timothy Dooley at Fifty-second and West Twelfth street today. Dooley then killed himself.

The wounded are: Annie Griffin, 17 years old, shot in the back of the head, and Patrick Dooley, father of the suicide, who was shot in the left cheek.

For some time, it is declared, Dooley had been drinking. Today he entered his home and when members of the family refused to obey orders to drink from a bottle Dooley held, the young man began shooting.

NO SOCIALISM FOR CATHOLICS

Mgr. Falconio Says No Good Catholic Can Be a Socialist.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 24.—Mgr. Falconio, of Washington, D. C., apostolic delegate to America, accompanied by a delegation of Milwaukee and Chicago priests, arrived in the city today:

In an interview, among other things, he said:

"I have heard a great deal of socialism in this country, but of course, the church cannot afford to countenance socialism. No good Catholic can be a socialist as socialism aims to destroy the present state of society and is, therefore, not in accord with the church.

"I feel as the pope does on the subject of socialism.

"He has expressed himself indirectly by discussing the relations between capital and labor. But Pope Leo XIII issued an encylical on the subject, and the present pope, of course, carries the same convictions on this subject.

"Regarding President Roosevelt, it is a mistake to say that he has gained his popularity among the Catholic clergy because of his position toward the Catholic church in the Philippines. That is only a small thing, and it is his whole life and what he stands for that makes Catholics trust him. He has set a good example to his people and by his effort to purify government.

All Louisiana Under Ban.

Jackson, Miss., July 24.—The Mississippi state board of health has amended its quarantine orders so as to include the entire state of Louisiana. The new order is to take effect at once. The rumor of a case of yellow fever at Gulfport is believed to be unfounded.

Dockery Out of Danger.

Raleigh, N. C., July 24.—John Dockery, who was shot by Policeman I. W. Rogers, a month ago, was today pronounced out of danger and Rogers was released from jail on $5,000 bond. Rogers will be tried for secret assault and the waylaying of Dockery, the preliminary hearing being set for August 15.

Cleveland To Attend Funeral.

Sandwich, N. H., July 24.—Former President Cleveland left here today for Milbrook, N. Y., where Daniel S. Lamont his friend and war secretary, died yesterday. Mr. Cleveland is expected to reach Boston in time to connect with a midnight train for New York, by which he hoped to reach Milbrook tomorrow morning.

Second Trial of Congressman.

Portland, Ore., July 24.—Examination of witnesses in the second trial of Congressman Williamson, Dr. Gessner and Former United States Commissioner Biggs was begun in the United States district court today. The trial promises to follow closely the lines of the former trial.

TOADSTOOLS ON THE MENU CAUSED DEATH OF FOUR

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—Toad stools, mixed with mushrooms, and eaten at a birthday party, has caused the death of four of the six members of the family of Joseph Franzor, a farmer, who resided near Landisville, N. J. The dear are: Joseph Franzor, his wife and two daughters. At a birthday dinner in honor of one of the young girls mushrooms was one of the dishes served and fungi were gotten from nearby woods. The mother supposing they were mushrooms, added them to the mushrooms taken from their own farm.

CHINA PLAYING HER OWN HAND

Sir Liang Cheng Talks of Note Regarding Manchuria.

Pekin Government, the Ambassador Says, Acted on Its Own Initiative—Ambassador Talks of Boycott on American Goods.

Amherst, Mass., July 24.—That China in communicating to the powers her unwillingness to recognize any arrangement regarding Manchuria, about which she had not previously been consulted, acted entirely on her own initiative is the emphatic statement of Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, the Chinese minister who is spending the summer here.

"The note just made public by the Washington government," declared the minister, "was addressed by my government first to the belligerents and later to the neutral powers. Previous to this my government had sounded its governors and viceroys and ministers abroad regarding various phases of the Manchurian question, and the notification to the powers that China would not recognize any arrangement regarding the Chinese province of Manchuria, about which we had not been consulted beforehand, was not prompted or even suggested, so far as I am aware, by any other government, but emanated directly from the Pekin government, which acted in this matter entirely on its own initiative."

The minister has received brief advices about the boycott declared against American goods by Chinese merchants. On this point he said:

"The Chinese government had done what it could to discourage this boycott, which is not in any way a governmental affair, but emanates from the commercial guilds over which the government has no control."

The minister added that his government would continue to do what it could to alley the agitation, and expressed the hope that it would not inerfere in any way with the cordial relations existing between the two governments. At the Chinese legation the hope is expressed that when the willingness of this government to interpret the present immigration law in a broad spirit and to afford to the non-laboring class of Chinese proper facilities for travel in this country becomes generally known throughout China, the present anti-American feeling will subside.

The outlook for a new immigration treaty is not regarded as bright at this time. A more immediate means of relief, it is believed, will be found in an amendment of existing laws under which only Chinese laborers would be excluded from this country. It is probable this matter may be taken up at the next session of congress.

No attempt is made at the legation to conceal the seriousness of the present boycott or the fact that feeling against American restriction of Chinese immigration of the better classes runs high in Chinese commercial circles.

First Clubwoman (a few years hence)—Men are enough to drive a women crazy.

Second Clubwoman—Indeed they are.

First Clubwoman—Only think! For five nights last week I remained at the club terribly late, and yet when I went home I didn't find my husband waiting at the top of the stairs to upbraid me for neglect. The heartless brute was in bed sleeping like a top, and actually smiled in his dreams.

Perpetual Sabbath.

Few people know that other days of the week than the first are being observed as Sunday by some nation or other. The Greeks observe Monday; the Persians, Tuesday; the Assyrians, Wednesday; the Egyptians, Thursday; the Turks, Friday; the Jews, Saturday; and the Christians, Sunday. Thus a perpetual Sabbath is being celebrated on earth.—Success.

Well Meant.

(From The Albany Journal.)

"My husband is so poetic!" said a well-dressed woman to her seat companion in the street car the other afternoon.

"Have you ever tried rubbin' his joints with hartshorn liniment, mum?" interrupted a stolid looking woman with a market basket at her feet, who overheard the remark. "That'll straighten him out as quick as anything I know of, if he ain't got it too bad."

DEADLY RECORD BY AUTOMOBILISTS.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Seven persons killed and fifty-four injured is the record made this year so far by automobilists. Although the year is but little more than half over, the figures show an appalling increase over last year's record of one killed and seventy-three injured.

REIGN OF TERROR IN RUSSIAN CITY

Nishni Novgorod in the Hands of Rioters.

Rioters Murderously Attacked Every One They Met and Numbers of Persons Were Killed and Injured During the Day.

St. Petersburg, July 24.—Telegrams from Nishni Novgorod, say that the town was for five hours yesterday in the hands of thousands of roughs who murderously attacked every respectable person they met in the streets. Numbers of persons were killed or injured, the rioters breaking into houses in pursuit of their victims.

The government's advice says that one man was killed and that twelve were seriously injured during the rioting at Nishni Novgorod yesterday. Twenty rioters were treated in the hospitals.

Russian Baron Murdered.

Koenigsberg, Prussia, July 24.—Advices received here from Hazenpoth, near Libau, Russian, announce the murder of Baron Preveru of the peasant reform commission. During the disturbance on the occasion of the funeral of the victims of the recent riots at Libau, July 23, one gendarme was killed and two were wounded.

ENGLAND WANTS FRANCE AS ALLY

So Official of British Foreign Office Declares.

At the Same Time Strong Denial Is Made of Charge That England Is To Involve France in War with Germany.

London, July 24.—From a high official of the foreign office today an interesting statement was obtained regarding the relations of Great Britain, France and Germany. Beginning with a declaration that Great Britain would welcome a defensive alliance with France because it would insure long continuance of European peace by acting as a check to German ambitions, the official characterized the charges made in the German press against Great Britain of seeking to involve France in a war with Germany as absolutely contrary to the facts. He said:

"France certainly is not desirous of war with Germany, and if Great Britain, as alleged, urged France to fight, the French government and press would not now display that friendliness toward us which is apparent on all sides.

"When Germany created the controversy with France over Morocco, the British government informed the French government that it would support it in whatever policy it decided to pursue. Accordingly, Great Britain declined to participate in the international conference when France declined, and accepted when France reconsidered its decision, but any charge that we sought to bring about war or failed to use our good offices to prevent a conflict is absolutely false. We would undoubtedly have stood by France in any conflict over the Moroccan question, but we do not want a conflict, and desire an understanding with France solely to insure peace.

"Great Britain at war would suffer infinitely greater commercial losses than her adversary. For one thing our entire shipping would go to America and the people would overthrow any government assuming an aggressive attitude."

Regarding the diplomatic relations between Germany and Great Britain, it is said that they are not in the least strained and that there never has been any serious difficulty between the two governments.

"It has always been considered here that Germany's attack on the French-Moroccan policy dealt directly with the Anglo-French entente, while well found opinions have been expressed that Germany would welcome an understanding with France on far eastern matters in which the interests of the two countries are similar.

"It would seem that France, instead of occupying a begging role, is the fortunate possessor of two suitors in the greatest rivals in Europe."

AGREED WITH OSLER AND KILLED SELF.

ST. LOUIS, July 24—The body of an unidentified man, about 60 years of age, who had committed suicide with poison, was found in Forest park today. In his pocket was a note, saying:

"I heartily agree with Dr. Osler. An old man and a poor man has no business on earth."

A laundry mark on his collar bore the name I. M. Booth.

JEROME AT WORK ON EQUITABLE

District Attorney Begins Investigation of Society's Affairs.

Jerome Says That Harriman and Schiff Have Agreed To Let Him Examine Papers—Attorney General Mayer Preparing To Prosecute.

New York, July 24.—District Attorney Jerome returned from his summer home at Lakeville today and immediately began his promised investigation of the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. At the close of the day Mr. Jerome issued the following statement on which he declined to make any comment:

"I went to the Equihable building to meet Mr. Harriman, as I understood that he was going away tomorrow and I desired to see the much talked of 'Union Pacific preferred syndicate agreement.' I made a careful examination of the terms of the agreement. Mr. Harriman also stated that his books and papers were in the custody of his counsel, Judge Lovett, who was instructed to waive any question of professional privilege and to produce at any time any of them that I might deem of importance in the conduct of any investigation of matters within my jurisdiction. The syndicate agreement was one, the terms of which would have at any time been produced for the inspection of the superintendent of insurance. The Equitable Assurance Society was not a party to the said agreement and had not been at any time.

"I then went to Kuehn, Loeb & Company's building and had an interview with Jacob Schiff, who gave me full information in regard to the details of syndicate operations referred to in the Frick and Hendricks' reports producing papers showing the exact character of those syndicate operations and volunteering to give me any further information or to produce any other documents which I might at any time desire."

Attorney General Mayer was not at his office today, but was at work in the city upon the suits he intends to bring against the persons who have laid themselves liable to prosecution in connection with the Equitable Society. He returned to Albany tonight and will be in the city again in a day or two. In all probability the suits will be filed before the end of the week.

Odell on the Equitable.

New York, July 24.—"If any criminal acts have been committed the criminals should be sent to prison," said former Governor Odell today in discussing the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. "Attorney General Mayer should compel the restitution of all profits illegally kept from policy holders."

Concerning the report that he consented to Depew's reelection to the United States senate, only after he had received a guarantee that the money he lost in the shipbuilding trust would be restored to him, Mr. Odell said:

"That is an agsolute lie. The shipbuilding affair had nothing whatever to do with Depew's reelection. I have nothing to add to what I have said about my shipbuilding stock. I bought the stock and paid for it in good faith. Whether I was defrauded and received my money back is my own private business, and I owe explanation to nobody."

CHARGE OF GRAFTING MADE.

Alleged That Kentucky Revenue Agent Accepted Bribe.

Frankfort, Ky., July 24.—Henry B. Hines, state inspector and examiner for Kentucky, today filed with Governor Beckham a report charging that A. M. Harrison, of Lexington, revenue agent for the state at large, for the collection of omitted taxes, has received and accepted $1,000 in cash from the Ford Lumber Company, of Clark county, in consideration of his (Harrison) agreeing to the entering of a judgment against the company for $360, when the amount of the judgment should have been $2,400. He says the money was paid to Harrison on July 4 last at Lexington.

Governor Beckham declined to make any statement tonight concerning the contents of the inspector's report, but it is understood that he will tomorrow direct that copies of it be placed with the circuit court officials of Lexington and of Clark county, that legal steps may be taken in the matter. Information of the transaction by Harrison came to the state officials through the manager of the lumber company, who, it is said, paid the money to Harrison.

Proclamation Amended.

Montgomery, Ala., July 24.—(Special.)—The quarantine proclamation of the governor was amended to day to include all towns on the Louisville and Nashville railroad between New Orleans and the Alabama line.

The Long-Winded Orator.

(From The Boston Post.)

Chaplain E. A. Horton, of the senate, made quite a hit the other night with a hit at one of the long-winded members of the legislature.

The member was delivering a political address in a town not far from Boston, and the village folk gathered in the town hall to hear it.

"He had been speaking quite a while, said Dr. Horton, "when finally an old Scotchman arose and walked out of the hall.

At the door one of his countrymen was waiting with his hack to drive the orator to the station.

"'Is he done yet, Sandy?' asked the Scot on the box.

"'The old man turned about.

"'Aye,' said he, 'he's done lang ago, but he will na stop.'" the line, which was that of a negro porter, told me to come over to the Capital City Club, as some of my friends wanted to see me. I asked who they were, and he replied, 'Some of your legislative friends, I think.'

GRAY AND REVILL ENGAGE IN FIGHT

"Then I started across the street. As I got to the sidewalk in front of the club house, a man whom I did not know walked off the club house steps and came down to the sidewalk. I had never seen Mr. Gray to know who he was. As he got within reaching distance he said, 'Is this Mr. Revill?' I replied, 'Yes,' and he immediately struck at me.

"I have never carried a pistol on my person, and had none in my pocket until the afternoon. I had been told this morning shortly before the house adjourned, that I would probably be assaulted, and not knowing what the nature of the attack would be, whether with deadly weapons or otherwise, I put a pistol in my pocket to defend myself in case of necessity.

"As Mr. Gray struck at me I reached and drew my pistol, but before I could make any effort to use it he caught me around my body and was trying to get the pistol from me. I raised my arm to prevent this, and we struggled all the way up to the veranda railing. Then Milt Saul ran up and took the pistol from my hand. We kept scuffling, and I tried to draw my knife. Finally Mr. Gray became winded and I got my knife out. Mr. Saul grabbed that and threw it away.

"I said to him, 'You cowards, are both of you going to jump on me?' He then struck me, and Gray was trying to get at me at the same time, but was held back by a man whom I did not know. He finally got loose and made at me, and then Saul ceased to strike me, and I engaged Mr. Gray until he became winded again. Then I said, 'This is a cowardly attack.' Saul said, 'Hush, or I'll jump on you again.' I repeated that it was a cowardly attack, and Saul made for me again, and we fought it out. I was disarmed by them and they both made at me when I had nothing left but my umbrella, and they were there with all their friends around them.

"This practically ended the attack upon me. I have nothing whatever to retract, and what I have stated I shall certainly not hesitate to repeat."

Mr. Gray's Statement.

Mr. Gray, when seen, made the following statement:

"Hon. H. H. Revill, of Meriwether, on account of my criticism of him for false statements made about me on the floor of the house in connection with his vote against the anti-free pass bill, such criticisms being thoroughly legitimate and couched in polite language, attacked me today in the house of representatives, in a thoroughly unjustifiable and ungentlemanly manner, and stated that I had slandered the state and its officials, and, in fact, stated that I had told a lie.

"I had no means of replying to Mr. Revill on the floor of the house; I knew that he lived at the Hotel Majestic. As soon as I had read the statement I made up my mind that it should not pass unnoticed. I waited at the Capital City Club an hour and a half, to see him come from his hotel, the Majestic, where he lives. He did not come, and I had him telephoned. Finally he came across the street. As soon as he started from the Majestic I started from the club and met him on the sidewalk on Peachtree. I had never seen Mr. Revill to know him, but he was pointed out as the man who had denounced me. I walked up to him and said: 'Is this Mr. Revill, of Meriwether?' He said: 'Yes.' I said: 'I am Gray, of The Journal. You denounced me.' At that moment Mr. Revill threw his hand to his hip pocket. Almost coincident with that I hit him in the face. He pulled his pistol and directed it at me, but before he could shoot, I grabbed his right arm, in which he held the pistol, with my left hand. He attempted then, as I held his pistol, to jab me in the face with an umbrella. I continued to rain blows on him, and held his arm aloft. We struggled from the Peachtree street sidewalk to the balustrade of the Capital City Club, a distance of 50 or 60 feet. He was endeavoring all the time to shoot me. Having forced him up against the balustrade of the club an effort was made again to take his pistol away from him and let us have a fair fight, as I was totally unarmed by Milt Saul, who lives at the Majestic, where Representative Revill lives, was in the office of that hotel, saw the pistol drawn on the sidewalk, ran over and took the pistol and handed it to some gentleman on the club porch. I then turned his arm loose, and Mr. Saul stepped aside. Revill then pulled from his pocket an open knife. This was likewise taken by Mr. Saul and thrown away, and then his umbrella was thrown away.

"We again attempted to clash, when Dr. E. H. Richardson stepped in between us, and ended our part of the difficulty. Mr. Revill went one way and I started in the club.

"At this point Mr. Revill turned to Mr. Saul and used an ugly epithet. Mr. Saul told him not to repeat it, that he had done nothing but to take away a loaded revolver and open knife, thus insuring a fair fight. Mr. Revill repeated his epithet and Mr. Saul hit him in the face. He asked Mr. Saul to please not hit him again. At that point Mr. Revill, evidently having enough of this engagement, asked for his hat. It was given him. He asked for his pistol, which was held.

"His weapon was a 38-caliber self-cocking Smith & Wesson pistol. Every chamber was loaded. Mr. Revill, in the front of the Capital City Club, made the statement that he would shoot himself and Mr. Saul down like dogs. I was unarmed, and Mr. Saul's participation in the matter was not due to me being in the fight at all, but because he saw Revill draw a pistol on me and all that he did was to disarm him and step aside, at that time. Mr. Revill's pistol was subsequently returned to him loaded by a representative of The Journal.

"If I have attacked any man unjustly The Journal's columns are open to me to reply. I have never attacked the character of any public official not believing I was justified; and I have always tempted to do so with due regard for the rights of the people, and with due regard for the personal rights of every man attacked. If I do a man an injustice and he tells me so the columns of The Journal are open to him to reply; but I could not submit to being denounced on the floor of the house of representatives when I had no opportunity to reply, without representing it.

Mr. Saul's Statement.

Milt Saul, of The Journal, makes the following statement of his participation in the affair:

"I was in the Majestice office, across the street from the Capital City Club. Through a window I saw Mr. Gray and Mr. Revill meet, and immediately saw Mr. Revill draw his pistol from his pocket. I ran across the street and reached the combatants as they were against the balustrade of the Capital City Club. Mr. Revill still had his pistol and was attempting to shoot Mr. Gray. I wrenched the pistol from his grasp, handed it to a gentleman on the piazza and stepped asideft A minute later, I saw Mr. Revill with an open knife. I again interfered, took the knife from his hand and threw it away, and stepped aside. After the difficulty between Mr. Gray and Mr. Revill was concluded, Mr. Revill approached and stated that he would shoot us both down like dogs, as we had both assaulted him. I reminded him that I had merely relieved him of his weapons, whereupon he attempted to hit me with his umbrella, and grossly insulted me, with an epithet. I struck him, and he begged me not to hit him again.

"Seeing that the entire difficulty was at an end, I went back to the Majestic, while the other parties remained at the club."

MAN TORTURED BY HIGHWAYMEN

Long Gashes Were Cut in Tesmer's Wrists by Robbers.

Torture Was Inflicted Out of Pure Cruelty, for the Bandits Had No Trouble in Securing Tesmer's Money and Jewelry.

Chicago, July 24.—The police believe that the death of John Tesmer, at the City hospital yesterday, an hour after he had been found in a doorway at Ashland avenue and Emily street, was due to torture inflicted by men who attacked and robbed him.

Tesmer, who was a prosperous real estate owner, had collected rent at several places and was going to his residence when he was attacked by highwaymen. He fought the robbers, but was worsted. A blow on the left eye which left an ugly cut proved to have knocked him unconscious. He was dragged into a hallway, where he was found several hours later.

Several cuts were found on Tesmer's hands and arms. Two long gashes which opened the arteries of the wrists were believed to have been inflicted deliberately, while the man was in the power of the bandits. After the robbers had taken Tesmer's watch and $55 from him they sat him in an upright position in the doorway and left him to bleed to death from the severed arteries in his wrists.

Search for Tesmer's assailants has so far been unavailing.

PEACE MAKER IS MURDERED.

Prescott Shot While Trying To End a Strike.

New York, July 24.—For attempting to bring a strike to a peaceful end, George Prescott, walking delegate for the National Teamsters' Union, was shot today, probably fatally. Union teamsters employed by Joseph Johnson & Co., of Staten Island, notified the National union that they had struck and that non-union men were working in their places.

There was no disorder of any kind, but when Prescott landed on the island to meet Mr. Johnson and discuss the strike his steps were dogged by two Italians, said to be non-union drivers, who at a lonely corner ordered him off the island and then shot the delegate through the body once and also stabbed him. Prescott was carried unconscious to a hospital. The Italians were arrested.

CZAR MEETS KAISER ON HOHENZOLLERN

KAISER WILLIAM
As He Appears on the Hohenzollern.

Nicholas Goes to William for Advice About the Coming Peace Congress and About the Internal Conditions in the Russian Empire.

St. Petersburg, July 24.—Emperor Nicholas has returned to Peterhof.

Berlin, July 24.—The foreign office here is advised that a meeting between Emperor William and Emperor Nicholas took place early today off the Swedish coast near the island of Bjoerkoe.

Emperor Nicholas wrote to Emperor William several days ago that if during the latter's visit in the Baltic he should approach the Russian shore he (Emperor Nicholas) would be pleased to meet him. The German emperor replied that he would be glad to cruise to any convenient point and the island of Bjoerkoe was suggested. It was understood that the conversation was to be entirely personal and intimate, and therefore no officials from either of the governments was to be present, although the Russian minister of marine is in Emperor Nicholas' suite.

Sequel to Correspondence.

The meeting is a sequel to the correspondence that has been going on between the emperors concerning peace, in which Emperor William was then cooperating with President Roosevelt seeking to bring the belligerents to a discussion of terms of peace and in the present meeting Emperor William continued to advise peace.

Emperor William went to the meeting prepared to say if he were asked that Emperor Nicholas could attain a full understanding and reconciliation with the discontented portions of his people only through reforms. The German government is interested in seeing the neighboring country peaceful and prosperous, for it is toward the Russian empire that Germany's manufacturers look for greater trade expansion in the future.

So far as the rumors in other capitals that a scheme is afloat to combine several of the powers in giving Russia moral support against the Japanese negotiations soon to be opened at Portsmouth, N. H., concern Germany they are denied explicitly. Germany's policy of noninterference it is declared remains the same.

Banquet Ends Conference.

St. Petersburg, July 24.—The picturesque meeting between the Russian and German emperors in the gulf of Finland, according to private advices, ended this afternoon with a gala luncheon on board the German imperial yacht Hohenzollern, after which Emperor William's yacht sailed seaward, escorted for a short distance by the Russian imperial yacht Polar Star. Then imperial salutes were exchanged and the Polar Star put about and returned to Peterhoff, where she is due tonight. A flotilla of torpedo boats, torpedo boat destroyers and small cruisers hovered about the imperial yachts from the time they met until they parted.

Beyond the additional fact that Emperor William paid a visit to the Polar Star last night and that subsequently Emperor Nicholas went on board the Hohenzollern and remained until long after midnight in the German emperor's cabin no further details of the meeting are yet available.

The meeting of the two monarchs naturally created intense interest in diplomatic circles. In some quarters there is a disposition to attach the deepest political significance to it and all sorts of theories are advanced. They are, however, largely speculation. It is officially announced that the visit was only a "visit of courtesy" made by Emperor William to his brother monarch before leaving the gulf of Bothnia, but under the circumstances the diplomats cannot believe that such a meeting was devoid of meaning to the world's political chess board, no matter what the ultimate result may be.

Nothing Startling Expected.

London, July 24.—The British foreign office does not appear to anticipate that the meeting between Emperor William and Emperor Nicholas will be followed by any startling developments. Although the officials here have no definite information about the the object of the conference they are inclined to attribute the meeting primarily to the German emperor's desire to remove the resentment which the foreign office here says is known to have been growing against Germany since the cordial reception of the Prince and Princess Arisugawa of Japan. The foreign office adds that there is no doubt that politics was discussed between the emperors and that there is also no doubt that Emperor William's advice will be in the direction of the conclusion of peace.

Throat of Girl Was Cut.

Muscatine, Iowa, July 24.—The body of a young girl, about twenty-two years old, has been found in the river here. Her throat has been cut. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of murder. The victim has not been identified, but it is believed she belonged to a well-to-do family as she wore diamonds and was handsomely dressed.

Turks Move on Insurgents.

Hodeida, July 24.—The Turks are moving against the insurgents at Sanaa, the capital city of Yemen province. Operations to recover possession of the city commenced July 17 from three directions. Marshal Ahmed Fezi, pasha at the Albanian battalion, dislodged the rebels from a strong position near Menakha, inflicting severe losses on them.

CHICAGO GREETS JAPANESE ENVOY

Baron Said He Was Glad To See Chicago and Expressed Wish To Meet Mayor Dunne — He Talks of Government Ownership.

Chicago, July 24.—Baron Komura, Japanese minister of foreign afairs and plenipotentiary in the pending peace negotiations with Russia, arrived in Chicago today from St. Paul on the Burlington limited.

Delegations were on hand to greet the visitor. One of the delegations was composed of Japanese merchants, students and professional men here, headed by the Japanese consul. A committee consisting of representative Chicago business men, municipal city officials and others appointed by acting Mayor Lewis was on hand to greet the Oriental party. The baron and suite were driven to the auditorium.

Hon. Thomas B. Bryan, who was vice president of the Columbian exposition, came in Chicago on Baron Komura's private car. A few months ago the baron was entertained at Mr. Bryan's home Elmhurst. The peace plenipotentiary, remembering the courtesy telegraphed last night asking Mr. Bryan to board the baron's private car at Aurora and journey with the party to Chicago.

Corporation Counsel Lewis, representing Mayor Dunne, was introduced to the plenipotentiary by Mr. Bryan. Colonel Lewis welcomed Baron Komura on behalf of Mayor Dunne.

Baron Komura told Colonel Lewis that he appreciated the courtesy and was glad to see Chicago, having in former years spent many pleasant days here. The baron then stated that he was anxious to meet Mayor Dunne.

"I have heard much of him," he said. "and much of the work that he has undertaken. I should like to meet and talk with him."

"In Japan," said the baron, "the government's monopoly from an economic standpoint is a good thing. However, the question of public ownership is largely a question of environment and conditions."

NORWAY CAUSES BLOODSHED.

Three Men Shot as Outcome of Argument Over Secession.

New York, July 24.—Two men are dying and a third is seriously wounded as the outcome of an argument in Brooklyn early today between four Swedes about the secession of Norway from Sweden. The men who are dying in a hospital are Karl Anderson and John Tromler. Ole Ludwig was seriously hurt. Victor Lindquist was captured after a chase by the police, who chased him in a trolley car. He is charged with having done the shooting.

It is learned by the police that the men, all intimate friends, met for a dinner at the hotel. After beginning an argument about the proper course to be taken by their country in the present crisis, Linquist taking one side and the three against, the talk became bitter and was continuing as they left the house to go to a ferry nearby.

Suddenly, it is alleged, Linquist turned on his countrymen and the shooting began. The prisoner strenuously denied the charge when he was locked up pending a hearing.

MANN WOMAN IN THE TOWER.

Brought to Atlanta for Protection Against Own Race.

Covington, Ga., July 24.—(Special).—Mandy Mann, the negro woman who shot and killed Lee Pitts, colored, at Newborn, August 15, and who was bound over to the superior court of this county by Magistrates Cruse and Branham on the charge of murder, at a committal hearing last Tuesday, has been transferred to the Fulton county jail by Sheriff Sam Hay.

This step was deemed advisable in view of some threats of violence made by the negroes of the community where the killing occurred.

The Pitts woman, it is alleged, was a harmless and hard-working negro, having the respect and confidence of both white and colored population of Newborn, and her unprovoked assassination had the effect of working up a frenzy of excitement among the blacks and likewise aroused some indignation among the best element of white citizens in that community.

TEST OF CALL LOAN SYSTEM.

Question Will Be Decided in Cincinnati Bankruptcy Case.

Cincinnati, July 24.—A test of the call loan system, used by all the banks in the United States in their dealings with brokers, will be made by a suit which it is anticipated will be filed by Referee Greve, in the bankruptcy case of Holzman and company, brokers, of this city, who recently failed. The First National bank has a quantity of good securities on which a loan was made to the Holzmans. The bank has announced that it will disregard the orders of Referee Greve and will dispose of the securuties in accordance with the call loan agreement.

The threatening proceedings amount to a test of the system by which loans are made by banks on collateral and if Greve wins his contention which is in effect that banks having such loans are not preferred creditors, the entire system of collateral loans must be revised.

Failure

to cure indigestion is largely due to the old theory that when the stomach becomes inactive it needs something to mechanically digest its contents, and cathartics, purgatives, etc., are used, which give only temporary relief, because they digest by irritating the lining of the stomach.

Modern science recognizes the fact that it is the nerves that furnishes motive power to digest the contents of the stomach.

The nerves agitate and mix the food, and stimulate the secretions. When they become weakened they lack energy, and indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach result.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine will relieve obstinate cases of indigestion, dyspepsia and stomach troubles by strengthening these nerves.

"I had severe stomach troubles. Dr. Miles' Nervine, and Nerve and Liver Pills cured me. I can now eat anything without trouble."—

HEART DISEASE KILLED LAMONT

Funeral of Former Cabinet Officer Will be Held Wednesday.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 24.—The funeral of Former secretary of War Daniel S. Lamont, who died suddenly last night, will be held on Wednesday at 12:30 p. m. at Altamont, the Lamont home, at Millbrook. It will be a quiet ceremony. The interment will be in Woodlawn cemetery, New York.

Late last night a telegram was sent by the family to Grover Cleveland announcing Colonel Loman's death and asking the former president to come to Altmont, the Lamont estate at Millbrook, as soon as possible.

Colonel Lamont's death last night was very sudden. During the day he had been in his accustomed health, which, however, had not been the best for some time. In the afternoon he went for a ride with Mrs. Lamont and made no unusual compaint. He ate dinner with the family and a number of guests and spent the evening on the veranda of the house. There he was suddenly stricken with an acute heart weakness. Dr. Stewart, of New York, one of the guests, ran to his assistance and carried him into the house, where he died in ten minutes.

War Department Acts.

Washington, July 24.—The war department took cognizance of the death of former Secretary Lamont today by issuing the following order:

"War Department, Washington, D. C., July 24, 1905.—Orders: The acting secretary of war announces with deep sorrow the death of the Hon. Daniel Scott Lamont, which occurred on the 23rd inst., at his residence at Millbrook, in Duchess county, N. Y.

"Mr. Lamont was secretary of war during the second administration of President Cleveland from 1893 to 1897, a period of great activity in the administration of the war department. The services rendered by Secretary Lamont were of the greatest importance to the efficiency of the military establishment and his interst in the welfare of the officers and men of the army did not cease with his retirement from public office, but continued unabated to the end of his life. He was a gentleman of broad and varied culture; of exalted personal character; of quick discernment in public affairs and of a very great administrative ability, was constant and kindly interested in the welfare of the army, strongly attached him to those with whom he was associated in the conduct of military affairs.

"As a mark of respect to his memory, it is ordered that the flags at all military posts be displayed half staff on the day of the funeral.

"ROBERT SHAW OLIVER,
"Acting Secretary of War."

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at any drug store; price 50c.

GILLETTE NAMED AS PROBER.

Man Who Uncovered Carter Will Aid Mayor Weaver.

Philadelphia, July 24.—Mayor Weaver today announced the appointment of Major Cassius E. Gillette, corps of engineers, United States army, as a member of the commission to investigate the Torresdale filter plant, now being constructed for the city by the firm of D. J. McNichols Company. William Barclay Parsons, of New York, and John Donald MacLennan, of Washington, D. C., are the other members of the commission.

Mayor Weaver, at the suggestion of Secretary Root, who at the time was the mayor's private counsel, requested the war department to detail Major Gillette here. The latter is the officer under whose direction the frauds in connection with the federal work in Savannah harbor was unearthed. As the result of that investigation Captain Carter, of the army, was sentenced to a term of imprisonment and contractors Greene & Gaynor fled to Canada.

Wallace Not for Seaboard.

New York, July 24.—A report to the effect that John F. Wallace, formerly engineer ofthe Panama canal, was to become president of the Seaboard Air Line was denied today by Chairman James A. Blair, of the Seaboard's executive committee. Mr. Blair said there was absolutely no foundation for the report.

BALFOUR HOLDS FAST TO POWER

Premier Tells the Commons That He Will Not Resign.

He Says That It Would Be Unfortunate for Country if Ministers Were To Resign Because of Such Votes as That of Thursday.

London, July 24.—The government has no intention of resigning in consequence of Thursday's adverse vote. This was the gist of Premier Balfour's eagerly anticipated statement in the house of commons this afternoon. Although it had been generally understood that such would be decision of the premier there was feverish eagerness on in all sides to hear the exact terms of his statement. The house will be slightly packed. The gallery available to the peers and the public was crowded and there had not been such an attendance of members during the life of the present parliament.

Mr. Balfour who was heartily cheered by his supporters on rising tried the patience of his hearers somewhat by a long disquisition on how former administrations had ignored defeats similar to Thursday. He declared that such incidents had never been regarded as ground for resignation or dissolution and announced that the government did not propose either to resign or dissolve parliament because of Thursday's occurrence. The premier considered that it be a grave evil if the tenure of ministers was made dependent on such votes as that of Thursday. He hoped the practice would never prevail of allowing a government united in itself and possessing the confidence of the majority of the house to abandon its post merely because of such a vote.

Mr. Balfour sat down without referring to the remaining business of the session and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the liberal leader, immediately asked for an opportunity to discuss the premier's statement.

The opposition, he said, did not propose to proceed with Sir Edward Grey's proposed vote of censure, which obviously was superseded by the occurrence of Thursday. They wanted to discuss the conduct of the government regarding the events of last week.

John Redmond, the leader of the Irish nationalists, took a similar line.

Ultimately, by arrangement with Mr. Balfour, the chief government whip, Sir Alexander Acland-Hood, formally moved the adjournment and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman opened the debate with a stirring attack on the government.

Mr. Redmond followed and in a few fervid phrases characterized the premier's action as contemptible. The opposition, he declared, ought to stand together and make the continued life of this government impossible. Speaking for the nationalists, Mr. Redmond promised the government that they would neither ask nor give quarter, would fight day and night, so as to make short work of "this government of shreds and patches."

The opposition for tactical reasons later decided to abstain from a division, the debate in the house of commons was carried without a division.

FARMERS TO HAVE INSTITUTE.

Will Gather on August 4 at Commerce.

Commerce, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—There will be a Farmers' Institute at Commerce, Ga., on August 4 on the farm of W. L. Williamson, conducted under the auspices of the state experiment station.

Addresses will be made by Professor W. J. Spillman, agriculturist, United States department of agriculture, and by prominent men from the state institution. The farm of Mr. Williamson is one of the very best dairy farms in the south, and the methods which he employs on this farm are well worth studying. The addresses will be made along the line of work followed by Mr. Williamson, and his farm will be used in demonstrating these methods. Every effort will be put forth to make this one of the best farmers' institutes of the season.

Those interested in agricultural work are very cordially invited, and will doubtless be well repaid for attending this institute.

WOMEN'S BURDENS ARE NUMEROUS.

Peruna Is a Godsend To Thousands of Women.

Woman is burdened with hundreds of duties, some very weighty, some apparently insignificant; all, in the aggregate, an overwhelming load.

Is it to be wondered when they get nervous, rundown, weary and weak?

Debility of all kind leads to catarrh, and catarrh will attack that organ which is the weakest.

There are thens of thousands of suffering women who could be relieved of their ills if they were fully conversant with the power of Peruna in relieving catarrhal ailments of every character.

Do Not Fail to Read Mrs. Fry's Notable Experience.

Mrs. Sarah Frye, 204 Sylvan Ave., West Asbury Park, N. J., writes:

"I have no words to express my gratitude for the wonderful cure Peruna has done for me. It is a Godsend to all suffering women.

"I was sick over half my life with systemic catarrh. Nearly all my life I have spent all I could make for doctors, but none of them did me any good, but since I started on your Peruua one year ago, I have at last found relief.

"I hope and pray you may live long to help others as you have helped me. Instead of being a walking drug store, I am growing fat and doing well."

TWO RAWLINGS BOYS NOW FACING JURORS

Jesse and Leonard Are Called Upon to Stand Trial for Murder.

FASTER TIME IS MADE THAN ON OTHER TRIAL

Six Panels of Twelve Men Were Exhausted Before Jury Was Secured—No Move Was Made To Oust the Sheriff of the County.

Valdosta, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Interest in the Rawlings trial is still deep and crowds have attended the trial of Jesse and Leonard today, although there were not as many people in the city from the Hahira neighborhood, where the crimes were committeed, as were here last week.

Court convened at 9 o'clock this morning, and it was agreed between the state and the defense to put both boys on trial at the same time. It was found more difficult today to get a jury than in the trial of last week, six panels of twelve men each being exhausted before the last juryman was secured at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

W. L. Carter, father of the children whom the Rawlings boys are charged with murdering, was the first witness and gave about the same evidence he did in the trial of Milton Rawlings. He was on the stand for two hours, and was subjected a rigid cross examination by Attorney Cooper. When the question was pressed by the attorneys for the defense why the witness had not reported the presence of Leonard Rawlings and Jim and Tim McDonald at his home on the night of the tragedy to the coroner at the inquest next day, he replied: "They did not ask me." Attorney Cooper was unable to shake his testimony in a material way.

Alf Moore, the confessed accomplice, followed Carter on the stand and was up until 7:30 tonight, when court adjourned until tomorrow morning. The negro related practically the same story he did last week on the trial of Milton Rawlings.

Faster Time Made.

Faster time was made today than in the trial of Milton, but it is expected that the trial of the old man Rawlings will be very slow and probably the hardest fought and most interesting of all the trials. Mrs. Rawlings and her daughters showed today the immense strain under which they have been for the post week. The mother, especially, looking extremely careworn and haggard. The conviction of her eldest son has apparently had a most depressing effect on her, but her husband appears as cool and selfpossessed as he has for the last two weeks.

Attorney Cooper has made no move toward ousting Sheriff Passmore, as was reported in some of the papers on Saturday. He stated tonight that he had no personal fight to make on the sheriff and that as long as he considered the prisoners safe he would make no move to have them removed from the custory of the sheriff.

The following jurors were chosen after six panels had bee nexhausted:

John E. Roberts, F. H. Ramsey, E. H. Davis, W. A. Adams, E. H. Bridges, J. R. Wisenbaker, J. H. Carroll, J. H. Tourchton, G. M. Boyd, J. E. Springer, R. S. Wisenbaker and B. H. Jones.

Off for Conference.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Macon Methodist ministers leave tomorrow for Marshalville, where the South Macon district conference convenes. Dr. W. N. Ainsworth, of Mulberry street church, has been asked to address the convention upon the Epworth League and young people's work, and will speak Thursday evening. The pastors going from Macon are Presiding Elder J. B. Johnstone, Rev. M. A. Morgan, Rev. J. M. Glenn, Rev. J. M. Bass and Dr. Ainsworth.

Good List of Attractions.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special).—The directors of the Macon Fair association held a meeting tonight for the purpose of passing upon a number of attractions which they desired to book for the coming fair. Chairman J. A. Newcomb, who has been to New York, Coney Island and other places looking up new features for the fair, has a good list and those that are put on will be drawing cards in the highest degree.

Put Five Bullets in Foe.

Allisonia, Va., July 24.—Wiley Marshall was shot and killed at Panther Creek church Sunday evening by his cousin, Otey Marshall. There had been bad blood between the men for a long time, and when they met Otey Marshall fired five shots into Wiley Marshall's body. Wiley Marshall died instantly. Otey Marshall escaped, and is being pursued by a posse.

Railroad Goes High in Air.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, July 24.—The Guayaquil-Quito Railroad Company today inaugurated a line to Rio Rambo, capital of the province of Chimborazo, 9,840 feet above the level of the sea and 150 miles from Guayaquil.

LIFE OF CHILD WILL BE SAVED

Little Girl at the Pasteur Institute is Progressing Nicely.

Columbus, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Ed. S. Bray, who carried his little daughter, Nina, to the Pasteur institute in Atlanta treatment a day or two ago, spent today in Columbus. He says that his little girl is getting along nicely and that the treatment is having the desired results. From the examinations made by the physicians, and the tests to which the little one was subjected, there seems to be no doubt that the dog which attacked the child was mad.

Will Attend Convention.

Columbus, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Sheriff E. F. Roberts left today for Savannah and Tybee. From there he goes to Bainbridge to attend the convention of county officers on the 26th inst. Police Chief Wiley Williams is already in South Georgia and will be in Bainbridge Wednesday. Several other officers from this section will attend.

Boy Is Released.

Columbus, Ga., July 24.—(Special)—Walter Jones, a negro boy on yesterday shot and killed Lewis Glenn, also colored, with a parlor rifle, has been released, it developing that the shot was accidental.

Colored Odd Fellows.

Columbus, Ga., July 24.—(Special)—The district Grand lodge of the Grand United Order of Colored Odd Fellows of Georgia will meet in Columbus, August 7, to be in session four days.

Mayoralty Situation.

Columbus, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—In view of the fact that John T. Norman has declined, so far, to make a definite statement as to whether or not he will be a candidate for mayor of Columbus, it is presumed that he is seriously considering the suggestion that he make the race. Mayor L. H. Chappell is an announced candidate for reelection. Alderman E. R. Dismukes is an announced candidate. Ralph O. Howard is strongly considering the advisability of running. Alderman L. A. Camp's friends urged him to run, but he has not authorized the statement that he would be a candidate.

Recruits for Army.

Columbus, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—The local recruiting station of the United States army, under charge of Corporal Bynum, is doing good work. The record has been broken in the number of enlistments secured so far this month.

Hearing of an Injunction Suit.

Columbus, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Judge Little today heard in chambers an injunction suit from Americus, Mrs. M. J. Adams suing to enjoin M. O. Loving & Co. from building a stable 98 feet from her residence, on the ground that it would damage her property and prove a nuisance. The injunction was denied. The case will be carried to the supreme court. Loving & Co. have the brick and the ground preparatory to erecting the new building. It will be used for a feed and sales stables department of their livery stables. It will be on the same lot as their present building, nearer Mrs. Adams' property. Attorneys Hixon & Hudson represent Mrs. Adams, and Attorney W. P. Wallace the defendant.

MORTUARY.

John H. Florence, Hampton, Ga.

Hampton, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—John A. Florence, one of Hampton's oldest and most prominent citizens, died here yesterday and was buried at Berea cemetery today at 3 o'clock. Uncle Johnnie, as he was called, was 73 years old and was postmaster for several years. He is survived by one daughter, Miss Sallie Florence, who is postmistress now. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Cutherel.

BURNING TANKS OF OIL DESTROY TWELVE LIVES

Some Reports of the Texas Fire Say Fifty People Have Perished.

FLAMES NOT CHECKED AT LATEST ACCOUNTS

Great Smoke, Covering Two Square Miles, Hides a Scene of Disaster in Which Many Human Beings Have Lost Their Lives.

Houston, Tex., July 24.—The fire in the Humble oil fields, which started last night, is still burning fiercely, but it remains confined to the tanks of the Texas Company. While no names are ascertainable, it is believed that twelve persons lost their lives. So far as can be learned, these were all negroes who were employed in trying to prevent the spread of the flames. Forty-three mules are known to have perished.

The managers of the Texas Company state that the tanks contained approximately 2,500,000 barrels of oil, which was valued at about 25 cents per barrel, and that none of the oil will be saved. In addition they say, the big pumping plant at the tanks was entirely destroyed, making a total loss of more than $600,000.

Today the efforts of the fire fighters have been confined to throwing up earthen ambankments between the burning tanks, of which there are eleven, and in which 4,000,000 barrels of oil belonging to other companies are stored. These tanks are 3,000 and 4,000 feet away from the fire, but the water which covers the field as a result of the rain of Sunday has floated the burning oil to the first level and a sudden "boil over" may send the burning fluid to the second embankment, which would place the other tanks in great danger. The fire is not spreading toward the producing field and it is not expected that it will.

Hundreds of men are engaged tonight in strengthening the levees, building them higher and in throwing up additional ridges.

Scores of people have lost their temporary homes in the field. Many of these have already come to Houston to seek shelter.

The losses, according to J. S. Cullinan, president of the Texas Oil Company, who is on the scene of the fire at Humble, will aggregate at least 2,500,000 barrels of oil and incidental damage to the tanks, which cannot be estimated until the fire subsides.

Mr. Cullinan says it be necessary to repair the tanks extensively, but he does not know how much it will require for each tank. He further stated that the area of the fire was so great that it was practically impossible to accurately estimate the damage in dollars and cents. As to insurance, Mr. Cullinan stated that there was practically no insurance, the policy of the owners being to prorate the loss among the producers who had oils stored in the tanks. This will fall heaviest upon the Texas Company, as the tanks contained the greater part of the company's oil. Among the companies who had oil stored in the Texas Company's tanks are Stelzig & Antil, 30,000 barrels; Brooks Oil Company, 10,000 barrels; Landslide Oil Company, 125,000 barrels.

Due to the Humble fire, a sharp advance occurred in the oil market and still further advances are ordered. F. o. b. oil is quoted at from 22 to 25 cents today, an advance of about 4 cents. One oil man said today that he expected oil to reach 33 cents at least before the week ends.

DOWLING DEAD, CREWS WOUNDED

Result of Fight Which Occurred Yesterday Near Waycross.

Waycross, Ga., July 24.—As a result of a fight at Fort Mudge, fourteen miles from Waycross, on the Jacksonville road, yesterday, Darling Dowling, Jr., was killed and Charlie Crews was badly cut in several places. Three shots were fired by Crews and Dowling was shot twice in the head and stomach. Darling Dowling, father of the man who was killed, cut Crews, and Everett Mizell received a flesh wound from Crews' pistol. Crews will recover. The fight was the result of an old grudge. All the parties are prominently connected.

OLIVER KILLED BY THE SHERIFF

Denny Is Arrested for the Killing and Is Jailed.

Albany, Ga., July 24.—(Special).—At Beloit in Lee county, Sheriff Denny shot and killed Joseph M. Oliver, a middle-aged white man. The tragedy was the result of a disagreement growing out of a note Oliver is said to have written to the mother of Denny. The sheriff is just 21.

Oliver Denny and Wesly Pye met on the railroad track and began to discuss the matter. Denny, it is alleged, invited Oliver to step aside a few paces and settle the affair. When they stepped aside Denny drew his revolver and shot Oliver twice through the body, killing him instantly.

Denny was arrested last night and is in jail at Leesburg, charged with murder. Oliver's body was brought to this city for interment.

Oliver is survived by a wife and several small children.

WILL BE RUNNING TODAY.

Breakdown of Cordele News Machinery Was Only Temporary.

Cordele, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Owing to a serious breakdown in the machinery of the News Publishing Company, the News was compelled to miss two or three issues during the past few days. Everything will be running all right by tomorrow.

Brutus Clay Is Mollified.

Washington, July 24.—Information has been received at the state department to the effect that Ambassador McCormick has adjusted satisfactorily the differences between Brutus Clay, American minister to Switzerland, and the French ambassador to the same county, which grew out of the alleged failure of the ambassador to return the minister's call.

Bibb Will Show Increase.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special).—Within the next fifteen days Tax Receiver R. J. Anderson's report for the year from Bibb will be in the hands of the comptroller, and the figures will then show that this county is again near the head of the list in property increases. Tax valuations have been greatly increased during the past twelve months and the rate, it is believed, will be cut considerably.

WILL MAKE RACE FOR COMMANDER

Colonel Wiley Desires to Head Georgia Confederate Veterans.

His Friends Have Begun an Active Canvass To Place Macon Veteran in the Position To Be Vacated by General Mcwiashan.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Colonel C. M. Wiley, commander of the eastern division Georgia veterans and probably one of the best known survivors of the lost cause in this state, has consented to run for the office of state commander and the veterans of this city have begun an active campaign on his behalf.

Since it was announced from Savannah several weeks ago that General P. H. McGlashan, who has served in this high position for the past year, would not stand for reelection, General Wiley has been indorsed at many points in the state, and, although he refused to start a canvass for himself at the request of his friends here he has consented to allow his name to be used and will accept the position if elected. Accordingly, his friends here have begun an active canvass in his interest and he is in the race. Commander N. E. Harris, of Camp Macon here, signs a letter which is going out to veterans over the state as follows:

"Comrades: We will at the state reunion, Macon, Ga., place in nomination for general commanding the Georgia division, U. C. V., General C. M. Wiley, of this city. We ask your hearty support of General Wiley who was a soldier in the front during the days of sixty-one to sixty-five, when all the good or all the bad came out before army associates.

"Is there any confederate soldier who can say anything to his detriment? On the contrary, there is not one soldier in the army of northern Virginia who would not consider it a privilege to indorse General Wiley. Will you kindly submit this to your camp and advise of your decision?"

Young Marooners Return.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Aldermen W. J. Massee and Leon Dure and Judge Robert Hodges, Hon. Roland Ellis and Mack Corbett, J. B. English and Chief of Police Granville Connor have returned from a marooning trip along the banks of the Savannah, where they went a week ago. They were the guests of Mayor Herman Meyers, of Savannah, on the trip, and the pleasures of the occasion having been planned ahead, were abundant. Fishing was the chief enjoyment and the angler's luck was good.

To Inaugurate Dr. Smith.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—A formal inaugural has been planned by the trustees of Mercer university for President-elect Charles Lee Smith, who enters upon his duties as the head of the institution with the opening of the fall term. It is true that he will become actively engaged in the office of the president within a few days, and his labors started with his election here last Friday night, but an inaugural of no small import has been planned at the Georgia Baptist convention, which meets in Macon in November. At that time an address will be asked of Dr. Smith, and Dr. Ira Remsen, president of Johns Hopkins, will also be one of the speakers of the occasion if he can be secured. Dr. John G. McCall, president of the board, of trustees of Quitman, Ga., will also probably be one of the speakers.

A committee of three members, Dr. J. L. White, of Macon; Dr. W. W. Landrum, of Atlanta, and Dr. John D. Jordan, of Savannah, was chosen to arrange for this inaugural when Dr. Smith was chosen president at the session of the board here last week, and the committee will probably anounce November 20 as the date. The new city auditorium here has been secured for the services, and thousands of people will attend.

The Baptists of Macon will make elaborate arrangements for the occasion. It is to be one of the features of the sessions of the convention, and will be looked forward to with much interest. The trustees have determined to make the coming of Dr. Smith felt throughout the state, and therefore will plan numerous events where the presence of the leading Baptists of the stae will enable the new president to meet them and join hands with them in the advancement of Mercer's interests.

Negro Woman Released.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special).—Maggie Johnson, the negro woman who was implicated in the killing of the colored carpenter Sam Zachary in the barn of H. C. Parker several days ago by John Roberson, the negro held for the murder, was given a hearing before Justice Gerdine and released, there being no evidence to convict. Roberson said the woman had committed the deed and hired him to dispose of Zachary's clothes.

Let Newspapers and Magazines Work for You

If you have anything to sell, let the publications sell it for you. Tell your story in the advertising columns of the newspaper and magazine and arouse the interest of the buyers in what you have for sale. A salesman can talk to but one prospective customer at a time; the papers and magazines reach thousands of good buyers simultaneously, and reaches them when they have time to consider your proposition.

If you would get the best results from the money you spend, consult experienced advertising men. The best plan would be to write to the Massengale Advertising Agency, of Atlanta Ga., as they make a specialty of this kind of work.

WILL ENFORCE SWITCHING LAW

Freight Trains Must Remain at Standstill on Sunday.

Chief of Police Henry Jennings has determined to enforce the Sunday laws of Georgia and the city of Atlanta requiring that freight trains be not switched on Sunday, with the exception of hose engines hauling perishable goods.

Numerous complaints have been made to the chief, by principally residents of West End, that the laws were not being enforced, and that the switching of the engines on Sunday had caused much annoyance.

Chief Jennings instructed Captain Joiner of the day watch to notify his men that the laws were not being enforced and to watch for all violations, and warn the guilty ones that warrants would be sworn out against them if the practice were not discontinued.

Accordingly, last Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, when his watch went on duty, Captain Joiner obeyed the orders and had the patrolmen notify the yardmasters and the train crews that all violations of the law would result in prosecutions. The warning had the desired effect and as a result, there was little moving of switching and freight trains last Sunday.

The law, as it stands, prohibits all switching of freight trains on Sunday, besides those containing perishable goods of live stock. The law does not apply to passenger trains.

Captain Moon heard of the order issued to Captain Joiner, and he, in turn, instructed his watch, the evening watch, which goes on duty at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, to enforce the law to the letter.

George Adair, the well known real estate man, whose home is on Peters street, in West End, it is understood, is at the head of the movement of the West End citizens to have the state regulations enforced. His attorney, Benjamin Conyers, made the complaint to the chief on behalf of the West End residents.

It is not known whether the railroads will make a fight on the movement, contesting its legality, and the right of the chief of police to stop the switching of engines, but it is believed that they will not make a contest. When seen yesterday, several railroad officials stated again that the switching of cars on Sunday was necessitated, both on account of scarcity of equipment and also lack of yard facilities. Even with the working on Sunday, these officials stated that great difficulty was caused, but that the completion of the new yards beyond Marietta street which are promised completion in a few months, would do a great deal in helping to straighten out this present congested condition.

As it is now, these officials stated that the closing up of switching would mean some 2,000 or more cars collecting. To switch these by starting to work after Sunday midnight would mean such a tie-up as would block progress. The tremendous through traffic of freight passing into and out from Atlanta in every direction requires a tremendous amount of switching according to the railroad men, and the results would be serious almost beyond estimating.

While they deplore the noise and unpleasantness occasioned the citizens of West End, a few months would see the new yards completed and this would mean entirely different conditions.

So earnest was the demand of the citizens that when the crews working in the yard were told that they would be prosecuted if they handled anything except perishable freight, they quit, preferring not to take any chances. The citizens state that for a time the noise and work in the yards was abated and that no such congestion as was claimed by the railroad officials resulted. They also stated that they wanted to be fair in the matter, but that the railroads after promising to do differently, kept their promise but a short time, and then resumed the nuisance.

BONES OF JONES PLACED IN VAULT

Remains of Naval Hero Are Landed at Annapolis.

Remains Were Brought Ashore with the Honors of an Admiral—Ceaseless Tread of Sentry at Vault Marks the Nation's Vigil.

Annapolis, Md., July 24.—The body of John Paul Jones is now in the possession of the United States. Today it rests on American soil, housed temporarily in an unpretentious vault in the center of the grounds of the Naval academy and near the unfinished chapel in whose crypt later it is to find honored repose, a perpetual inspiration to the young men of the nation here trained in the arts of naval warfare.

In wonderful contrast to the days of the Bonhomme Richard, a fleet of modern warships in armaments of steel stood silent guard in strength and dignity as the last sea voyage of the century-dead fighter came to an end. He was put ashore with the honors of an admiral; he was entombed with that sincere simplicity in which a respecting republic shows its deepest feeling. Today the memory of his deeds found voice in the boom of the minute guns. The lavishness of oratory and the splendor of pomp are reserved for the time when his dust is to make sacred the splendid naval abbey now being erected. Until then the ceaseless tread of an armed sentry will mark the nation's vigil.

The solemn evolutions of the funeral cortege, the impressive spectacle of the white clack jackies, marines and midshipmen, as they stood in solid phalanx on the sea wall and later surrounded in profound silence the crepe draped tomb, the trembling words of praise and supplication of the black-robed chaplain before the bier on the threshhold of the vault, the depositing of the body, the musket fire in volleys and the sounding of taps, all these were in keeping with the reverend memory to which honor was done.

The people of Annapolis added their presence to the quiet demonstration surrounding the cordon of the naval personnel with bared heads and in respectful silence.

The only words that were uttered during the entire transfer from ship to shore were those of the chaplain just before the body was placed in the tomb. They were these in part:

"God of our fathers, we praise Thee for the life and memory of him whose mortal remains are now to find a resting place for under the flag he so loved, in the nation he did so much to create. We thank Thee that Thou didst show in him qualities of manhood that not only create, but preserve and perpetuate nations. All that is earthly of him is committed to the reverent care and devotion of the land whose debt to him is beyond all price. May the sublime lessons of his courage and patience, resource, hopefulness and consecration be charged anew with moral power to fire and impress more deeply every American heart."

ROOSEVELT TO BACK CARTER.

And Promise Makes Governor of Hawaii Happy.

Oyster Bay, July 24.—A consideration of Hawaiian affairs occupied President Roosevelt's attention for several hours today. He had as a guest at luncheon and greater part of the afternoon, George R. Carter, governor of Hawaii. Governor Cater came to Oyster Bay determined to resign his official position to escape the annoyance to which he has been subjected since he succeeded Sanford B. Dole as governor. The president not only declined to accept his resignation, but told him to go back to Honolulu and he should have the full support and sympathy of the national administration.

Governor Carter was in a much happier frame of mind after his interview with the president. He will take a needed vacation before returning to Hawaii, probably remaining in this country for several weeks. When he returns to Honolulu it will be to resume his official duties with new confidence and vigor.

14 WHITEHALL ST.

Stock Will Be Advanced 25 Per Cent Tuesday, August 1.

Will Make Net Profits of Over $750 Per Day.

Few people realize what a great enterprise the Uncle Sam refinery really is. Come down to Cherryvale and see for yourself as the hundreds of barrels of crude is manufactured daily into the finest grades of refined oil, at profits that will in time pay handsome dividends to every stockholder. Figuring on a most conseryative basis, The Uncle Sam Cherryvale plant will make net profits of over seven hundred and fifty dollars ($750) per day. When you buy Uncle Sam refined stock you secure property that is really increasing in value every day, because the rapid development and the erection of machinery goes forward with vim and energy. The refinery is now turning gold into the treasury every day.

Two Carloads of Barrels Arrive.

The Uncle Sam company is now selling oil and big money is already being realized on the Cherryvale plant, just completed. The Uncle Sam company received the first shipment of two car loads of barrels a few days ago in which to ship oil to patrons until the tank stations are completed. Twenty car loads of barrels will be received during the next few days. Orders for Uncle Sam refined oil are coming in from all over Kansas and all will be filled just as fast as the refinery can turn out the oil, and the plant is now running night and day.

Write at once for prices on refined and fuel oil.

Stock Will Be Advanced 25 Per Cent at Midnight, Tuesday, August 1.

The Uncle Sam company has met with such great success in raising the necessary capital to crowd the work, both on refinery and pipe line and in its oil field development, that stock advertised at the present prices will either all be sold or advanced 25 per cent from present prices at midnight Tuesday, August 1. The company has sufficient funds to crowd the work and you should not delay an hour in sending in your remittances for this company is now in communication with over six thousand investors, scattered all over the United States. These investors are fast finding out that our refinery stock is good property and hundreds are buying it every day, net sales on this stock running as high as SIXTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS IN A SINGLE DAY.

The stock is bound to advance in solid values to 50 cents per share within the next nine months and possibly in ninety days. It's now or never with you if you secure stock at present prices. By sending draft or money order at once you can secure stock as follows:

100 shares, $14.00; 250 shares, $33.00; 500 shares, $60.00; 1,000 shares, $120.00; 5,000 shares, $590.00; 10,000 shares, $1,175.00; 20,000 shares, $2,300.00.

Monthly Payment Offer.

100 shares, $3.00 cash, six monthly payments of $2.00 each. 250 shares, $4.00 cash and six monthly payments of $5.00 each. 500 shares, $11 cash and six monthly payments of $9.00 each. 1,000 shares, $16.00 cash and six monthly payments of $19.00 each. 3,000 shares, $48.00 cash and six monthly payments of $57.00 each. 10,000 shares, $155.00 cash and six monthly payments of $170.00 each.

Stock is non-assessable and the par value is $1.00 per share.

HOW TO SEND MONEY—Make all checks, drafts or money orders to The Uncle Sam company or H. H. Tucker, Jr., and stock will be sent promptly by registered mail.

Assets Back of This Company—Reasons Why the Stock Will Certainly Go to 50 Cents Per Share Within Nine Months.

The Uncle Sam company now has one great refinery completed and in full operation. This refinery is now worth, on a conservative basis, a quarter of a million dollars to the stockholders of the company and is already being increased in capacity. The company has miles of lateral pipe lines completed, connecting about three-fourths of the Cherryvale field, and is laying more lateral lines.

Any County in Kansas That Will Buy Fifty Thousand Shares at Present Prices Will Secure an Oil Station for Both Refined and Fuel Oil at Once.

As before stated, the Uncle Sam company is already at work installing stations in Kansas. Any man or club of men who will band together and take sixty thousand shares at present prices can name the man they wish to be put in charge of the company's interests in their county and the company will at once commence to supply them with both refined and fuel oils. It will also install a station at their county seat town just as quickly as the machinery can be secured from the manufacturers.

Strong Manufacturing and Rich Growing Enterprise.

The Uncle Sam company has kept its promises in the past and will keep them in the future. In a year from now you will see this stock selling for five times or over the present prices. The company is a common man's company. It takes an immense amount of capital to complete this gigantic undertaking, but the good work goes forward with a vim. If you can't buy over 100 shares take some of this stock and get lined up right for the oil industry of Kansas. If you have from one thousand to ten thousand dollars to invest, come down and look these properties over and have a confidential talk with the managers and officers of the company.

Personnel of Company.

James Ingersoll, president; J. H. Ritchie, vice president; H. H. Tucker, Jr., secretary and treasurer.

References: The Montgomery County National bank, the People's National bank and Cherryvale State bank, all of Cherryvale, Kan.

A franchise for 179 miles of main trunk line across nine Kansas counties clear through to the banks of navigable water is now secured and owned by the company. Forty miles of the main trunk pipe line is now on the ground along the pipe line route at Neosho Falls, LeRoy, Piqua and Cherryvale. More pipe line is arriving and being unloaded ready to complete and to pump oil through. The company owns and controls over thirty thousand acres of valuable oil and gas lands, located in some of the richest oil fields in Labette, Montgomery, Elk and Chautauqua counties, and also south of Bartlesville, in the five hundred barrels district, right up against the Osage line in the Cherokee nation. On these properties there are seventy-nine (79) producing wells and five pumping plants. The company has room for over 5,000 oil wells. Thousands of barrels of oil are owned and in storage, ready to be refined and turned into money. More oil is being stored every hour. The company has thousands of barrels of tankage completed, one big tank alone having a capacity of one million six hundred thousand gallons. There are two dwellings at the refinery and four more in the oil fields. The company also has a fifty-five acre tract close to Kansas City, on which refinery No. 2 and the big tank farm will be completed during the next six months. The company has purchased tank cars and has storage tanks for stations that will immediately be installed Concordia, Hutchinson, Topeka, Wichita and Salina, Kan.

More Stations in Prospect.

Forty-five more distributing stations will be established in Kansas as the company completes another refinery and increases the capacity of the one at Cherryvale. The refinery and oil lands and oil productions, owned and controlled by this company, with its franchises, pipe lines and machinery, are worth on a conservative basis today close to six hundred thousand dollars. In addition to the above mentioned property back of this company there are over one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars ($125,000) subscribed on gilt-edged installment contracts, which will be paid in during the next four months. This money is for stock that is already allotted and on which two and three payments already have been remitted by the purchasers. There is not a shadow of a doubt but that all of this money will be paid promptly as it falls due, at from $1,200 to $1,600 daily during the next 120 days.

Will Own Property Worth Over Five Million Dollars in Less Than a Year.

The authorized capitalization of the Uncle Sam company is ten million dollars. Sixty-one per cent of this stock is now owned by anti-trust haters of the first degree. Thirty-nine per cent of this stock, or three million nine hundred thousand shares, are still in the treasury and will be sold at from 12 to 50 cents per share. At least eight hundred thousand dollars will be raised from the remainder of this treasury stock. The proceeds from the same will be invested in the development of the vast oil holdings of the company and in the completion of the main trunk pipe line to the Missouri river and of a fuel oil line to central Nebraska. Refinery No. 2 on the banks of navigable waters at Kansas City and refinery No 3 in central Oklahoma, where the company is now securing large oil holdings, preparing to furnish sufficient production to feed refinery No. 3, will also be built. Distributing stations will be located at the leading county seat towns all over Kansas. Tanks for stations at Hutchinson, Salina, Wichita, Topeka and Concordia are now on the way. At least fifty stations will be completed and equipped in Kansas during the next three months. The Uncle Sam company is a home concern, it is backed by the laws of Kansas, supported and approved by about nine-tenths of the people in the state and the Uncle Sam refined and fuel oils will be the most popular Kansas product ever sold in the state and will command good prices.

Big Deals Are Being Closed Daily on This Stock.

Investors can depend, as before stated, on this stock advancing 25 per cent on August 1st. However, this does not mean that you have any certainty that it will remain at the present price for even the next five days. Big deals are pending all over the United States. This announcement will be read by close to fifteen million people. The savings banks of the country are full of money that is bringing the depositor practically no income and it is not any safer than it would be if invested in this company, as the Uncle Sam company is paying as it goes. It is not running in debt a dollar. In fact it has thousands of dollars in the treasury. Every well managed refinery company that owns its own production succeeds. The Uncle Sam company has oil lands enough to feed the present refinery and the two that will be built during the next year for over a century. When you buy this stock you invest in one of the greatest growing enterprises in the nation. It will be to the west what the Pure Oil Company is in the east. You should not delay an hour after reading this announcement. Send your remittance now and secure stock, for it is easily worth 25 cents per share right now and will be selling for that in less than six weeks. Several deals for ten and twenty thousand shares have been closed in the last three days. If, however, you only take one hundred shares at $14.00 you are welcome to join us, for this company will live and prosper by the help of its many friends and the thousands of small stockholders and influential men who will demand and force a square deal for its products in every part of the union. BRIBERY CHARGE FACES SENATOR

Arkansas Statesman Accused of Offering Money to Another.

Alleged That State Senator Butt Paid Senator Adams $100 and Offered Him $400 for His Vote in Favor of Measure.

Little Rock, Ark., July 24.—State Senator F. O. Butt was arrested at Berryville today on a bench warrant from Little Rock, charging him with bribery in connection with the bill appropriating $800,000 for the completion of the new state capital.

The indictment alleges that Senator Butt paid $100 and promised $400 more to Senator R. R. Adams, of Grant county, for the latter's vote in favor of the bill. Senator Butt gave bond today in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance at the September term of the Pulaski county circuit court in answer to the charge.

PUT THEM IN JAIL, SAYS MANN

Principal Owner of Town Topics Talks of Alleged Blackmailing.

New York, July 24.—Colonel W. D. Mann, principal owner of Town Topics, was a passenger on the liner Zealand, which arrived tonight from European ports. Colonel Mann was asked concerning the district attorney's investigation of the publication known as "Fads and Fancies." He said:

"If any of 'Town Topics' men have been guilty of blackmail I hope they will go to jail and I'll help put them there."

The colonel would not make any statement about Justice Deuel's connection with "Fads and Fancies" or with "Town Topics."

LOCAL GOSSIP.

Colonel George Willis, of Georgia, former United States consul at St. Thomas, Canada, has landed. The news will be welcome to Colonel George's many Georgia friends who will wish him every success in his new field. The facts come by way of the Washington Post, and in this wise:

"Friends of Colonel George J. Willis, ex-consul to St. Thomas, Canada, were bidding him goodbye around the lobby of the Metropolitan the other evening. The 'Consul,' as his friends familiarly called him, has just been delegated by the government as one of its representatives at the Rosebud Indian agency, South Dakota. Colonel Willis is not only a good diplomat, but a practical farmer as well. His friends predict for him great success in teaching the young wards of the nation 'how to shoot' the yellow maize into the fertile valleys of White river."

CASE OF SENATOR MITCHELL.

Appeal Will Be Taken to United States Supreme Court.

Portland, Oregon, July 24.—When Judge De Haven convened the federal court today Senator Mitchell, accompanied by his counsel, ex-Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, appeared in court and the senator's attorney presented a bill of exceptions which had been agreed upon by himself and District Attorney Heney, and upon which was based the appeal to the supreme court of the United States. The bill was allowed by Judge De Haven.

Sentence will be pronounced at the opening of court tomorrow morning when a bond of $2,000 for the appearance of Senator Mitchell for trial before the supreme court of the United States at Washington, D. C., will be filed. The verdict of guilty brought in by the jury in the Mitchell case carried with it a recommendation to mercy.

ALL SAILORS ACCOUNTED FOR

Ninety-six Men on the Bennington Escaped Without Injury.

San Diego, Cal., July 24.—All men connected with the United States gunboat Bennington at the time of the fatal boiler explosion in San Diego harbor were accounted for today. Exploration of the vessel's hold continues as it is rapidly emptied of water. The summary of the situation today is:

Dead, 58; wounded, 46; uninjured, 92; deserted, 1. Total number of crew before accident, 197.

C. A. Mumper was found alive and uninjured today, blotting out any missing list.

The identity of the four men classed as unidentified was established today as follows:

C. NELSON.
C. S. CARTER.
P. STRANG.
R. J. OGLES.

The following injured men are still in a critical condition:

W. V. Kennedy, George Hallett, C. Schaltz, H. E. Mettles, S. Pakate, L. A. Griese, Walter Martin.

The Bennington's interior presents a less disordered appearance today. Boiler B, which exploded first, is seen to have moved 15 feet aft, and the two exploded boilers are jammed against a steel bulkhead. In the starboard store room is a mass of water soaked and ruined ship goods, which will be taken out when the Iris arrives from San Francisco to take aboard what is good of the stores. A board has been appointed, consisting of Commander Young and Lieutenants Yates and Wade, to attend the work of condemning the stores.

The condition in the engine room is such that it will probably take two days to discover the full amount of the damage there.

Commander Young and the officers of the ship began an investigation into the cause of the explosion this afternoon.

PAID RANSOM FOR HIS LIFE

American Is Bound and Gagged by Mexican Bandits.

San Francisco, July 24.—Bound, gagged and at the mercy of Mexican bandits, B. S. Loomis, a San Franciscan was held a prisoner in the mountains of Cerro de San Juan, near San Blas, Mexico. A promise of the payment of a ransom saved his life, for it was the intention of the robbers to kill him after they had stripped him of all his effects. Loomis is the superintendent of a fruit company at San Blas and is well known in this city.

In telling of his experience Loomis writes:

"While returning from Tepic I was held up by bandits and robbed of my effects. I was bound and gagged and then taken to a narrow canyon to be killed. I bought the bandits off with a promised to pay them $200, the money to be taken to a certain point on a certain day. They threatened to kill me at night if I did not keep my promise. I did not keep the promise and instead of sending the money I purchased a rifle for my protection."

40,000 WOMEN GREETED 1 MAN.

A Manufacturer Who Looks After Welfare of Women in His Factory.

(From The Milwaukee Sentinel.)

The unique spectacle of 40,000 women, the entire feminine population of a large city, uniting in doing honor to one man, a private citizen, was presented in Dayton, Ohio, on Patterson day, July 11, the women of the city joined with the rest of the population in welcoming J. H. Patterson back to his home city after a year's trip around the world.

After much discussion it was decided to present the guest of honor of Patterson day with a beautifully wrought, hand worked memorial, showing what he had done to deserve the gratitude and esteem of the women; and in order that this memorial might fittingly express the feeling of the women for Mr. Patterson, it was decided that it should be not only written but engrossed upon a parchment, bound and covered by the skilful hands of Dayton's women.

About twelve years ago five women left Mr. Patterson's employ for no apparent reason except that they could secure as good or better employment elsewhere. At the same time a large consignment of the product of Mr. Patterson's factory was returned from England as defective.

These two facts set Mr. Patterson to thinking. He figured that there was a connection between the leaving of his employees and the character of the output of the plant, and after much thought he concluded that the only way to avoid a repetition of such occurrence in the future was to make the work so attractive that no one would want to leave his factory, and that every one would be so interested in his or her work that defective product would be an impossibility. How well he has succeeded is shown by the fact that it is now said that no woman employed in the Dayton factory ever leaves except to be married.

First of all, in the effort to provide the women with the hot lunch, gas stoves were placed in all women departments where the girls could heat coffee and make other warm dishes. Then at attic was established. Next a comfortable dining hall was fitted out in one of the main factory buildings, where each day 500 girls were served a wholesome and attractive meal each day for the nominal cost of 25 cents a week. This dining hall had been used until within the last week, when a new building just erected was set aside for the use of 1,500 men and women employees as a dining hall.

From providing for the gastronomic welfare of the women it was only a step to care for their health in other directions. It was found that the ordinary benches upon which women sat while at work were conducive to stooped shoulders, cramped lungs and general fatigue. In their place comfortable high backed chairs, with foot rests, were put in place in the bindery, and other departments where the women work.

To provide further for the physical comfort of the women, rest rooms have been installed with all the departments where girls are employed. These rooms are furnished with cots, easy chairs, baths, lavatory and a medicine chest. Any girl who becomes ill or indisposed while at work has the privilege of retiring to these rooms. Two nurses make daily rounds of the rest rooms and the women's departments, caring for any of the girls who may desire their services.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO L. Q. C. LAMAR

Bishop Charles Galloway Delivers Eloquent Address.

Before a brilliant assembly of people in the hall of the house of representatives, Bishop Charles Galloway, of the southern Methodist Episcopal church, paid a glowing and eloquent tribute to the life and memory of Hon. L. Q. C. Lamar.

The lower part of the house was full and the galleries packed, and during the course of the lecture there were frequent cheers which swept through the large assembly when the speaker would hit upon some extremely sympathetic train of thought.

The eloquence of Bishop Galloway was at its heighth last night, and in his picturesque and vivid portrayal of the great and good southern leader he thrilled his audiences to an intense degree. His opening was particularly happy, when he described the dominating and most powerful incentive of the life of Lamar as being an everlasting and undying search after truth. He said Lamar was one man whose honest search after truth could not be doubted, and when he found it he stuck to it to the last bitter end.

He recalled at this juncture the famous saying of Lamar: "In my search after truth I have often trod the wine-press all alone."

He gave a running historic story of the life and character of Lamar, reaching the highest climax of his discourse when Lamar was in congress, and called upon to speak at the funeral of Sumner.

Bishop Galloway has all the fire and verbiage of the old-time southern orator, and his delivery of so thrilling a theme made his hearers hang on his every word.

Wyman Will Take Charge.

Washington, July 24.—Surgeon General Wyman, of the public board and marine hospital service, who has been absent from the city on official business, is now on his way to Washington, and upon his arrival will give personal attention to the yellow fever situation in New Orleans. Meantime, the service under the direction of Dr. Glennan is cooperating with the New Orleans authorities to prevent any fresh outbreak. There are half a dozen trained members of the force in that city, and they are now giving their especial attention to getting residents away. To accomplish this and without endangering other communities a large number of detention camps will be established outside the New Orleans city limits. In these refugees will be held for a sufficient time to protect those with whom they may later come in contact.

Board To Go Up.

CONSTITUTION PUBLISHING CO.

ATLANTA, GA., July 25, 1905.

The dove of peace is on the eggs.

The graft continuous performance goes merrily on in Washington.

The cotton growers will be glad if the graft tallow goes with the Hyde.

Edison is engaged in a scientific search for radium. There's trillions in it.

Kaiser Bill is traveling again, and, of course, the earth trembles.

We do hope the historical novelists will now let Paul Jones rest in peace.

Perhaps Senator Depew will resign when Senators Mitchell and Burton resign.

The country is curious to see how Senator Depew is going about getting his vindication.

And the civil service is leaking, too. We fear the president's civil service reform has long been a bit leaky.

The Philadelphia Press refers to "the anti-graft republicans," and an admirable minority it is.

Vice President Fairbanks must feel that his line of succession is getting slenderer than a spider's thread.

Editor Watterson sadly admits that the apples of Sodom are within himself, and that gay Paree is not to blame.

It took the united effort of three doctors to close the mouth of an Iowa man. Wonder if he was afflicted with the Iowa idea.

If Jim Jeffries is worth $300,000, it is not so surprising that he retired from the ring with all the glory of his championship upon him.

Although Mr. Holmes, late of the statistical department, has dropped out of sight, it is not believed that he is trying to dodge the subpena-servers.

The Dallas News observes wittily: "Frobably it will never be known how many bucketshops had receptacles under the leak."

A fashion publication has an article on "economy in gowns." The reference might have been the bathing suits, but it wasn't.

Speaking of "blue laws," Governor Folk, of Missouri, says truly that any law looks blue to the man who wants to break it.

James J. Hill says "the country needs a higher business standard or moral tone." This is the public idea of the morality of the merger.

Henceforth the once magic name of Chauncey will not be worth a salary of 30 cents per as a director in a billion dollar Jersey trust.

It was a trying ordeal, but Ambassador Reid has been initiated at a London dinner function which included the readings of a "poem" by Alfred Austin.

Commander Peary has sailed, and it helped heat-sufferers some to read all those cooling stories about arctic expeditions.

The dispensary is losing political caste in South Carolina because, as Senator Tillman declared in a recent speech: "They've got to give us better liquor!"

We did not need to be told that George Washington was a stranger to piscatorial joys. Had it been otherwise, posterity would never thrill to that immortal hatchet story.

The fine Teutonic hand of Emperor William will shortly be seen in a new triple alliance consisting of Germany, Russia and Sweden. The German kaiser is just itching for that world-war.

Among other things it will be recalled that Chauncey Depew is strongly opposed to the election of United States senators by the people, and thinks six years is much too short a term for a United States senator.

Walter Wellman says "President Roosevelt will not make the slightest effort to name his successor in the white house." Since the president has taken Walter Wellman into his confidence, that settles it.

The Anti-Pass Bill.

The action of the house of representatives in reconsidering the adverse vote on the anti-pass bill is to be heartily commended.

The sentiment of the house is so clearly in favor of the measure that it may be taken as assured that when a vote does come upon it again, the bill will receive the necessary constitutional majority. It received but two votes less than the constitutional majority in a house with seventeen absentees; without a doubt the additional votes will be secured at the proper time.

The sentiment of the people of Georgia is unmistakably favorable to this legislation and it will not, we feel sure, be long before this bill, or one containing similar provisions, will be placed upon the statute books.

Vladivostok Next.

Although the dispatches convey meager news of activities in the Manchurian field, it seems from late Tokio advices that the campaign against Vladivostok has begun in earnest, despite the rainy season, and that the great Siberian port and fortress is shortly to be invested as was Port Arthur.

The capture of the island of Sakhalin, off the Siberian coast, and the successful detour of a large Japanese force through northern Korea, together with the landing of many Japanese reservists at the nearest Korean port to Vladivostok, may be accepted as preliminary to an attack on the latter place. Oyama, it would seem, will hold Linevitch at bay below Mukden while a sufficient Japanese force invests Vladivostok, which, it is understood, is already closely blockaded by a portion of Togo's fleet.

While the Japanese may not be able to effect the capture of Vladivostok before the peace negotiations are concluded in the United States, the moral effect of a successful invasion of Russian soil will have its effect on the peace treaty that is pretty certain to be concluded late this summer. The Japanese have everything to gain and nothing to lose by continuing the aggressive in the field.

Humanity may compel a quasi-armistice between Oyama and Linevitch, pending the peace pow-wow, but there is better game for the Japs around Vladivostok than even another crushing defeat of the main Russian army. To have captured Sakhalin island, and to cut off Vladivostok by land and sea, will put the island fighters right in line for all that is coming to them in the way of the spoils of war. Otherwise, their claims for a large cash indemnity and the cession of territory might be circumvented by diplomatic technicalities.

It may be, however, that Japan expects to capture Vladivostok before that port is ice-locked late in the season. While the place is quite strongly fortified and garrisoned, it is nothing like the stronghold Port Arthur was. Perhaps, with their wonderful energy, courage and skill, the Japanese can make short work of its reduction. If they capture the place before the peace plenipotentiaries conclude a treaty, it is doubtful if Russia will ever be permitted to hold it again as a fortress, if, indeed, its cession is not demanded by the Japanese.

On this head The New York Globe says:

If we can guess the Japanese policy it is that the danger of Russian aggression in the Far East shall be permanently removed. To this end she seems to purpose that Russia shall be expelled from the Pacific littoral. The cession or neutralization of Vladivostok is a necessary part of the plan. Fearing that M. Witte is not authorized to deliver Vladivostok, the Japanese propose to take it by force. They feel sure that Russia will never be able to effect a recapture.

It will not be surprising, therefore, if the world is reading daily Port Arthur-like accounts of the siege of Vladivostok while the peace negotiations are in progress at Portsmouth, N. H.

China Intervenes.

The Chinese government has taken time by the forelock. In its recent diplomatic note, warning is served that the powers at Pekin will not recognize any agreement Japan and Russia may reach regarding Manchuria unless China is given a voice in the negotiations.

China is placed in the awkward position of the boy who sees his pie about to be parcelled out, without the power to make good any objections he may see fit to raise.

It is probable that nowhere is this impotence realized more keenly than at Pekin. Thus the action of the imperial government may simply be taken as an intimation that it expects the powers to abide by their acceptance of the Hay note. The latter, it will be remembered, practically committed the non-participating nations and partially the belligerents, to the preservation of China's "administrative entity."

From present indications, Japan will dictate the terms of peace. Naturally, the world has more confidence in her justice toward China than it would have of Russia, were she the deciding power.

At the same time, the plaint of China, which rings with a sort of defiant pathos, is none too forehanded. Triumph is a notable upsetter of temperaments and promises. We look to see fair dealing and correct international morals more apparent in the pending Far Eastern negotiations than in previous ones in which unhappy China has figured as the prize; but in view of the many new and conflicting factors, the man who doubts will not be accused of undue cynicism.

"Rip" in Bronze.

From Richmond comes the suggestion of a bronze monument to Joseph Jefferson, to be erected from contributions of American theatergoers.

It would be difficult to imagine a more fitting tribute from the people of this country.

Though he realized full well in the possession of the affection and esteem of the theatergoers of several decades, it is eminently appropriate that Jefferson's career be tangibly commemorated so that those yet to come may appreciate the largeness of his role in our day and time.

He was truly a public benefactor. The dignity, purity and charm with which he invested one of the foremost of our quasi-public institutions, no less than the innocent recreation he has provided thousands of people tired in body and mind, constitute a high claim upon gratitude.

Optimist, apostle of light and unconscious preacher of moral cleanliness, the seal of recognition might well be put upon his usefulness in the manner suggested.

Our Debt to Futurity.

The average man and woman gives little thought to those large problems that involve the health, the strengthening and the advancement of the human family. Busied with personal affairs, the welfare of the mass as a rule is a vague phantom which makes no special impression on the man who is industriously striving to further the interests of himself and the small coterie of individuals whose lives are more or less linked with his own.

And yet, if we may apply the analogy, the race has a constitution and a certain fund of vitality just as has the individual. It is dissipated or lowered or elevated by the conditions which govern the unit and, in the end, its history is that of the majority of its members. The acts of the individual, therefore, reflect themselves on the fate of the race, whether for good or evil. That is why statistics of mortality, of child-birth, of disease are barometers of the condition of a people, collectively speaking; and as such they acquire a fascination higher than the dryness of mere figures and more important as a prophecy than the vague phrases of the lecturer, or the metaphysician.

It has been for a great many years a dream of science to model a perfect race, or one as near perfection as can be compassed in this vale of tears. Two things have stood in the way of such an achievement: modern methods of life, which are often in direct contradiction to the fundamental laws of hygiene and the human element, often weak and willful, ever passionate and impatient of restraint, and with a sublime indifference to such an abstract question as "the good of the race" where its own individual loves and happiness are involved.

For instance, science has contended that humanity could be vastly benefited by a careful selection of the types permitted to marry and reproduce their own kind. It is claimed by those scientists that such a process would eliminate the mentally and physically weak, and by applying to the breeding of people the same scientific restraint observed in the breeding of the lower animals, in time construct a set of beings well-nigh ideal. But when the stern-visaged law has stepped up to the man or woman mentally, morally or physically tainted and forbidden their marriage for "the good of humanity"—the law has abruptly and finally been requested to go about its business. True, in some localities laws have been enacted prohibiting the marriage of persons afflicted with certain diseased tendencies, but the most intelligent of juries have seldom agreed as to the wisdom of challenged matches, and people anxious enough to get married rarely experience much difficulty in circumventing the most ingenious laws.

That is why we are today compelled to take the large factor of heredity into account in finding the reasons for disease, crime and incompetency, which more or less affect the whole mass of population, irrespective of racial or geographical divisions. A prominent English physician discusses this question in a recent issue of The London Daily Mail under the general topic, "Prevention of the Perpetuation of Disease." He acknowledges the helplessness of science in dealing with hereditary influences, intimating that for the present, at least, the race must content itself with the existing inadequate provisions made for its improvement.

He becomes more optimistic, however, in discussing improvement from other quarters. Asserting that at least one-fourth of diseased human conditions can be traced to hereditary agencies, he holds that the remainder can be largely corrected and the weakness of future generations immeasureably improved by careful hygienic regulations. Enlarging on these important particulars, he says:

As tending to develop physique and to foster a resisting power to disease, I would draw attention to the recommendations of the royal commission as to the importance of physical training and feeding. As to the latter, some steps are being taken officially, but not before they were needed. It might be cheaper in the end to provide, as a charge incident to school management, meals and the preparation and cooking of them for children whose parents are too poor to pay for them. Considering that the children of the present generation will be the parents of the next, this would be a wise expenditure if they were enabled to grow into men and women capable of exercising an intelligent and well-balanced control over their appetites, passions, faculties and powers.

Physiology should be regularly taught by competent instructors in every school, for "it is only by instilling into the minds of children from their earliest years, and this is quite possible and feasible, the great leading facts and principles of life and health and sanity, that they can learn how to avoid the pitfalls which they will meet in after years." If any advance is to be made in the improvement of the race by means of deliberate selection, it can only be by a full recognition of the vast importance of the subject, not only on the part of parents and guardians, but on that of the young people themselves.

There can be no question that the American people are rapidly coming to a realization of the value of physical culture, and more especially the outdoor life. The demands of modern life in this country are strenuous; the statement is a platitude, nevertheless true. Whether by natural or artificial process of selection, we are doing much to counteract the injurious effect of twentieth century civilization by our more rational modes of life. In the schools physiology is regularly taught. In town and country, we are each year devoting more attention to those sanitary regulations which, rigidly observed, mean the safeguarding of the health of the masses.

It is evident, however, that we must record yet further progress in this direction before we can lift the general strength of the race to the standard made possible by science. Since, as our English physician remarks, "sick bodies mean sick souls," we can radically decrease our tables of criminology, gradually eliminate racial weakness, and lay up a store of vitality for the future by careful attention to the principles he has outlined.

The thing looks chimerical, and the preservation of strength for a far-off generation rather altruistic; but each are distinctly within the range of sensible possibility and certainly human obligation.

BLIND TIGER BEFORE COURT.

Four Cases Before Recorder Broyles at the Matinee Yesterday.

Judge Broyles went after the "blind tigers" in the police court yesterday afternoon, four different cases of that nature coming up before him for trial.

Dr. R. R. Palmer, who runs a drug store near the corner of Decatur street and Courtland avenue, together with E. S. McAfee, a clerk in the drug store, were bound over under a bond of $200 each on the charge of retailing liquor on Sunday.

Three young men came into the drug store Sunday afternoon. One of them offended one of the clerks, E. S. McAfee, and the three young men engaged in a lively scrap with Dr. Palmer, Dr. W. D. Roper and McAfee, the clerk, the young men coming out considerably battered and scarred.

The young men testified that they went in and called for three drinks of whisky, which they say were poured out in a glass and served them. They said they had done this often before. Dr. Roper was fined $10.75 for disorderly conduct.

Sallie Elliott, a negro woman, was arraigned for retailing liquor on Sunday. It is charged that she ran her establishment at her home, 50 Courtland avenue, and a refrigerator filled with beer and whisky was found in the house. She was fined $50.75 for disorderly conduct, and was bound over for retailing liquor.

J. D. Taylor, an aged negro man, was arraigned on the same charge, Officers Hulsey, Dorsett and Spratling testifying that they had found several tubs of whisky and beer in what Taylor calls an ice house at 112 Edgewood avenue. Taylor bore a good reputation as a worker, and was not bound over. He paid a fine of $15.75.

M. Cohen is charged with the same offense, but his case was postponed until today.

An Ungracious Speech.

(From The New York Tribune.)

"That speech," said Bird S. Coler, anent a political address, "was ungracious. It reminds me of a Scot's speech to his wife.

"The Scot had married for the second time. His new mate was sentimental and a little morbid. She could not resist asking her husband now and then if he loved her better than he had loved her predecessor.

"She would say:

"'Do I more than fill Jean's place in your heart, Jock?'

"'Are ye sure ye're no' regrettin' Jean, laddie?'

"'Jock, do ye loe me better nor her?'

"The man bore several of these examinations patiently. Then he ended them once for all with a gruff:

"'Tak' ma word for it, Betty, if Jean was livin' ye wadna be here.'"

Queen Margaret Buys Capulet House

(Verona Cable to The Chicago Chronicle.)

The auction sale of the Capulet house, which, as tradition says, was the scene of the love making of Romeo and Juliet, has been stopped because of decision taken by the Dowager Queen Margaret to purchase it in her own name and makes a present of it to the Italian government. Already many English and American Shakespearean enthusiasts have arrived with the expressed intention of bidding on the ancient mansion.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA."

In the Summer Blossoms Dim.

I.

He only only seems to be yonder—in the summer blossoms dim:
I see his bright face shinin', an' I'm wavin' my hand to him!
Come home from the misty meadows, where the bees in the red blooms roam:
I am lost in the lonely shadows:—Come home! Come home! Come home!

II.

Once, when my soul was dreaming, I left him there at play,
And the South-Wind whispered, "Follow!"—and the lilies led him away!
And they made him a couch of golden leaves, and daisies white as foam,
And the South-Winds sang him to sleep; and I—am calling: "Come home! Come home!"

III.

He only seems to be yonder, with the blossoms and the birds:
But I'm weary for his comin'—the thrill of his whispered words!
O, South-Wind, cease to lead him where the breeze-blown blossoms roam!
O, Sunflowers, o'er his pathway flame, and light his footsteps home!

* * * * *

Well, there's this consolation in it: The stay-at-home brethren won't have any board bills coming to 'em by freight!

What we're needin', day by day—
Just the strength to walk the way;
Shine, or snowin'—
Reapin', sowin',
Short is still the longest stay!
Just "Good morning,"
Then, "Goodnight"
Trembles in
The gray twilight.

What we're needin', day by day,
Is the tender word to say;
Sad, or sunny,
Hivin' honey
From the flowers along the way.
Life's "Good morning,'
Then, "Goodnight"
Trembles in
The gray twilight.

Curious Lapses.

(From The New York Press.)

One of the ablest mathematicians that ever came out of a commercial college was unable to qualify as an expert accountant because he could not add together 5 and 3 correctly. He made it 7 every time. "I made the mistake when a child," he explains, "and grew up with it. Of course, I know that 5 and 3 make 8, but when in a hurry the sum always goes down as 7, and my balances are worthless." A very clever typewriter is similarly troubled. To save his life he cannot spell "yet" correctly, but always makes it "yeat." Orally—yes, "yet;" but I mean with the machine. There is something uncanny about the way the hand controls itself in typewriting, regardless of the eyesight or the mental operation. In such a case the mere physical act is quicker than thought.

AS TO PREMATURE CAMPAIGNING

(From The Macon Telegraph.)

The Telegraph has consistently and persistently urged the people to nip in the bud these premature political growths which bring upon them hot political campaigns far in advance of their time.

In the years 1897 and 1901 we printed column after column protesting against the "early bird campaign," as we characterized it. Nor were we alone in making this protest. On April 30th, 1897, the Atlanta Journal said:

"The candidates for governor of Georgia who are already actively at work for an honor which will be bestowed more than a year hence would do well to ponder over the parable of the man who started to run a mile away from a creek which he wanted to leap over."

Again, on May 14, 1897, the Atlanta Journal said:

The Elberton Star says as "it will be a year from next October before the people of Georgia will be called upon to choose another governor," it can see no good reason "why the public should be importuned and tormented by candidates and friends of candidates for this office."

There are many who agree with The Star on that point, and who will indorse its statement, that while there are several candidates already in the field, "there is no boom for anybody for governor."

The Star also hits the right line when it says:

"Intelligent citizens will be slow to commit themselves to any candidate nearly eighteen months in advance of an election.

"Neither the democratic party nor the state of Georgia exists for the benefit of any individual or the gratification of his ambition, and when it comes to nominate and elect a governor, it should stand little to the credit of any candidate that he has pranced all over the state speaking for the prize, buttonholing influential citizens and promising honors with the recklessness which always characterizes the hungry office-seeker.

"When the time comes to elect a governor, the people of Georgia will have sense enough to choose a good one, and in the convention which will pick the winner, the representatives of the people will not be confined to the list of self-nominated candidates. The fact that a man wants an office is one of the weakest evidences that he is worthy of it. It might be a good thing for Georgia to leave the professional office-seekers alone for once and call upon some plain citizen of good qualifications to take the governor's chair."

The Journal has more than once called attention to the fact that there is plenty of time yet in which to find the right man to succeed Governor Atkinson, and we are glad that the premature agitation on this subject is attracting very little attention and is received with small interest by the public.

"This is an off year in politics and the people don't want to be bothered by politicians for many months to come.

As a result of the move against the too-early campaign, which The Telegraph and The Journal in particular made, the state convention last year unanimously adopted a resolution directing the state executive committee not to call the next state primary before July 10, 1906.

Several weeks ago the Atlanta Journal spoke feelingly of the "time" when years it "felt the touch of The Tele graph's soulder" in political work. We are now referring to that "time." Speaking for itself The Telegraph has not changed front, nor run away from the old alignment.

The Telegraph has always admired Hoke Smith, who was in those days owner and editor of the Atlanta Journal. The Telegraph admires him now, and is his friend. We regret that the point of view has undergone a change in this particular. For some weeks has been campaigning the state, and neither of those several gentlemen are expected to formally enter the field opposing him, except as newspaper partisans take up the gage of battle.

We concede to Mr. Smith the right to chance his position, and we also concede to him the right to go out into the state and speak to those who will assemble to hear him—it is simply a matter of opinion between us—but we still believe that the farmers ought to be allowed to gather this year's crop and prepare the next one before they are lured away from their work by barbecues and the high order of eloquence with which Mr. Smith is gifted. To use his own words again, "This is an off year in politics, and the people don't want to be bothered by politicians for many months to come." If the hustlings are left to Mr. Smith, as is now the case, it would not be so bad. But when he is moving the political waters, others will plunge in. In fact, he is calling to one of them to enter now. We expect Mr. Howell any day. That one is Mr. Estill, Judge Russell and other Smith, and their lieutenants and backers. Behind the list of entries the great prize will line up candidates for state house offices, for judgeships, solicitorships, and for other state and county offices. Before the dog days wane in this "off year," and "the hue is on the pumpkin," there will be a mass of hot-footed candidates scuffling in the shifting sand, and pestering the people, that is, if a halt is not called.

These suggestions are made, not in the remotest way in behalf of the interests of any candidate, but for the sake of peace among the people. As among the candidates for governor now posted or announced, and those probable or possible, The Telegraph has no choice. It has always believed that a good newspaper has a higher mission than to become the personal organ of an individual in a party primary. If ultimately The Telegraph takes a hand in the struggle of next year, it will be upon issues which may come into the contest, not men. So far one platform only has been promulgated. We shall wait to see the others before we proceed to get excited.

Meanwhile let us keep cool and let wisdom grow.

CLAIMS OF LAMAR COUNTY ARE HEARD BY COMMITTEE

"LAMAR" county, formerly known as "Griggs," was the first case heard by the house and senate committees on new counties at yesterday's session. It was by desire of Congressman Griggs that the name of the proposed new county was changed to "Lamar," in honor of the late Hon. L. Q. C. Lamar.

Judge H. C. Sheffield, W. D. Sheffield, an attorney of Arlington, and others appeared to urge the claims of Lamar county.

It is proposed to create Lamar county from portions of Early, Calhoun and Baker counties. The taxable property of the proposed new county was given at $1,310,259; area 227 square miles; population 7,500.

E. L. Hudson, of Baker county, testified in regard distances from the county site, stating that the distances were too far to go to court. He also testified as to the sentiment of the people, stating that the people in the affected section favored the new county of "Lamar."

F. C. Taylor, of Early, also testified in regard to the considerable distances to the present county site.

R. H. Bostick proved an interesting witness for the new county. In a quick, positive manner he answered the questions put to him by Judge Sheffield. Distances were far and people in section affected were unanimous in wanting the new county.

Representative Smith, of Calhoun county, appeared in opposition to the new county. While he agreed with Judge Sheffield that the people in the new county all favored the new county, but that the other sections of the county were unanimously opposed to it. The county of Calhoun did not need the county.

Representative Johnson, of Baker, was opposed to the new county on the ground that the taking away of this large section of Baker would impoverish the county. He stated that the county of Baker at present was not one of the strongest financially. Another contention of Mr. Johnson was that the population of the section proposed to be cut off was composed largely of whites. He stated that the proportion of negroes and whites at present was 5 to 1 in favor of the negroes, and that if the new county was formed as proposed it would leave the population about 10 to 1 in favor of the negroes.

Representative Park, of Early, appeared against the new county, contending that it would materially injure his county and that the people in the section affected did not want the new county. He contended that all the counties affected were small, and the proposed new county was not wanted.

Colonel J. L. Boynton, of Calhoun county, appeared against the new county, representing the interests of the three counties affected.

Judge Boynton said there was no necessity for the new county by reason of the fact that all the counties were small and at present were what might be called "pauper" counties. He submitted figures to show that his county received at present more money from the state treasury than it paid into the state treasury. He stated that Calhoun county received from the state $33,048.19 and paid into the state treasury $22,257.86, showing a difference of over $10,000 dollars.

Mr. Hall asked Judge Boynton if this made "pauper" counties, then were there not many pauper counties in the state? He replied that over a hundred of the counties of the state were in this condition.

When Judge Boynton closed Mr. Hall thanked him for appearing before the committee, and stated that it was the first instance since the committee began its sitting that all the time allowed to one side was not taken up.

Senator Odom, of the ninth district, Baker county, intended to speak against the new county, but yielded his time to Judge Boynton.

Judge Sheffield closed for the proposed new county in a strong speech, arguing for creation of the new county, because the people in the territory affected favored the new county, and there would practically no harm being done to the old counties affected.

Both Senator Wheatley and Mr. Hall wanted to know about the bonded debt of Baker. Judge Sheffield replied that of the $40,000 bonded debt all but $10,000 money was still in the county treasury, and that the people in the proposed new county had in taxes added $10,000 to pay it, and they were willing for Baker to keep all this and use it as Baker county saw fit.

"Toombs" county was next taken up by the committee. Colonel Will Clifton appeared for the new county and opened with a strong speech. He said that of all the propositions for new counties that of the county of Toombs was the most reasonable. He said that representatives from both Tattnall and Montgomery favored the proposition, as well as one of the senators from the districts affected.

Colonel Tom Eason, of McRae, represented the new county, conducting the questioning of witnesses who favored the new county.

G. C. Jones, an attorney at law of the county site of the proposed new county, then introduced affidavits as to statements as to population, taxable property, etc.

The proposed new county will contain about 580 or 600 square miles. The estimated taxable property was given at $1,737,127. The population of the proposed new county was given at about 12,000 or 15,000.

J. Kelley, of Tatnall county, made a speech in opposition to the creation of Toombs county. He declared that the people of Tatnall county were a unit against the proposition to have any of their land cut off in order to form another county.

S. P. Smith, a prominent citizen of Tatnall county, spoke strongly in opposition to the proposed new county. Mr. Smith said that he had not seen two men in the section of the county from which he resided that were in favor of the new county of Toombs.

Colonel H. H. Elder, county attorney of Tatnall, argued against the formation of the new county. He declared that it would thwart the progress of Tattnall county. He saw no logical reason for taking away any of Tatnall's territory.

After the conclusion of Colonel Elder's speech, the committee adjourned, to meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock, on motion of Senator Rose.

ANTI-PASS BILL DEAD FOR PRESENT SESSION

Was Reconsidered Yesterday Morning After a Brief Debate.

HOUSE GOES ON RECORD OPPOSING SHIP SUBSIDY

Resolution Memorializing Congress To Encourage Merchant Marine So as To Find New Markets for South's Products Is Passed.

Again the anti-free pass bill by Mr. Hall, of Bibb, stands upon the calendar of the house, awaiting its turn. Defeated on Friday for the lack of two votes, the house yesterday reconsidered its action, after a brief debate, by a vote of 72 to 66. The friends of the measure promised that it would not be brought up again at the present session.

Mr. Hall moved a reconsideration of the anti-pass bill immediately after the reading of the journal.

"The bill will take its place at the foot of the calendar, if reconsidered, and will not and cannot come up again at this session," Mr. Hall said. "I will go so far as to say if the bill should be reached on the calendar at this session, I will move to table it. That is all I can say."

Mr. Anderson, of Chatham, leader of the opposition, spoke strongly against reconsideration, on the ground that too much time had already been consumed in debating the bill. He declared it would be unjust to the legislation proposed by other members, which was entitled to consideration. The bill had already had a fair hearing and should stand as defeated by the house, he said.

Mr. Wright, of Richmond, who was one of the measure's advocates, made an urgent appeal for reconsideration.

On the call of the yeas and nays several members explained their votes, and some of those who voted against the bill, were recorded in favor of reconsideration.

On the announcement of the vote it was seen the anti-pass bill had been reconsidered by a majority of six votes, the vote standing 72 to 66.

While it is again before the house, the bill, as stated will be heard from no more at this session.

Against Ship Subsidy.

By a vote of 97 to 5 the house passed the resolution by Mr. Smith, of Greene, memorializing congress to encourage the American merchant marine so as to find new markets for the south's cotton goods, particularly in South America.

All objection to the resolution, practically, was withdrawn upon the adoption of the following amendment by Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb:

"Provided that nothing in these resolutions shall be construed as approving any ship subsidy or any other special privilege, to all which schemes we are unalterably opposed and against which we protest as wanting in the necessary qualities of a square deal."

More Money Is Given.

The committee on general appropriations at its meeting yesterday morning, made slight increases in two appropriations. The maintenance fund given to the State Normal school, at Athens, and to the Georgia Normal and Industrial college, at Milledgeville, was increased from $22,500 to $25,000 in each case. All other sections of the bill so far passed on, remain the same as last year. The trustees of the state sanitarium, at Milledgeville, who are asking an increased appropriation for that institution, will be heard by the committee today.

Railroad Bill Passed.

The house passed by a vote of 88 to 0 the bill by Mr. Steed, of Carroll, to extend the powers of the railroad commission, so as to give that body the authority to require railroads to receive, receipt for and forward at once all freight tendered to them for shipment. This measure is quite an important one, as the railroad commission is now without power to require railroads to act promptly in the transportation of freight. The bill received 87 votes and Speaker Slaton's vote in its favor gave it the required constitutional majority, and it now goes over to the senate.

Game and Fish Committee.

The speaker appointed under the resolution of Mr. Calvin, of Richmond, the following standing committee on game and fish:

Mr. Calvin of Richmond, chairman; Mr Hardman of Jackson, vice chairman; Messrs. Boykin, Williken, Martin, Hoyes, Powell, Bush, Longley, George, Grovenstein, McElmurry, Sutton, Dougherty, Edwards, Duckett, Donalson, Davis of Bibb, Thorne, Blackburn, Barkesdale, Ramsay of Jefferson, Humber, Wilson of Sumter and Wilcox.

Bills Passed by House.

The house passed the following bills and resolutions:

By Mr. Rose of Upson—To grant to the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union the use of the hall of the house of representatives on October 11, 1905.

By Messrs. Barkesdale and Wooten of Wilkes—To abolish the city court of Washington in Wilkes county; also a bill to create the city court of Washington.

By Mr. Little of Hancock—To abolish the county court of Hancock county, and to create the city court of Sparta.

By Mr. Cook of Oconee—To incorporate the town of Bogart.

By Mr. Calvin of Richmond—To create a new standing committee of the house, to be known as the committee on game and fish.

By Mr. McLennan of Telfair—To repeal an act establishing the city court of McRae; also a bill to establish the city court of McRae.

By Mr. Bush of Miller—To repeal an act to establish the county court of Miller county; also to create the city court of Miller county.

By Messrs. Martin and Adams of Elbert—To amend the charter of the city of Elberton.

By Mr. Mitcham of Clayton—To repeal an act creating the city court of Jonesboro.

By Mr. Lumpkin of Sumter—To provide for the election of the judge and solicitor of the city court of Americus by the people, after the expiration of the terms of the incumbents.

By Messrs. McElmurray and Davis of Burke—To amend the act providing for a board of county commissioners for Burke county.

By Mr. Longley of Troup—To amend the act creating the city court of LaGrange.

By Messrs. Mayson and Alexander of DeKalb—To amend the charter of the town of Edgewood.

By Mr. Seymour of Whitfield—To establish the city court of Dalton.

By Mr. Callaway of Lee—To provide for working the convicts of Lee county upon the streets of any city or town in the county.

Bills Introduced.

The following new bills and resolutions were introduced in the house:

By Messrs. Stovall, Anderson and Lawrence of Chatham—To exempt state, county and municipal bonds from taxation.

By Messrs. Davis and Felder of Bibb—To authorize Bibb county's commissioners to contribute $5,000 annually to the Macon city hospital.

By Mr. Connor of Bartow—To amend the charter of Adairsville.

By Messrs. Anderson, Stovall and Lawrence of Chatham—To regulate the compensation of stenographers in the courts of Chatham county.

By Mr. Perry of Hall—To require the railroad companies of the state to transport all members of the legislature free of charge while in the discharge of their duties.

By Mr. Flanders of Johnson—To incorporate the Wrightsville school district.

By Mr. Longino of Campbell—To require all passenger trains to stop at all county sites through which they pass.

By Messrs. Saffold and Rountree of Emanuel—To abolish the charter of the town of Stillmore; to incorporate the city of Stillmore; and to amend the charter of Swainsboro.

By Mr. Mann of Catoosa—To require railroads to pay for all live stock killed by them.

By Messrs. Cook of Oconee; Nolan of Henry, and Wright of Floyd—To create the new county of "Stephens" from the counties of Gwinnett, Watson and Jackson with Winder as the county site.

By Mr. Wright of Richmond—To regulate the examination of the state pension rolls.

By Mr. Owen of Pike—To provide for the payment of salaries to the county commissioners of Pike county.

CAPTAIN COBB PASSES AWAY.

Breathes Last at Home in Villa Rica.

Villa Rica, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Captain John M. Cobb died at his residence in town yesterday morning, after a painful illness of more than a year's duration. Captain Cobb was one of the most prominent citizens of Carroll county.

He always took an active interest in political and county afairs. He served through the war between the states, and at the close was captain of Company I, Fifty-sixth Georgia. He was justice of peace for about twenty-five years; a prominent primitive Baptist, and served as clerk of the Tallapoosa association for many years.

He leaves a wife and three daughters, Mrs. H. H. Connell, of Douglasville, Ga.; Mrs. C. H. Hyde, of Cordele, Ga.; Miss Laura Cobb, of Villa Rica, and three sons, Mr. Isaac E. Cobb, of Brenau, Ga.; Mr. Albert T. Cobb, of Villa Rica, and Mr. William Cobb, of Eastman, Ga.

The funeral took place today at 3 p. m. from Pleasant Grove church, and his body was intered in the beautiful cemetery near the church.

TAFT PARTY IS WELCOMED.

Count Okuma Recalls What United States Has Been to Japan.

Tokio, July 24, 6:30 p. m.—The Hochi, Count Okuma's newspaper, tomorrow will publish a leading article welcoming the Taft party and gratefully recalling what the United States has been to the Japanese since the time of Commodore Perry—an unerring guide and friend. The policy of the United States toward Japan, the article will say, has been an unbroken record of kindly assistance, politically and commercially. In fact, in all departments of the progress of modern Japan, America's help is clearly traceable. Especially President Roosevelt's successful endeavor in bringing the peace plenipotentiaries together adds a memorable chapter to the already magnificent record of America's invaluable aid to Japan.

The paper regrets that the shortness of the party's stay will not admit of an adequate manifestation of the general feeling of gratitude and appreciation toward the government and people to which the distinguished party belongs.

The Hochi leader is typical of the feeling throughout the empire.

SEEKS TO AMEND BANKING LAWS

Important Measures Presented To Senate by Mr. McHenry.

Would Make Additional Security Necessary Upon Loans to Officers of Banks — Senator Furr's Track-Hound Bill Passed Yesterday.

Two important bills relating to the banking laws of the state were introduced in the senate by Senator McHenry yesterday.

The one which will likely attract much attention relates to loans to officers of the bank. This measure seeks to amend section 1914 of the code of 1895 providing for additional security on loans to bank officers.

The bill provides that a loan exceeding ten per cent of the capital stock of the bank shall not be made until approved by the majority of the directors of the bank, "evidenced by their signatures in writing."

Senator McHenry's other measure seeks to create a lien against the assets of banks in favor of holders of receipts for collateral sent for collection and remittance to holders of receipts.

Hound Bill Passed.

Senator Furr's bill providing for the purchase of hounds by the different counties of the state for the purpose of tracking criminals was passed by the senate yesterday.

When this measure was put upon its passage Senator Bond of the Thirteenth district immediately took the floor and in a strong speech favored its passage. He contended that it was one of the most important measures before the general assembly, and that its passage would tend to lessen crime in the state.

Senator Rose of the Fourth district also spoke in favor of the bill, citing an instance which came under his personal observation when track hounds would have been of inestimable service to his county.

Senator Hand of the Eighth district favored the bill, but moved that the word "bloodhound" be stricken and "trackhound" substituted, contending that bloodhounds are not suitable for tracking criminals in this part of the country on account of the climate. Bloodhounds, he said, could not do the work in a hot climate. His substitute was adopted.

Senator Crum also spoke in favor of the bill.

The bill as amended was passed almost unanimously, only two votes being recorded against it.

New Bills.

The following new bills were introduced in the senate yesterday:

By Senator Westbrook—A bill to extend the corporate limits of the town of Albany.

By Senator Westbrook—A bill to provide for the paving of streets in the city of Albany.

By Senator McHenry—A bill to fix liability of common carriers on bills of lading issued and in the hands of bona fide holders for value.

By Senator McHenry—A bill to amend section 1914 of the code of 1895 providing for additional security on loans to bank officers.

By Senator McHenry—A bill to create a lien against the assets of banks in favor of holders of receipts for collaterals sent for collection and remittance to holders of said receipts.

Bills Passed.

By Senator Furr—A bill to provide for the purchase of bloodhounds by the sheriffs of the several counties of the state.

By Senator Peyton—A Bill to amend an act establishing the city court of Hartwell.

TO HOLD FARMERS' INSTITUTE

At Commerce on the Farm of W. L. Williamson.

Gainesville, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—There will be a farmers' institute at Commerce on August 4 on the farm of W. L. Williamson, conducted under the auspices of the state experiment station. Addresses will be made by Professor W. J. Spillman, agriculturist, United States department of agriculture, and by prominent men from the state institution. The farm of Mr. Williamson is one of the very best dairy farms in the south.

The addresses will be made along the line of work followed by Mr. Williamson and his farm will be used in demonstrating these methods. Every effort will be put forth to make this one of the best farmers' institutes of the season.

Chicago July, 24.—A complete settlement with the creditors of the bankrupt stock and grain brokerage firm of Knight, Donnelly and company hinges upon the immediate assignment and waiver of all claims upon a basis of 27 per cent to be paid about August 15. Letters were addressed to creditors today asking settlement on this basis.

Mead's Perfection

Rye Coffee

Rye Coffee, in some European countries, is so universally used that Coffee of any other kind is but little known. It is a noticeable fact that in sections of the world where Rye is freely used, both as a food and drink (non-alcoholic), a very healthy condition exists, and rarely, if ever, are such sections visited with epidemics of any kind.

PERFECTION RYE COFFEE is just what its name implies, "PERFECTION." It is a perfect hygenic product, containing the whole kernel of carefully selected Rye and other Cereals scientifically manufactured and skillfully blended.

It does not contain any chicory or other Coffee seasonings and substitutes, neither is there any chaff or screenings in it. While it has the delicate flavor of Mocha & Java Coffee, it is unlike these Coffees, in that it does not irritate the nerves nor produce biliousness. It positively aids digestion, is easily assimilated by the weakest stomach, and assists nature generally. It is a boon—if there is such a thing to the dyspeptic—and specially recommended for Kidney difficulties.

It is in every sense a pure Health-Food. It looks like coffee, tastes like coffee, smells like coffee, but is not coffee.

COMMITTEE HAS VOTED TO REVISE CRIMINAL LAW

THE resolution by Mr. Perry, of Hall, providing for a joint commission from the house, senate and Georgia Bar association, to consider a revision of the criminal laws of the state, will go to the house with the favorable recommendation of the general judiciary committee.

When this resolution was brought up before the committee yesterday afternoon Mr. Hall, of Bibb, stated that he did not consider that the criminal laws of Georgia needed revision, but after a short address on the subject by Judge George Hillyer, of Atlanta, Mr. Hall stated that he would withdraw his opposition to a favorable recommendation.

Judge Hillyer said in substance that the present defects in the criminal laws were responsible for the prevalence of lynchings and that the chief defect was the exaltation of the authority and power of juries to the hurt of the authority of the judge.

Besides the resolution just mentioned about a dozen bills were given favorable reports, some of these being important. Among them was the bill by Mr. Wright, of Richmond, providing that the two new trustees, to reside out of the state, be added to the board of trustees of the University of Georgia. Mr. Wright stated that this bill was introduced at the request of the board of trustees of the university and that he had understood its main object was to secure a means of placing George Foster Peabody, the educational philanthropist, on the board.

The bill by Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton providing that the superior court of this county hold six terms instead of two annually was given a favorable report, as was the bill by Mr. Perry, of Hall, providing that service of a suit on an agent of a lessee company shall constitute service of the lessor company in litigation against railroads.

Other Favorable Reports.

The other bills given favorable reports were:

By Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton—To require industrial insurance companies doing business in this state to make a deposit with the comptroller general.

By Mr. Perry, of Hall—To provide for fast bills of exceptions in certain cases.

By Mr. Overstreet, of Screven—To amend section 3,771 of the code.

By Mr. Jenkins, of Putnam—To amend section 3,250 of the code.

By Mr. Overstreet, of Screven—To repeal section 2,763 of the code.

By Mr. Wright, of Richmond—To regulate salaries of judges of the superior courts in counties containg a city having a population of not less than 34,000 nor more than 75,000 people.

By Mr. Wright, of Richmond—A similar bill in regard to judges of city court's.

By Messrs. Stovall, Anderson and Lawrence, of Chatham—To regulate scalaries of court stenographers in counties containing a city of not less than 75,000 inhabitants.

Sub-Committees Named.

A number of special sub-committees were appointed by Chairman Wright to consider different bills. These appointments were:

Messrs. Matthews, Christopher and Mann, of Catoosa, to consider a bill by Mr. Christopher requiring all sheriffs to keep and maintain bloodhounds.

Messrs. Longley, Donaldson and Branch to consider a bill by Mr. Longino, of Campbell, to prohibit the sale of any kind of drinks within a mile of Bethsaida church in Campbell county.

Messrs. Hines, Little and Wise, to consider a bill by Mr. George, of Morgan, to regulate the treatment of dependent and indigent children.

Messrs. Lawrence, Covington and Lumpkin, of Sumter, to consider a bill by Mr. Parker, of Appling, making it a misdemeanor to sell cut rate railroad tickets on Sunday.

Messrs. Overstreet, Blackburn and Fraser to consider a bill by Mr. Russell, of Muscogee, to amend a law relating to making affidavits in another state for use in this state.

Messrs. Flynt, Alexander and Longley, to consider a bill by Mr. King, of Newton, regulating the carrying of weapons.

Messrs. Berry, Lawrence, Person and Griffin, to consider a bill by Messrs. Green and Griffin, of Cobb, to amend sections 5,432 and 4,095 of the code.

Messrs. Land, Overstreet, to consider three bills by Mr. Overstreet; one making proper index of deeds, notice notice to innocent parties, another regulating the carrying of weapons and the third to provide for the payment of fees in felony cases.

Messrs. Perry, Persons and Lawrence, to consider a bill by Mr. Berry requiring defendants, setting up new matter in defense to do so by paragraphed pleading to which the plaintiff must answer.

The committee adjourned about 6 o'clock to meet again at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at which session the following bills will be special orders:

By Mr. Flynt, of Spalding, to provide for the recovery of damage in cases of the homicide of unmarried persons, and by Mr. Wright, of Floyd, to amend section 2,778, of the code.

Pension Committee.

Three bills, one of them being that to require a census of confederate veterans and their widows, were given favorable reports by the pension committee yesterday. The bill mentioned is by Mr. Milliken, of Wayne, and provides that the census shall be taken by tax collectors.

Another of the trio of bills passed on was that by Mr. Hines, of Baldwin, providing that veterans and widows shall be permitted to file at any time their proofs to the right to pensions. The third bill was that by Mr. Longino, of Campbell, to pay a pension to L. D. Bell Isle, of Campbell.

Mr. Wilcox's Speech.

Inasmuch as all the newspapers of Atlanta in one way or another misquoted my speech on Friday, July 21, while speaking in favor of the passage of the state anti-pass bill, therefore I owe it to the railroads and myself to be set right in the eyes of the public, hence I take this method of doing so. My speech in substance was as follows:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Representatives: I heartily agree with the gentleman from Chatham that much valuable time has gone to waste over the discussion of this bill, for we have spent practically four days on this measure and no little of the speaking has been simply playing on words and a display of oratory. Now I come before you as a practical business man and as the gentleman from Chatham has just stated, that those favoring the bill had not given one good reason why the bill should pass. Now, as I see it, there are two fundamental reasons why the bill should pass, and in stating these reasons I will state facts which I can prove if needs be. My first reason is that the railroads in issuing these passes do it expressly and for no other purpose except to influence legislation in their favor. In fact, I was yesterday told by an attorney who for seven years had the pass-issuing power of a certain Georgia railroad that the railroad officials in discussing this matter among themselves made no effort to conceal the fact that these free passes were given to influence legislation, and I am further informed that a certain Atlanta attorney who once had the power to have free passes issued to members of the general assembly over a certain railroad in Georgia stated one day this week that on one occasion he was instructed not to issue annuals but to issue trip passes, so that the different members would have to come in person to him for these favors, and in this way he could get in closer touch with them. I am a traveling salesman in South Georgia, and during my trips I see mayors of your towns, aldermen, justices of the peace, sheriffs and bailiffs riding on free passes and nearly every attorney has a pass over some railroad, and most of the members of the general assembly are sent annuals. Also I know of lawyers who live forty miles from the Southern railroad who are yearly retained as counsel for this road and given annuals over all their lines of road, and I never heard of these lawyers handling a case for the Southern, and in all probability they never will.

Also there sits on this floor a member of this general assembly who lives seventy miles from the nearest point to the Southern railroad, and he happened not to be a lawyer and yet he was offered an annual retainer fee by an agent of the Southern railroad.

Now do the railroads love us to this extent? The gentlemen who oppose this measure say that these passes are given simply through courtesy. Gentlemen, to my mind such a reason is baby talk. My record on this subject is not as good as the venerable gentleman from White, for during my term of service as state senator in 1900 and 1901 I used a free pass, but during that time I became convinced of the evil of the system, and from this time on as long as my mind stays clear and my head stays hot I will never use one again while on duty as a public servant.

The use of passes over all the railroads I travel would save me during the year between two and five hundred dollars annually, about one-fourth of what it takes to support my family. Now I am proud to say that God Almighty has endowed me with a good stock of that noble virtue called gratitude, and if I annually receive from any individual or corporation between two and five hundred dollars annually, I could not help leaning their way just a little; therefore I owe it to myself, the commonwealth and the railroads not to ride on free passes; hence I am heartily in favor of the bill.

B. E. WILCOX.

Mr. Goodbee's Position.

Editor Constitution: In your report on the hearing of Dixie county before the new county committee last Friday, your reporter did me an injustice, which, I am sure, you will correct. The report stated in part: "Mr. Godbee and J. W. Sandeford, of Burke county, wanted to come into the new county and complained because the proposed new line left them out." I could stand "all this," if your valuable paper only had a circulation among blind asylums, deaf and dumb institutions, and the inhabitants of the North Pole, but, my dear sir, The Constitution has a big circulation in Burke county, and such a report scattered among my friends there would lead them to think that I had "flew the track" on the agreed lines between Burke and Dixie, or that the advocates of Dixie here had "kicked me out," and I was trying to get back. Take either horn of the dilemma, they both are full of "blue mud." The facts are these: I am one of the Dixie committee and presented her claims to the new county committee last Friday, in which I showed that Burke county, by agreement, had given us nearly 200 square miles of valuable lands, 8,317 people and $700,000 worth of taxable wealth. I don't blame Mr. Sandeford for trying to "get in." I would not think strange of Atlanta trying to "get in" on this snap. In praise to old Burke, and in justice to her magnanimous, progressive and liberal citizens, I wish to say, if you will show me where another county, without a murmur of objection has come forward in this new county making and freely given up 200 miles of rich lands, 8,317 people, $700,000 worth of taxable wealth and 25 miles of railroads, you may have my fishing pole and bait cup. Burke has always been a leader, and will carry the banner in the front ranks of this Greater Georgia movement. I wish to state that I live at Millen, I am not trying to "get in," I am "in there hare" already—I have a tingling sensation of this fact, when the city collector calls for taxes. The citizens of Millen, therefore, need me, and are not trying to "oust me." I wish to say I am against Mr. Sandeford's "get in," because Burke county has given all the territory for the convenience of the most people that she is able or expected to give, and I and the rest of our committee do not want the lines agreed on in the least disturbed. I thank you in behalf our county and people for your valuable and friendly service which was so liberally given to Dixie county. I know your reporter did not make the mistake intentionally.

HALZMAN FLED TO PANAMA.

Absconding Broker Is Located by Misdirected Letter.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 24.—Through a misdirected letter, Ross Holzman, the broker, who disappeared from this city some time ago, is now known to be in Panama. Holzman left the city after his firm had gone into bankruptcy, but while it was still thought that the assets would about equal the liabilities. After his departure it was discovered that the liabilities would very greatly exceed the assets. An effort will be made at once to more definitely locate Holzman.

CITY HALL BONDS ARE TURNED DOWN

Council Declines to Request Permission to Issue Them.

Resolution Concerning Water Works Bonds Go Through with Rush, and the Legislature Will Be Asked for Permission To Issue $500,000.

City hall bonds will not be issued by Atlanta, and the people will not be asked to vote for them. This was decided upon during the session of the general council yesterday afternoon. The resolution to request permission of the legislature to issue bonds for the erection of a city hall was voted down.

The resolution providing for an issue of $500,000 of water works bonds and requesting the legislature to grant permission to the people to vote upon the question, was adopted.

This year, therefore, citizens will vote for only one issue of bonds, for $500,000 instead of $1,000,000, and the $500,000 will be spent entirely in the improvement of the water works system.

The amendment to the city bill before the legislature, which will provide for authority to issue bonds, will be prepared by City Attorney Mayson as soon as Mayor Woodward has given his approval to the resolution adopted by council yesterday afternoon, and concurred in later during the afternoon by the aldermanic board.

The principal speech against the water bond resolution was made by Councilman Quillian, who stated that under the present laws it would be necessary to put into the sinking fund immediately one-thirtieth of the $500,000, or about $17,000, and continue putting aside this $17,000 for a period of thirty years. Interest on the $500,000 at 4 per cent, he declared, would be $20,000 per annum, making a total of about $37,000 per annum that the city would have to pay out on account of issuing $500,000 of bonds. He suggested putting the $37,000 per annum into water works improvements for a few years instead of issuing bonds.

The motion of Councilman Quillian, however, was lost, and he declared to members of council that he would give his hearty support to the water bond issue.

The City Hall Bonds.

Opposition to the city hall bonds was started by former Councilman Martin F. Amorous, who had been invited to a seat within the council railing, a courtesy that was also extended to former Councilman Courtland S. Winn.

Mr. Amorous declared he opposed the city hall bonds because he believed they would lessen the chances of the water works bonds.

"I think," he said, "that you can get the postoffice building for a city hall. The government needs a substation on this side of town, and the present city hall is excellently adapted. You can get the government to exchange buildings with you, particularly as the land upon which the present government building is located was donated by the city of Atlanta."

Alderman Holland agreed with Mr. Amorous.

"I am afraid," he said, "that the city hall bonds were put in to kill the water works bonds, and a great many persons agree with me."

Councilman Patterson said the city hall bonds and the water works bonds were not coupled. He wanted permission to have the people vote upon the question.

A motion by Alderman Girardeau to table the city hall bond resolution was lost.

Councilman Carter declared that he favored a handsome, commodious and ornamental city hall, but he believed it would be impossible to have the people authorize $1,000,000 of bonds at one time. He thought the waterworks bonds much the more pressing, and he had therefore changed his mind upon the city hall bonds. He would vote against the issue.

Shortly afterwards the city hall bonds were lost by a vote of four to eight.

Suggested Increase in Pay.

During the session of council yesterday Councilman Bowen presented a resolution increasing the pay of aldermen and councilmen from $300 to $600 per annum and increasing the pay of the mayor pro tem from $300 to $800 per annum with the proviso that he act as recorder during the absence of the recorder from the city. By a vote of 9 to 6 the resolution was referred to the ordinance committee.

Mayor Woodward sent to council the appointment of Joseph B. Hewitt as assistant license inspector. Councilman Quillian called attention to the fact that the aldermanic board had not acted upon the measure creating the office and that the appointment was therefore premature. Mayor Pro Tem Harwell sustained the point of order.

Alderman Girardeau moved that the action of council in creating the office of assistant inspector be reconsidered, and his motion was adopted, 10 to 16.

Upon motion of Councilman Goodwin the resolution creating the new office was referred to the ordinance committee.

During the session of yesterday Councilman Pattillo and Quillian presented a resolution providing for a bond issue of $250,000 for the construction of the Washington street viaduct, but before it was voted upon it was withdrawn.

Another issue was proposed by Councilman Goodwin. It provided for $250,000 of bonds for the construction and equipment of a municipal electric lighting plant. The resolution was lost under a viva voce vote.

An ordinance which makes city ordinances conform to the act affecting money lenders recently adopted by the general assembly was introduced towards the heel of the session by the tax committee, of which Alderman Hirsch is chairman, and it was adopted. It requires a $500 bond from all money lenders, makes them register and provides for a set of books upon which a complete record of all transactions must be entered.

THEATERS.

The Casino.

The Wills Comedy Company presented "A Trip to Atlantic City" at the Ponce de Leon Casino last evening. The play has the run of the week at the popular amusement park.

The Wills company is about the same quality as others that have presented musical comedies to Atlanta audiences this summer. It is below the standard of last week and for that reason many of the first nighters were disappointed.

There were several pleasing features to the performance of last evening, however, among them several songs by the chorus and some clever dancing by the comedian.

ATLANTAN ON BENNINGTON.

Wesley M. Taylor, of This City, Was Among Those Killed by Explosion.

Among the gunboat Bennington's dead, is Wesley M. Taylor, formerly of Atlanta. He was scalded to death when the boilers of the ill-fated vessel exploded in the harbor at San Diego, Cal.

The deceased was a son of Thomas M. Taylor, of 165 Gilmer street, and was a brother of Mrs. Evelyn T. Behenna, of 41 North Moore street.

Dispatches have been sent to San Diego, by the Atlanta relatives of the deceased, requesting that the body be brought to Atlanta for burial. It is believed that the body will be brought to Atlanta in about two or three weeks.

Wesley M. Taylor was about 28 years of age, and was born and reared in Atlanta. He had been a member of the navy nearly ten years.

A peculiar coincidence in connection with the death of Mr. Taylor, is the fact that Thomas M. Taylor, Jr., a younger brother of the deceased escaped from death, very narrowly about two years ago, while serving in the navy. The vessel on which he was serving was in the harbor at Santa Barbara, when the anchor chain broke, and he was caught under its coils. He was partially disabled for life by the accident.

NINE WOMEN ARE STABBED.

Police Barracks Resembled a Hospital for Several Hours Last Evening.

The police station looked like a hospital last night, no less than nine negro women having been stabbed between 6 o'clock in the evening and 9:30 o'clock.

Some of the women were wounded by men, but most of them suffered at the hands of members of their own sex and race.

One negro woman was stabbed in the back about 8 o'clock last night, the assaliant running away, leaving a long ugly dagger sticking in the victim's back. She was taken to a near-by drug store and her wounds were dressed.

Anotherne gro woman was more seriously injured. Her name is Pinkie Chandler. She was at a dance given by a club of which she is a member. The dance was given at the club rooms at the corner of Decatur street and Central avenue. The woman says she accidentally danced against the partner of Helen Henry, and the latter got angry and threw a beer glass at her. The glass struck the forehead of Pinkie Chandler and cut a deep gash in her temple, from which blood flowed freely. The wound may prove serious. Cases of disorderly conduct were entered against both her and Helen Henry.

Dr. Wilkins, the station house physician, was kept hard at work all last night.

TRADE JOURNAL EDITORS.

Permanent Association Will Be Organized at Meeting Here This Week.

Friday and Saturday of this week the editors of the Trade Journals in the south from Baltimore to New Orleans will meet in Atlanta for the purpose of perfecting a permament organization. This is the result of earnest work on the part of H. E. Harman, president of the Cotton Publishing company, who is the promoter of the new organization. With the tremendous increase in the industrial and commercial resources of the south, there have been many of the best trade journals started to be found in the entire country.

Practically all of these journals have years ago passed beyond the experimental stage and have proved a far greater factor in the development than is generally known. With the wonderful growth of the many industries, they have grown as well and are responsible for much of the prosperity existing in this section today.

With headquarters at the Piedmont, the two days session is certain to prove of general interest, for experts have promised papers which are the result of years of study and actual practice. The social end of the convention is also to be a feature and has been placed in the right hands. The great interest in the organization is the remarkable fact that every journal sounded by Mr. Harman immediately replied with enthusiasm and the promise of being represented.

Among the trade papers of the south which have promised to be represented at the coming meeting of the Southern Trade Press association are the following: Dixie Miller, Nashville, Tenn., Cotton Trade Journal, Savannah, Ga., Journal of Commerce, Memphis, Tenn., Railway Record, Atlanta, Ga., Dixie, Atlanta, Ga., Southern Lumberman, Nashville, Tenn., Railway Herald, Atlanta, Ga., Southern Banker, Atlanta, Ga., Manufacturers Record, Baltimore, Md., Textile Excelsior, Charlotte, N. C., American Cotton Manufacturer, Charlotte, N. C., Watts Railway Guide, Atlanta, Ga., Southern Fruit Grower, Chattanooga, Tenn., Practical Machinist, Atlanta, Ga., Southern Tobacco Journal, Winston, N. C., Southern Furniture Journal, High Point, N. C., The Tradesman, Chattanooga, Tenn., Trade Index, New Orleans, La., Industrial Record, Jacksonville, Fla., Southern Merchant, Atlanta, Ga., Cotton, Atlanta, Ga., Cottonseed Oil Magazine, Atlanta, Ga., Southern Engineer, Atlanta, Ga., Lumber Trade Journal, New Orleans, La., Southern Druggist, Atlanta, Ga., Southern Drug Journal, Atlanta, Ga., Southern Cultivator, Atlanta, Ga., Barrel and Box, Louisville, Ky., Southern Milling and Luumber Journal, Wilmington, N. C., Rock Products, Louisville, Ky., The Southern Planter and Sugar Manufacturer, New Orleans, La.

TO ENTERTAIN PRESIDENT.

Plans Are Now Being Made for the Reception of Mr. Roosevelt.

Plans are now being made for the reception and entertainment of President Roosevelt on October 21, when he will spend the greater portion of a day and evening in Atlanta.

The meeting of yesterday morning, which was called for the purpose of making arrangements for the entertainment of the president, was attended by Mayor J. G. Woodward, W. R. Joyner, E. F. Blodgett, R. F. Maddox, Eugene Black, Frank Weldon and Jerome Jones. Mayor Woodward was made chairman of the committee. It was decided to add Governor J. M. Terrell, Captain James W. English and Colonel R. J. Lowry to the committee. They were prevented morning.

from attending the meeting of yesterday

Definite plans for entertainment of the president have not been made, but now that the organization of the committee has been effected it is probable that the features of the day upon the occasion of the visit of Mr. Roosevelt to Atlanta will be soon announced.

MEDICINE BILL IS HARD FOUGHT

Committee Made Favorable Report by Vote of 5 to 4.

After a hearing lasting several hours, the house committee on hygiene and sanitation yesterday afternoon, by the close vote of five to four, made a favorable report on the bill by Dr. Kelly, of Glascock, affecting patent and proprietary medicines.

Dr. Kelly's bill provides that all proprietary medicines shall have printed upon the bottles the formulas by which they are made, including the ingredients and the proportions in which they are used.

A hard fight is being made against this measure by the druggists and others. Among those who spoke against the bill were W. S. Elkin, of Atlanta; Dr. Max Morris and Pat Gamble, of Macon. Several speeches were made on both sides.

A minority report will be filed when the bill is reported to the house.

"UNCLE BUD'S" FUNERAL.

Popular Atlantan Will Be Laid To Rest in Oakland Cemetery.

Funeral services over the body of Columbus C. Kernodle, the prominent citizen of Atlanta who expired Sunday in Jacksonville, Fla., will be conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of the sister of the deceased, Mrs. J. A. Wing, 483 Capitol avenue. Owing to the prominence and popularity of the dead, it is expected that the house will be filled with people at the hour for the services.

The body arrived in Atlanta yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, and was taken to the undertaking parlors of Patterson. At 11 o'clock it was removed to the residence of Mrs. Wing.

There has been no death in Atlanta in some time that has caused more universal regret than the death of "Uncle Bud" Kernodle. Hundreds of people read the story of his death in The Constitution yesterday morning with tears in their eyes and sorrow in their hearts. It was hard to realize that "Uncle Bud" was gone.

The body will be laid to rest beneath the sod of Oakland, and the following will act as pallbearers: Henry R. Durand, J. McGrath, Macon Sharpe, W. R. Tucker, C. J. Kelley and Mose Holland.

Operation on Senator Wetmore.

New York, July 24.—United States Senator George Peabody Wetmore, of Rhode Island, who came to this city a few days ago for the purpose of undergoing a surgical operation, is stated to be convalescent. He expects to return in a few days to his home in Newport.

Mrs. Wetmore said last night that in 1893, while driving in Newport, he was thrown to the roadway and sustained a fracture of the right upper arm, which was complicated by a dislocation of the shoulder. The difficulty of setting the bone and later of reducing the dislocation caused him much pain at times and made the present operation necessary.

Stay Is Granted to Patrick.

New York, July 24.—Justice O'Brien, of the court of appeals has granted an order staying the execution of Lawyer Albert T. Patrick, convicted of the murder of aged William Marsh Rice in this city, pending the hearing and determination of the argument on the motion for a reargument of his case. The time for the reargument has been fixed for October 2d next.

Sailors Not Drowned.

Philadelphia, July 24.—The four men who were thought to have been drowned late Saturday by the sinking of the yacht Narkeet, in the Delaware bay, near Lewes, Del., have arrived at Bowers Beach, a few miles from Lewes. When the Narkeeta struck on Brandywine shoal on Saturday afternoon, Dr. Hare and a friend, who were the only persons on the vessel beside the crew, were rescued.

Games Played Today.

New Orleans in Atlanta.
Little Rock in Montgomery.
Memphis in Nashville.
Shreveport in Birmingham.

Lew Moren is booked to pitch this afternoon against the Pelicans, while Charley Frank will send in either Breitenstein or Dygert. It will probably be Breitenstein, as the old war horse is in good shape, but Frank is following his usual custom in naming two pitchers.

The slab staff of the Firecrackers is in poor shape, but the fault in the last few games played has not been so much with the pitchers, as four games played in New Orleans were good contests from a pitcher's viewpoint.

The fault has been with the members of the team in failing to hit or to field properly. Without such support no pitcher could be expected to win a game.

It is not a time to despair. The team is intact. The men are all in good shape and this afternoon at least a regular pitcher, Moren will be in the box. It is time for the Firecrackers to be up and doing, to get together and trounce this bunch of Pelicans who think they own the earth but are now about ripe for a trouncing.

Frank has gathered together a good team, and the men are playing good ball. But no team in this league has a license to win both at home and on the road in long streaks. Frank has had his winning streak. It is time for a corresponding losing streak to start in.

Burnum and Smith should be in shape in a day or so at least to play the game and do their part toward winning games. In the meantime it is possible that Cottingham will be given a chance to show just what is in him in the way of pitching.

Come back to the earth again, Firecrackers, and play the game. Charley Frank's bunch is just as easy to beat as any other team in the league if their opponents go at it with the proper determination and desire to win. Let the locals go in believing that they can beat and a victory will be theirs. If they get the idea into their heads, however, that they are already beaten, then it is all off.

Exaggerated, Says Frank.

Charley Frank, looking as well as ever, was one of the chief figures in Atlanta yesterday.

The leader of the Pelicans laughs at the idea of yellow fever getting the better of New Orleans and declares that the people in that city are paying no attention to it and do not believe that it will spread. According to Frank, it is confined to a small part of New Orleans and will stay there.

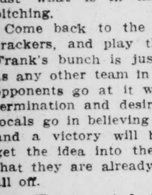

"I believe that we will be able to get back to New Orleans at the end of our road trip and play our scheduled games," said Frank, yesterday.

"If it should happen, however, that we cannot do so, then you may rest assured that we will play in a good city and that the league will be all the stronger on account of this scare, as it will show the people in baildom that we are able to outlast all such scares.

"There is absolutely no danger in New Orleans. The wives of our players are all there yet. Besides, do you suppose I would have cooped my players up in that city if I had thought there was danger. I believe that I could take my team out and sell it for $20,000, and consequently I would not take a risk with such a valuable team.

"President Kavanaugh received a telegram offering him the option of playing the New Orleans club in Chattanooga should he so desire. But there is no danger of such a move. I also received a wire from Mobile offering to do everything possible for the team."

FOR HOME RUN HITS.

Some Players Who Have Batted Out Home Runs for the Cause and Regal Shoes for Themselves in One Lusty Swing.

Up to June no less than forty players of the National and American Leagues had been awarded Regal shoes by the Regal Shoe Company, according to its good-natured offer—a pair of Regals for every home run hit. The list follows:

The records of two or three of the leading batsmen, along in April and May, almost seem to indicate that the condition of their personal equipment had been causing them more or less concern, and lent more power to their elbows; they kept the paths hot for a while and sometimes carried home two pairs of Regals in one day.

If they all keep it up right through, it may cost the Regal people something for shoe-leather, but it will certainly add to the gayety of nations.

NO OFFER MADE FOR HENLEY.

Atlanta Director Denies That Atlanta Made an Offer for Henley to Philadelphia.

Through newspapers and by fans the story has recently gone the rounds that Atlanta made an effort to get Henley for the rest of the season.

This story was given the "ha! ha!" by an Atlanta director yesterday afternoon, who absolutely denied that Atlanta owners had ever made an offer for him, talked to Connie Mack about him, or tried to get him in any way.

"I would like to have secured him," said the director and would have paid any reasonable price for him.

No Quarantine in Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., July 24—(Special.)—The New Orleans baseball team can come here and play to its own heart's content, regardless of yellow fever. This, in brief, is the decision reached by members of the city council today, when they decided not to quarantine against the Crescent City.

The New Orleans team is not scheduled to play here for several weeks, but the action of city fathers is an indication of how the fever scare is diminishing hereabouts.

ATLANTA TEAM SIGNS PLAYERS

Firecrackers Accept Terms of Catcher and Pitcher.

C. A. Mitze, Catcher, of Colorado Springs, and Rube Zellar, Pitcher, of Homestead, Are Signed To Report at Once.

Realizing the necessity of signing new men at once in order to give the Atlanta team a chance for the flag and to renew the failing courage of the Firecrackers, the owners of the local club have gone on the trail of promising men and have landed from the number sought a new battery.

It was announced last night that C. A. Mitze, catcher of the Colorado Springs team, had been signed. Mitze submitted his terms to the locals and was told by wire that they were satisfactory, provided that he report at once.

He agreed to do so, and last night a ticket was wired to him at his home in Pueblo, Col. Mitze was a star catcher in the Western league and should make good here. He did well in all the games of which any record has been found.

He was released by Colorado Springs on account of the fact that the new manager of the team, Catcher Shriver from Louisville, decided to work behind the bat, and there was no need of two additional catchers.

The pitcher signed by the locals goes by the name Rube Zellars. He has been for a year or so the star of the Homestead team in Pennsylvania and is well thought of by Moren and by Jordan, both of whom know something of his ability.

He was wired transportation, but it has not reached him yet owing to some delay. He wired to the Atlanta club last night that he had not received promised transportation and that he was anxious to come on at once. Every effort is being made to get the transportation to the Homestead star and his wife, as Atlanta needs him at once.

Other Men in Sight.

The Atlanta owners have a number of other men in sight and are at present dealing for the release of six or seven men. Of course it is not intended to land all these men, but it is necessary to go after a bunch in order to land the men needed.

Offers have been made to a number of Western league stars, but the other managers of teams have not seen fit to make terms with Atlanta.

One manager wanted $2,000 for his pitcher, a new and untried man, with but one year's experience. Another man, apparently free, wanted $400 a month with a six months' contract.

Noblett Has Arrived.

Bert Noblett has arrived in Atlanta from Meridian, where he has been playing with that team in the Cotton States league. Noblett has been playing good ball and should strengthen Atlanta.

The chances are that McCay will be taken out of the game according to Jordan in order to rest him up and get him in shape to pitch for the locals. It would not do to play him in the infield one day and in the box the next if it was hoped to get the best results.

Jordan's Brother Here.

John Jordan, the brother of the manager of the Atlanta team, is in Atlanta for a few days. Jordan is an enthusiastic fan and always spends a few weeks where his brother is playing, as he likes to see him work out.

AMERICANS LOSE AGAIN.

William Larned and William Clothier Were the Americans Beaten Yesterday.

London, July 24.—The final matches for the Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis cup drew a good crowd at Wimbledon today. As was expected, William A. Larned gave Hugh L. Doherty a good game. Although beaten, Larned played the best tennis he has shown in this country, and it was necessary to pla yfifty games before Doherty was able to settle matters.

In the second match Holcombe Ward was to have played S. H. Smith, but, as he had suffered a family bereavement, William J. Clothier was substituted. He gave Smith a hard game, but the Englishman was too steady for him. Clothier tried several new serves, but nothing he did could overcome Smith. In the play at Wimbledon, which lasted three days, the Englishmen won 15 sets to the Americans' 8 and 132 games to the Americans' 101.

CITIES ASK FOR GAMES.

Knoxville and Chattanooga Baseball Promoters Ask Kavanaugh To Remember Them.

Little Rock, Ark., July 24.—(Special.)—President Kavanaugh yesterday received telegrams from C. A. Aaron, of Knoxville, and R. E. Pritchard, of Chattanooga, asking that in the event games scheduled to be played in either New Orleans or Shreveport cannot be played because of the quarantine, their cities to be borne in mind if games are transferred and to both favorable replies were sent.

President Kavanaugh said:

"I can but reiterate what I have said before about the Southern league schedule being carried out, and the yellow fever situation will not interfere in the slightest.

"The New Orleans team is not due back home until August 6 and the Shreveport team will not play in Shreveport until August 14 according to the schedule. In the event the situation becomes so serious that it would be dangerous for teams to play in either of thise cities, they will be transferred to some city adjacent to Southern league territory.

"There are several good-sized cities to which the games could be transferred, and the schedule will be played out without the loss of a game."

Knoxville Wants Team.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 24.—President W. M. Kavanaugh, of the Southern League, wired The Sentinel today that Knoxville would be considered in the event the yellow fever in New Orleans made it necessary to transfer the Shreveport, La., team from that city, pending the yellow fever scare. Local parties have communicated with President Kavanaugh and are negotiating with the Knoxville Traction Company to secure an option on the ball park here, in the event the Shreveport team can be secured.

QUEER THINGS MAN EATS.

Earth, Seaweed, Birds' Nests, Turtles, Frogs and Coal Among Them.

(From The Lancet.)

Complaint is often made that the average daily meal in the ordinary household is a monotonous round of mutton and beef. In the majority of instances this simple and oftentimes uninteresting cycle of food is compelled on the score of convenience and economy, although with a little more thought and trouble than are usually bestowed on this matter we are convinced that more variation could be contrived. The subject deserves greater attention than it has hitherto received and the results in all probability would be pleasing.

In this connection it is interesting to consider some of the more or less odd materials which man has been led to choose for the purposes of food. Environment, of course, must be a factor in regard to this choice, and necessity also. It is hard to imagine that earth would be used for choice as food, and yet such has been the case in many countries during famine. The Laplanders mix earth with their bread, the Russian peasant uses a "rock flour," and the poorer classes in Hungary are driven occasionally to eat an earth which contains but a trifling proportion of nourishing principles.

The use of seaweed as food is an example of the determining factors of boy necessity and environment. It is not a little astonishing to find what a number of seaweeds are really edible and nourishing. Perhaps the best known example in this country is laver, which is a kind of stew made from a weed, an alga (Porpyhra laciniata). The laver made on the Devonshire coast and to be found in some London shops is excellent. The sea algae, indeed, prove on analysis to contain a considerable proportion of nitrogenous matter, and as they are usually tender they are digestible. There are also several sea mosses which are esteemed for their esculent properties.

Agar-agar is another example of a seaweed yielding a nutrient jelly. It is supposed that the edible birds' nest so highly esteemed when prepared in the form of soup by the Chinese has its origin in the birds feeding upon agar-agar. On the other hand, it is said that the substance of which the nest is composed is secreted from certain glands which are developed during the nest building season, but which lose this function afterward. The viscid substance resembles the mucin or albumin excreted by the sublingual gland.

The turtle may be regarded as an odd article of food since it is the only example of an edible reptile, at least in this country. Frogs legs, again, are rarely eaten in this country, though they are easily digested, possess a delicate flavor, and have about the same nutritive value as chicken. Neither is the snail esteemed as an article of food in this country, though in France it is partaken of in large quantities and so good is it that it has been called "the poor man's oyster." The edible snail, however, is a particular kind and is generally collected in considerable numbers from vineyards in the south of France. In Spain the snail is served in a most excellent and appetizing manner, and in Paris a dish of selected snails is reserved for the special use of the gourmet. Coal would appear to be a strange article of food, but instances are known in which children and cats have been found consuming it in a not negligible quantity. There is no evidence, however, although coal contains an abundance of one of the most important elements of food—i. e., carbon—that in this form it is in the least degree assimilated.

SEAGULL STAKES TO SCHULAMITE

There Were Only Three Starters in the Event.

Rose of Dawn Was Favorite, but Hildebrand Sent Schulamite to Front at the Start and, Making Pace, Won by Three Lengths.

New York, July 24.—Schulamite, heavily played at even money, won the Seagull stakes at Brighton Beach today. Only three started in this event, with Rose of Dawn favorite. At the start Hildebrand sent Schulamite into the lead and, making all the pace, won by three lengths. Scaw rode Rose of Dawn hard, but was never able to catch the leader. In the fifth race Pat Dunne's Devout was played down from 7 to 2, to 2 to 1, but was left at the post. Bad News was returned the winner. Six favorites were beaten. Summary:

FIRST RACE—Selling, one mile and a sixteenth: King Cole, 100 (F. Johnson), 10 to 1, won; Gold Braid, 100 (Hayward), 60 to 1, second; Jetsam, 100 (Ogilvie), 9 to 2, third. Time, 1:48. Hippocrates, Sinicado, Champlain, Judge Fulton, Ismalian, Befacha, Port Royal, Tom Cole, Adare and Captain Forsee also ran.

SECOND RACE—Steeplechase, about 2 miles: Walter Cleary, 152 (Hall), 5 to 1, won; Knight of Harlem, 144 (E. Helder), 11 to 5, second; Flying Machine, 130 (Sagfell), 2 to 1, third. Time, 4:26. Knob Hampton, Sportsman, St. Jolley, Gascar and Georgia Pine also ran. Seventh Ward and Bacchel fell.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs: Phidis, 113 (Miller), 13 to 5, won; Whimsical, 119 (W. Knapp), 3 to 5, second; Kinley Dale, 112 (W. Davis), 3 to 1, third. Time 1:14 2-5. Hector also ran.

FOURTH RACE—The Seagull Stakes, 3 furlongs: Schulamite, 106 (Hildebrand), even, won; Rose of Dawn, 109 (Shaw), 9 to 10, second; Belle of Setauket, 101 (McDaniel), 100 to 1, third. Time 1:14 3-5. Only three starters.

FIFTH RACE—One mile and a furlong: Bad News, 125 (W. Knapp), 5 to 2, won; Stamping Ground, 92 (Diggins) 12 to 1, second; Chimney Sweep, 100 (Baird), 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:54 1-5. Kehail, Marmee and Amberjack also ran. Devout was left at the post.

SIXTH RACE—Five and a half furlongs. Progress, 107 (Baird), 50 to 1, won; Ballota, 107 (McDaniel), 9 to 5, second; Bivouac, 107 (W. Davis), 11 to 5, third. Time, 1:09. Flavigny, Golden Fern, Ell, Disobedient, Merry Go Round, Descend and Iolanda also ran.

Today's Entries at Brighton Beach.

RHEUMATISM
COMMON IN SUMMER

The time to get rid of Rheumatism is in Summer while the blood is endeavoring to purge itself of all poisons and impurities, and the skin is active, with all the pores and glands open and able, in this way, to assist in the elimination.

Columbus, O., 1355 Mt. Vernon, Ave.

Six years ago I had a severe attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicine every week and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I left off their medicine and began the use of S. S. S. My knee and elbow joints were swollen terribly, and at one time my hands were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when opened. I was getting discouraged, you may be sure, when I began S. S. S., but as I saw it was helping me I continued it, and today I am a sound, well man and have never had a return of the disease.

R. H. CHAPMAN.

The inactivity of the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels causes the refuse matter to remain in the system, which, coming in contact with the different acids of the body, forms uric acid to be absorbed by the blood and distributed to the different joints and muscles, producing the pains, inflammation and other distressing symptoms of Rheumatism. The wandering pains of the disease remind the sufferer that the poison is still in the blood and he should lose no time in getting it out. S. S. S. neutralizes the acid and makes the blood rich and pure. It tones up every organ and cures the disease permanently. S. S. S. contains no harmful minerals to disagreeably affect the system, but while curing the disease builds up every part of the body by its fine tonic effect. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired without charge.

POLICE INVADE DELMAR TRACK

Officers Were Acting Under Instructions of Gov. Folk.

Policemen Were Refused Admittance, but Forced Their Way In—Constable Tried To Arrest Police Captain, but Was Prevented.

St. Louis, July 24.—About one hundred policemen under command of Captain McNamee, acting upon orders from Chief of Police Kiely, who in turn received instructions from Governor Folk, forced an entrance into Delmar race track today to see that there was no violation of the anti-pool selling law and to arrest any person actually seen making bets. No arrests were made.

With a squad of about thirty officers, Captain McNamee appeared at the race track entrance at the time of the first race, and demanded admittance. This was not granted and he and his men marched in, meeting with no resistance.

Fearing that attempts might be made to resist the officers if arrests were made, Captain McNamee ordered a second squad from the reserves and the squad had just arrived when Constable Lentz, with a posse and a warrant charging trespass and destruction of property, endeavored to arrest Captain McNamee. Chief Kiely had ordered that none of the officers should submit to arrest and Captain McNamee refused to consider the endeavors of Constable Lentz to take him into custody, his own men surrounding him in protection until Lentz desisted.

The races were run on schedule before an interested crowd of citizens and police, and when the last race had been finished everybody departed.

AT LATONIA

TWO OF THE FAVORITES UNDER WIRE IN FRONT

Cincinnati, July 24.—Two favorites won at Latonia today. The steeplechase handicap, the feature of the day, went to Martin Brady, an outsider in the betting. Gould, the heavily played favorite did not finish in the money. The Laurel, an outsider, won the opening event easily.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs: The Laurel, 93 (Robinson), 20 to 1, won; Nanon, 93 (Radtke), 7 to 1, second; Algonquin, 93 (Cheatham), 6 to 1, third. Time 1:17. Marmont, Lily Brook, Merino, Berinthia, Herlida, Sam Craig and Red Thistle ran.

SECCND RACE—Mile: Red Leaf, 101 (Nicol), 11 to 10, won; Birchbroom, 100 (Foy), 19 to 5, second; Van Hope, 105 (Walsh), 9 to 1, third. Time 1:43 4-5. Hortensia ran.

THIRD RACE—Five furlongs: Lilita, 106 (Treubel), 13 to 5, won; Daffodil, 102 (Robinson), 9 to 1, second; Attraction, 110 (Nicol), 6 to 5, third. Time 1:04. Mamie O., Fantana, Progression, Dame Durden, Lila M., Santa Lucia and Galeta ran.

FORGOT NAME AND ADDRESS.

Mrs. Mary Ormond, of 202 East Cain Street, Could Not Tell Who She Was.

While taking a walk through the city late Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Mary Ormond, an aged woman of 202 East Cain street, forgot her name, address and whereabouts.

She was seen by a mill employee about 7 o'clock near the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills at the end of Decatur street. She was wandering aimlessly about the street. The man called up police headquarters and notified the officers. Officer Dorrett answered the call.

He had the old woman taken to the police station and placed in charge of the matron, Mrs. Bohnafeld. For one brief instant, her mind returned, and she told the desk sergeant her name. When she was asked for her address, she stated that she had forgotten her name and where she lived. After she was taken upstairs by the matron, Mrs. Ormond had forgotten practically everything. She said she had a son, but didn't remember his name or where he lived. Miss Clayton called at the police station and took the old woman away yesterday morning. She told the matron she was being taken care of at her home, 202 East Cain street.

Rosen To Meet Witte.

Manchester, Mass., July 24.—Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, expects to leave here for New York on Friday and wait there the arrival of M. Witte and the remainder of the Russian mission. The ambassador is anxious to have a conference with his conferee as soon as possible about the negotiations, as the instructions for both plenipotentiaries were placed by the emperor in M. Witte's hands.

All Straw Hats at Half

Every Straw Hat in our superb stock will tomorrow be priced at just half of former figures—and original prices represented the best hat values in Atlanta.

All are new styles—the very shapes and straws that the best dressers of New York and Atlanta are wearing. And all are well made of dependable stock by the best manufacturers.

The stock is complete this morning—every size can be had in each style. But it's probable that today's selling will materially decrease assortments—so wise men will come early.

Every style and shape is included—for old men—for young men—for middle-aged men—for conservative men—and for men who keep right at the front in latest fashion.

WALTER DIRECT WON RICH PURSE

He Captured the $5,000 Event at Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., July 24.—Walter Direct, entered and driven by Ed F. Geers, of Memphis, Tenn., this afternoon won the $5,000 Chamber of Commerce stakes for 2:24 class pacers and lowered the record for the stake from 2:06¼ to 2:05¾. The stake was the feature event of the opening day of the twenty-second Blue Ribbon meeting of the Detroit Driving Club, which inaugurates the grand circuit of 1905. Walter Direct was a heavy favorite, bringing $50 in the pools with the field at $15. The stake, like all events at the present meeting, was run on the three-heat plan, the money being separated into three parts and divided according to the result of each heat, with a bonus for the race winner.

Summaries:

2:20 trot, purse $1,500: Hardwood won first two heats and race; Minter, second, won the second heat; Pat T., third. Time (best), 2:13¾.

2:24 pace, Chamber of Commerce stake, purse $5,000: Walter Direct won three heats and race; Bonanza, second; F. F. Park, third. Best time, 2:05¾.

2:08 pace, purse $1,500: Miss Willimont won second and third heats and race; Geary, second, won first heat; Don Carr, third. Best time, 2:07¾.

Manchester Wins Trophy.

Dorval, Quebec, July 24.—The Manchester defeated the Alevxandra in the third race of the series today and took the Seawanhaka cup for which eight unsuccessful American and English challengers had previously raced. There was a difference of 9 minutes, 37 seconds at the finish, a decisive and clean cut victory for the Manchester Yacht Club's boat.

BOOKMAKER IS ACQUITTED.

Gumpert Not Guilty of Violating Anti-Betting Law.

St. Louis, July 24.—After deliberating for two hours, a jury in the St. Louis country circuit court tonight acquitted Max Gumperts on a charge of violating the anti-betting law passed at the last session of the legislature to prevent betting on horse races.

The case had occupied the attention of the court all day. Gumperts was arrested at Delmar race track shortly after the anti-betting law became effective, but the trial had been continued several tims. It was in the nature of a test case, but the effect of the acquittal is problematical, as the state may endeavor to secure convictions in other cases which are now pending before the circuit court.

Terrible.

"Why did Subbub toss that agent over the hedge?"

"Why, he wanted to sell him a lawn mower that would play ragtime while it was being pushed."

DARING RUN MADE BY MOTOR LAUNCH

Talismnn Races Along 288 Miles of New England Coast.

Battered by Heavy Seas for 24 Hours, the Crew of the Talisman Stood by and Pushed Her Winner Across the Finish Line.

Marble Head, Mass., July 24.—After a daring run along 288 miles of the New England coast in unusually tempestous conditions for midsummer, the 28-foot motor launch Talisman, owned by William Saville, of Boston, and built in that city, today won the race from New York to this port, conducted under the auspices of the Knickerbock Yachting Club.

Battered by heavy seas for nearly twenty-four hours, with her seams started and her crew pumping vigorously, the Talisman, the smallest of the fleet of twelve, which started in the contest at noon on Saturday, struggled into this harbor this morning and crossed the finish line at 9:24:56, winner of the $250 silver cup.

Late this afternoon another Boston boat of the fleet came into the harbor, finishing at 5:27:10.

About two hours later the Aquilla, owned by S. A. H. Chase, of Providence, and the Glissando, owned by S. F. L. Andrews, of Fall River, finished, the former four seconds in the lead.

As both the Blink and the Aquilla allowed the Glissando considerable time, the last named yacht took the second prize.

At dark tonight the Woodpile, owned by A. L. Lincoln, of Hingham, Mass., passed Highland Light, Cape Cod, while a sixth boat, the Yeddo, owned by S. M. Smith, of New York, was at Cottage City and her owner announced that he had withdrawn from the race. The only other boat of the twelve starters to be reported was the General Bumps, owned by P. D. Irwin, of Philadelphia, which reached Cottage City at 1 o'clock yesterday, and left an hour later. Since then she has not been sighted, but is believed to be in some safe harbor.

The victory of the Talisman was undoubtedly due to the fearlessness of her skipper, who did not hesitate to send his boat through terrific seas all the way from Point Judith to this port. His only accident, however, was the breaking of a tiller rope off Monomoy early today.

Gentle Hint.

Mr. Kidder—Ah, my dear, wouldn't you like to see me in a magnificent automobile?

Mrs. Kidder—No, I'd much rather see you on a humble water wagon.

E. E. SMATHERS TO QUIT TURF

He Will Sell His String of High Priced Horses.

New York, July 24.—E. E. Smathers has decided to retire permanently from the turf and will sell all of his horses on Satuurday. Mr. Smathers has been a prominent figure on the turf for several years, having owned some good thoroughbreds, including the great McHesney for which he paid $30,000.

Mr. Smathers turned from harness racing two years ago. He was not very successful with his new venture. Trainer Sam Hildreth was in charge of his thoroughbreds. Right after the running of the Brighton handicap in 1903 McChesney was brought east to compete against Waterboy in a special race. At that time they were the champions of the west and east. While being prepared for the race McChesney stepped on a stone, went lame and since then he has been practically useless for racing purposes. Early last fall Smathers bought a number of yearlings and soon had fifty horses. Many of his horses, heavily backed, were beaten.

He stated today that racing had not come up to his expectations. He would not say how much he had lost on the venture. Hildreth will buy some of the horses and race them in his own name.

Jack Hunter Captured.

Birmingham, Ala., July 24.—Jack Hunter, the leader of the four negroes who are alleged to have committed criminal assault upon and murdered Mrs. S. J. Smith, at Gadsden, was arrested in hat city today by an officer and was brought to the jail tonight for safekeeping.

Hunter says he was present when the crimes were committed, but maintains that he took no part in them.

Ultimatum by Employers.

Chicago, July 24.—At a mass meeting of employers held this afternoon, at which representatives of over 200 business houses were present, it was unanimously decided that no more of the teamsters who have been on strike will be reinstated until all of the unions involved have called off the strike.

Good Repartee.

(From The Chicago News.)

"You may think I am sour," said the little green apple on the top branch, "but I am the sweetest thing that ever happened."

"Get out," retorted the small boy, grimly, "you give me a pain." Which was more truth than slang.

He Came on Friday.

(From The New York Sun.)

Robinson Crusoe had just discovered the footprints.

"Hurrah!" he exclaimed. "I shall advertise this as a summer resort, where men actually come on Friday."

Feeling his fortune was made, he recountered with a light heart.

SHORT ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

MICHAEL CURRAN DIED YESTERday afternoon shortly after 12 o'clock, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Scott, 43 East Ellis street. He was a widower. Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church. The interment will be in Westview cemetery.

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER THE body of Willie Edgar Denison, who died Sunday, were held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the family residence. The burial took place in the Sharon church cemetery.

THE COLORED YOUNG MEN'S Christian Association began a ten nights' fair last night at the rooms on Auburn avenue. The balance of this week will be taken by the local societies as follows: Tonight, Central Star T. C. Crawford, president; Wednesday night, Daughters of Bethel, Lizzie Nolan, president; Thursday night, Coachmen's assembly, Sam Simpson, president; Friday night, Knights of Pythias and women's courts. The programme for next week will be issued later. Meals are served every day from 12 to 2 o'clock and refreshments at night. The officers and members are making an effort to raise $1,000, and are asking a liberal patronage. The fair will last till August 4.

THE THIRTIETH GEORGIA REGIment will hold a reunion at Forest Park on Friday, July 28, at which time matters concerning the publication of the regimental history will be discussed. This work is one of the most important the command has undertaken since the close of the war, and it is desired that all the members of the regiment who can possibly attend will be on hand. Hon. Evan P. Howell has been invited to deliver an address, and also Congressman Livingston and Judge W. L. Calhoun. The occasion will be a notable one. The president of the Thirtieth Georgia Regiment Association is R. S. Osburn, and A. P. Adamson, of Rex, is the secretary.

J. T. PERSONS, OF GRIFFIN, GA., guardian for E. G. Burr, reported to Chief Jennings yesterday that Burr, in company of a man named Loraine, of Atlanta, both of them having been committed to the asylum at Milledgeville, had effected their escape from that institution Monday night. They were expected over the Southern last night, but up to a late hour had not been found.

M. F. STEELE, A SWITCHMAN FOR the Southern railway, was caught between two freight cars of the Southern at the Johns street crossing about noon yesterday. He died about 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the Grady hospital from his injuries. It is not known exactly how the young switchman came to be caught between the cars. He lived at 105 Kennedy street. Steele was aged 26 years, and is survived by a wife and child. The body was taken to the parlors of H. M. Patterson. It will be taken to Kennesaw, Ga., at 4:50 o'clock this afternoon for interment there.

HUGH COVINGTON, THE 11-YEARold son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Covington, of 82 West Merritts avenue, died yesterday at the Tabernacle infirmary, on Luckie street. The funeral will take place Wednesday and the interment will be in the county.

THE FUNERAL OF ARCHER ROSEberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Roseberry, will take place this afternoon from the residence, 67 Ponders avenue, and the interment will be in Westview cemetery.

Possible Explanation.

She—Why are you so strongly opposed to all games of chance?

He—I don't know—unless it's because I am married.

Dairyen to Attend Fair.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—The directors of the Macon Fair Association tonight entered into an agreement with the dairymen of Georgia, which provides for a convention of this organization in Macon during the coming fair. Speakers of national reputation are to appear on this occasion. A full battery of light artillery has also been secured as one attraction. Manager J. M. Hunt, of Bones county, begins active work on August 1 and preparations for Macon's fair will then be in great style.

Appointed Pension Examiners.

SMALLER SHORTS FORCED TO COVER

Prices Advanced About Two Dollars Per Bale.

Unexpected Advance in the Liverpool Market and Heavy Rains in Sections Were Factors—Closed Steady 32 to 39 Points Higher.

New York, July 24.—There was an advance of about $2 a bale in the cotton market today, accompanied by considerable activity, and the big bull leaders forced the covering of smaller shorts, who were apprehensive to crop damage owing to rains in the western and central belts. The opening was firm at an advance of 16@20 points in response to the rain news and higher cables. At first the market met with considerable opposition. There was selling by wire houses with southern connections, and by spot houses, and some of the larger professionals seemed to be putting out additional lines of short contracts on a scale up. The early map showed heavy rains at only two or three points in the belt, and while private reports claimed heavy precipitation over more important areas, smaller bulls showed hesitation pending official confirmation of the west weather and prices in the morning were somewhat irregular. Selling 5 or 6 points off from the early bulge, they rallied again, however, and in the afternoon the market was generally strong on partial confirmation of the wet weather news by government reports and rumors that a firm had issued a crop condition report pointing to a yield of not over 9,500,000 bales. The close was 4 or 5 points off from the top, under realizing, but steady in tone at a net advance of 32@39 points. Sales were estimated at 500,000 bales.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, July 24.—Spot cotton in good demand, but offerings scant. Sales 550 bales, including 100 to arrive. Quotations advanced 3-16c.

Futures were excitedly bullish today, with a steady upward tendency on the unexpected improvement in Liverpool and the bad weather conditions in the belt. Fears are on the run, and radical bulls are talking about 15c cotton in the near future, but the more conservative element believe the top has about been reached for the present. The first sales found October 19 points up at 10.88, sold up to 11.13, and finally receded to 11.06. The market was very active throughout the session, closing steady at net gains of 36 to 38 points.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, July 24.—Generally speaking the dry goods market was less active today, though operations for nearby delivery indicated unfilled wants on the part of buyers. The market was generally steady, with prices tending upward, and the outlook for concession is very unfavorable tot the buyer.

The Liverpool Cotton Market.

Liverpool, July 24.—12:15 p. m.—Cotton, spot, demand limited with prices firm; middling uplands 5.98; sales 4,000 bales; American 3,500; speculation and export 200; receipts 6,000; American 4,400.

New Orleans expects 3,500 to 4,500 bales, against 965 actual last year; Galveston, 9,000 to 9,500, against 82 actual last year; Houston, 6,500 to 7,000, against 67 actual last year.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

COTTON—With a better market in Liverpool than expected and crop advices of no reassuring nature, the market was very susceptible to buying influences during the day, and the lack of selling orders found the improvement easy. The trading was local, and the marked advance shows the usual features of a market controlled by the fears of the moment. It is useless to dwell upon the opposite side of the picture now. The tendency of prices is unchecked and buyers are the dominant party. The agricultural department telegraps; "Department has not determined whether new cotton acreage will be issued." The spot marke twas quiet at unchanged prices.

Ware & Leland.

COTTON.—For a week the market has been a sale on all bulges because the weather was good. Over Sunday weather was anything but satisfactory in many sections, and the down-pour at certain points was a cloudburst. This gave operators their long expected chance to start the advance, and from the action of the market today it was apparent it could easily be punished mucuh higher. This is the interesting point. If October works over 11:35 we can have 12c or 13c without much trouble. The bull crowd are playing for large stakes this trip, and to help advance the market have taken over a large quantity of spot cotton. On Friday, notice day, it will be known whether these interests intend to keep the cotton or turn it over on August. If they keep it, it will mean an extensive plan to put up October cotton to much higher prices. The rain today was very helpful to the bull, and as shorts will in all probability be forced into the market we would let the marking up process continue until something above the advance has culminated. It is a great big market and there is nothing to prevent much higher prices if the crowd get the rise going again.

WHEAT.—There was a strenuous rush to sell wheat at the start due to the cool and clear weather in the northwest and the sharp decline on the Minneapolis curb. Pyramids were toppled over, stop loss orders were cut through and there was a general desire to stand from under, with selling from all quarters. Elevator people bought July on the break, shorts covered very freely, but the large receipts in the southwest were quite a bearish feature and could hardly be ignored, although the northwest continued to send in reports of damage by rust and blight and it kept the market in a very nervous condition. The decrease in the visible was a surprise and shows a large amount of wheat has been taken off the market by country mills. Selling late in the session was quite pronounced, while many straddles were made between September and December, the latter being bought on prospects of a greater premium. We look for a nervous market and one that will allow good scalping turns.

CORN.—There was considerable selling early in sympathy with wheat, the news being bearish with no incentives in the way of purchase except talk of a cash demand. Rallies came about on shorts covering, but the market acts heavy to us. Crop advices were of the best, especially from the southwest, and we could favor sales on all rallies.

PROVISIONS.—Hogs were light supply and shipments of meats and lard considerably over last year. Yellow fever reports from New Orleans did not cut any figure, offerings being light enough to start buying by shorts and local operators, with Armour buying ribs and Swift pork. We cannot see our way clear in advising purchase of product.

STOCK.—London being a buyer in our market this morning and the encouraging news from the west, concerning the crops seemed to infuse new life into the market and in consequence our market opened strong and continued so all day. There was heavy buying in all standard stocks and all offerings were absorbed very quickly. Reading was again the feature, scoring an advance of over two points for the day, and closed very strong at the highest point. This stock seems to be in very good position and should sell much higher. Reports from the steel industries are very encouraging. The steel company is expected to issue a very bullish statement tomorrow, and the stock should continue the advance of the last two weeks. Call money continues easy, and we do not see any clouds on the financial horizon at present. The market closed very strong on large transactions, and every indication points to continued advance tomorrow. We think the market as a whole is in a very good position, and should be bought on all reactions.

Southern Exchange.

COTTON.—Liverpool cables came substantially higher due to serious weather conditions and crop damage reports in Egypt. In sympathy with foreign cables and conditions in Egypt our market opened higher with an upward tendency. There is less demand for actual cotton from spinners, and the spot market remains easy. The weather report today included heavy rains through the central belt, with a cloudburst at Dallas and Shreveport. Temperatures are very high and conditions generally unfavorable with reports of hot winds in Georgia. A private large operator makes present estimate of condition 69, which is 1.8 less than a previous report. This, in connection with other estimates, it is almost a certainty that the condition has not gained in July, with chances in favor of its having lost a fair percentage, sufficient to indicate the beginning of its decadence from which the plant rarely recovers after such a late period. Forecasting these conditions, the future of the market points to higher prices and that a much higher level can easily be reached with any sort of a development by the larger speculators, who would be compelled to cover.

DAMAGE FROM BLACK RUST SMALL

Caused Decided Weakness in Market for Wheat.

September at the Close Was 3 to 3 1-8c Lower—Sentiment in Corn Was Bearish in Sympathy with Wheat, Closing Lower.

Chicago, July 24.—A break of 5 5-8c a bushel in the price of wheat for July delivery occurred here today. At the same time the September option sold off 3 3-8 @3 1-2c. Denial of sensation reports of black rust damage to the spring sown crop caused the heavy profit taking that resulted in the sharp declines. The market closed weak with September 3@3 1-8c lower, compared with final quotations of Saturday. July wheat shows loss of precisely 4c. Corn is off 5-8@3-4c. Oats are down 1-8c. Provisions are up 5@15c.

The wheat market was weak throughout the entire session. The greatest weakness was manifested during the opening transactions, initial quotations for July being off 3 1-8@5 5-8c at 87@89 1-2c. September was down 1 3-8@1 1-2c to 3 3-8@3 1-2c at 87@89c. The primary cause of the sharp reaction was optimistic advices concerning the condition of the wheat crop throughout the Dakotas and Minnesota. In addition the weather northwest was favorable to the progress of the growing crop and unfavorable for the spread of black rust. Another reason for the slump in prices here was the demoralized condition of the wheat market at Minneapolis, the September option there showing at one time a loss of about 5c. It was said that the break at Minneapolis was due to the selling of a large line of wheat the property of a prominent holder. A report by a Chicago expert, who is personally investigating the wheat fields of North Dakota, was one of the most important influences affecting the situation. He claimed that during a drive of forty miles he had failed to discover any signs of black rust. Fresh reports of frust were received, but they lacked definiteness. Bears were given additional encouragement in the continued liberal movement of new wheat in the southwest, arrivals today at St. Louis and Kansas City being 1,148,000 bushels, compared with 525,000 bushels a year ago. After the first rush to sell was over the market held comparatively steady, the price for September during the remainder of the session being confined within a cent range. During the last few minutes of trade, however, selling again became heavy. As a result, fresh weakness developed. The close was weak with September at 87 3-8 July Closed at 88 5-8c. Clearances of wheat and four were equal to 88,500 bushels. The visible supply decreased 464,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,631,000 bushels, compared with 839,600 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago received 538 cars, against 242 cars last week, and 430 a year ago.

Bearish sentiment was manifested in the corn pit all day. Large receipts and excellent crop weather were the principal weakening influences. The break in wheat tended to increase the selling persure in corn. The volume of business in the corn pit, however, was not large. During the last hour the market received the support from a prominent commission house. The close was quite steady. September opened 3-4@7-8c lower at 54 1-2c, sold between 54 1-4@54 3-8c, and 54 7-8c and closed at 54 5-8c. Receipts 331 cars, with 69 of contract grade.

The slump in wheat caused considerable profit taking in oats early in the day. Later cash houses bought moderately and caused some recovery. September opened 3-8c lower at 29 3-8c, sold between 29 1-8@29 3-4c and closed at 29 5-8c. Receipts were 151 cars.

Notwithstanding weakness of grain provisions were firm. Shorts were active buyers. Commission houses also bought freely. At the close September pork was up 15c at $13.02 1-2; lard was up 5@7 1-2c at $7.17 1-2@7.20. Ribs were 7 1-2@10c higher at $7.85@7.87 1-2.

Corn Crop Overestimated.

O. W. Clapp & Co., Chicago, in their circular letter of July 22, say as to the estimate and probable yield of corn this year:

"The average yield of corn per acre the past ten years has been given as 24 7-8 bushels per acre. On this basis this year's crop may husk out 2,300,000,000 bushels, or 3,00,000,000 bushels more than was likely grown last year, or 167,000,000 bushels less than Secretary Wilson's final estimate, apparently made in the interest of Wall street. Exporters continue buying corn at present prices. They would have taken the 80,000,000 around 55 cents had they not been savagely persuaded by United States officials and elevator interests to believe the United States grew in 1904 a 2 1-2 billion bushel crop that must be sold at auction at any old price. We still favor estimating all crops on a general basis of the past five years' average yield. Statisticians, since 1900, claim 29 to 32 bushels is the par. We think it a fraud, and the custom as unjust as that prevailing in the agricultural department."

FOR SALE—FARMS.

GOVERNOR BROWN'S CHEROKEE COUNTY ESTATE FOR SALE AUGUST 1, 1905.

First: The Canton farm, where Governor Brown was binding wheat when nominated for governor. It consists of five hundred acres, and is within one-half mile of the court house, at Canton. About sixty acres of creek bottom, and a great deal of original timber. Two creeks run through this property, and a mill site where once a mill was upon it.

Second: The finest river farm in upper Georgia, in the gold belt, within six miles of Canton and four miles of Holly Springs. Good roads to both of these railroad stations. Seven hundred and forty acres (740) of land. About one hundred and seventy (170)) acres of river bottom, and the best timbered plantation in upper Georgia. It has been in the family for nearly sixty years.

Third: Twenty-three (23) of the prettiest town lots in Canton, on the second block from the court house. Fine place for a summer home.

One-third cash. Balance in six and twelve months, with 7 per cent interest. Don't put your money in banks or bonds or stocks of corporations, or life insurance, which can be affected by frenzied finance. Put it into real estate, and it won't run away from you. Best and safest savings bank in the world.

Attend the sale at Canton, Georgia, first Tuesday in August, and buy the property.

STOCKS STAGNANT IN FINAL HOUR

List Hardened in Sympathy with Advance in Reading.

Market Became Neglected and Prices Were Inclined To Yield Slowly. Tone at the Close Was Firm, but Almost Inanimate.

New York, July 24.—The action of today's stock market was strongly suggestive of an inference that the considerable selling which broke prices on Saturday came from professional bear sources, and that it was not successful in dislodging much stock for the purposes of fcovering short contracts. The demand for covering during the first hour of today's session was largely prompted no doubt by a revision of views over the wheat damage and over the danger of an anthracite miners' strike which were prevalent on Saturday. An additional element was the very confident tone of railroad officials in their regular weekly talks over traffic outlook, regarding the feeling in their respective territories as reflected in prepa-rations for future business. Reports of large buying of structural and steel products was a favorable influence on the list generally and in the United States Steel stocks specifically. In the case of the latter there was also a disposition to anticipate a good effect from the favorable showing of earnings for the July quarter which it is quite commonly expected will be revealed by the quarterly statement of earnings to be given out by the corporation tomorrow. The money market continues very easy in spite of the lessened strength of the banking position disclosed by the weekly bank statement. The reported quarantines on southern railroad lines seemed to be ignored, and the developements in foreign politics were without apparent influence. There was a conspicuous lapse in interest after the first hour of the trading, but the advances were well held up to the close which was firm.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,168,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WILL VISIT FREDERICKSBURG.

Veterans of the Seventh Georgia Regiment Leave Washington.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—(Special.) After being in this city and Alexandria since Friday night, the veterans or the Seventh Georgia Regimental Association, which held a reunion Friday afternoon at Groveton Battle cemetery, in Prince Williams county, left Alexandria last evening for Fredericksburg, where they will visit the points of interest in Richmond and Petersburg. The veterans in a body yesterday morning attended services at Christ Episcopal church, and hear a sermon by the rector, Rev. William J. Morton. They spent most of the time while here at the Confederate home on Prince street, where they were entertained by the local veterans and members o auxiliary society.

GOV. DOUGLAS HAS ENOUGH.

He Will Not Be a Candidate for Reelection.

Boston, July 24.—Governor Douglas informed a special representative of the democratic state committee this afternoon that he would not be a candidate for reelection this year. Several months ago the governor made the announcement to the same effect, but he was asked today to reconsider his decision by a committee, which included prominent Massachusetts democrats.

Think Jordan Will Surrender.

Hartwell, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—It is thought that Albert Jordan, who killed John Teasley at a baseball game at St. John's church, in this county, last week on the occasion of children's day, will surrender. Jordan's father and father-in-law have employed A. G. and Julian McCurry to represent Albert Jordan. A reward of $100 has been offered by Governor Terrell with evidence sufficient to convict.

COTTON.

New York, July 24, 1905.—I present herewith my usual monthly report regarding the condition of the cotton crop. It is compiled from 4,950 replies of an average date of July 15, received from 762 cotton production counties. There are 826 cotton producing counties in the south, and practically every county of importance has reported to us. The condition of the crop as reported to me averages 62 throughout the entire belt as against 71.6 as last and 91.6 as reported by the agricultural department last year, and 91.6 as per my report of July 27, 1904.

*Averages.

According to my report the average decline in condition for the month has been 2.3 which would foreshadow a government report of about 75. Such a report taken in conjunction with the admitted reduction in acreage would indicate "arithmetically" a crop of about 28 per cent under last year, assuming the same favorable condition to exist hereafter as existed and persisted to the very end of the season last year in this connection. However, it is important to note that my correspondents report the crop an average of 15 days late, while last year's crop at this time was probably at least 10 days early. This difference of 25 days in maturity of development is a further handicap which must be taken into consideration in estimating the probability of this year's yield and suggests a crop so small that I hesitate to give the figures lest a desire for sensationalism seem to have given place to judgment. When, however, it is taken into consideration that the size of last year's crop was largely due to its early and favorable start and the full fruition it injured throughout, while this year's plant has been by exactly reverse conditions projected a month further into the autumnal period of storms and frosts in a condition as stated by my correspondents, 22 per cent below that of last year, and upon an acreage variously assumed to be from 10 per cent to 18 per cent less, its prospects and its peril need not be further enlarged upon. Under no condition does the hope of even a moderate crop seem reasonable, and if the yield per acre is even as large as in 1903, which now hardly seems probable, the total would hardly exceed 9,500,000 bales. What such a situation would seem to the world's spinning trade as expressed in the price of cotton it is difficult to say. The best opinions on the three great cotton exchanges of the world are agreed that a crop of 10,000,000 bales or less spells 15 cents forever for cotton. Up to date there is no visible evidence that the advance to 11 cents or over has checked the demand for cotton spinners' takings for the forty-six weeks of the season ending July 22 are 11,518,000 bales and for the last week of the forty-six they are 182,000. At this rate the total takings for the present season will be in excess of 12,500,000 and possibly may reach 12,700,000. Nothing but an extraordinary demand for the manufactured product of cotton can explain this absorption of the raw material. Reports from the goods markets of the world show no diminution of the demand. Under the circumstances those who are likely to need cotton for any reason during the next twelve months and fails now to secure it are in my opinion neglecting their opportunity.

ONE LIFE LOST IN FLAMES.

Stereotyper Burns to Death in Arkansas Democrat Fire.

Little Rock, Ark., July 24.—Today's estimates of the loss by fire last night in the destruction of the Arkansas Democrat Company's three-story building and newspaper and printing plant shows an aggregate loss of $180,000, with insurance of $100,000.

Dan D. Taylor, a stereotyper, who slept in the third story of the building, was burned to death, his charred remains being found in the ruins today. The fire had gained great headway before it was discovered. It started in the basement, but there is no definite information as to how it originated.

A CORNER IN HEAT
When putting in a heating plant for your residence, don't you want the most heat, the least coal, for the least money, and the least bother?
Our Seamless Warm Air Furnace saves in fuel the difference in cost inside three years over the other style of furnaces, but at the end of three years begins to pay a dividend.
Besides, ours is made of the highest grade Locomotive Steel and has no fire pots to burn out, costing $25 to $30 to replace. Our Furnace is guaranteed dust, soot and gas proof. See what Mr. C. R. Winship, 102 Edgewood avenue, says of our Furnace:
"The results obtained from the Seamless Warm Air Furnace which you installed in my house last fall has been perfectly satisfactory in every respect. I had no difficulty in keeping the temperature 70 degrees during the coldest weather, consuming during the entire winter about 10 tons of mine coal, price $3.25 per ton, delivered. We were not troubled with disagreeable gases, smoke and dust coming through the registers, as is usually the case when other makes of furnace are used. I consider it the best on the market."
Mr. Joel Chandler Harris, for whom we put in our Seamless Warm Air Furnace, says we saved him $100 on fuel the first year.
We have customers running our Furnace on less than $18 a year. If you want the best and most economical Furnace made, permit us to estimate on our Seamless.
